

Council, Exec Comm. To Gather

The annual spring meetings of the NCAA Council and Executive Committee will be held in late April in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the site which has been the location of these sessions for three consecutive years.

The 18-man policy-making Council will meet April 25-27. Those gatherings will be preceded by the Executive Committee sessions April 23 and 24. All will be at the Galt Hotel.

Financial Aid Committee

Topping the Council agenda are the reports of a number of committees, with that of the Financial Aid Committee certain to receive the most thorough analysis. That body, with the Council, is targeted to present to the January, 1972, NCAA Convention, legislative proposals which would limit the number and substance of the grants-in-aid awarded by NCAA members.

Among the other bodies with proposals or suggestions for the Council are the Academic Testing, Drug Education, College, Long-Range Planning and Professional Relations committees.

The Extra Events Committee will recommend which post-season events should be certified for the 1971-72 academic year.

A traditional action by the Council will be appointment of the Nominating Committee and the Committee on Committees for the 1972 Convention, which will be held January 6-8, in North Hollywood, Fla.

The Executive Committee will begin final planning for that event and will adopt dates and sites for 1971-72 National Collegiate and National College Division Championship events.

Basketball Attendance Marks Fall

More basketball fans than ever attended the NCAA's two basketball championships this season—the College Division and University Division tournaments.

A total of 61,183 fans witnessed first round games in the University Division Tournament at Utah State, Houston, St. John's, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame and West Virginia. Another 96,071 watched games at four regional sites—Utah, Wichita State, Georgia, and North Carolina State.

That left the pre-Finals attendance figure at 157,254, with only 20,216 people needed for the entire Finals Tournament to set a new total attendance mark.

In the Astrodome's spacious quarters, that record wasn't hard to achieve, as 63,193 fans watched two nights of basketball action. That pushed the Tournament attendance total to 219,447, far ahead of the old mark of 177,470, set in 1962.

The Tournament's one-game attendance mark also fell, as 31,765 fans witnessed Saturday afternoon's Championship game action. The old mark was 19,153, set in 1963 in Louisville's Freedom Hall.

The College Division Tournament drew 100,622 fans for its regionals and Finals Tournaments, the first time that the tourney has drawn over 100,000 fans. The old mark of 98,195 was set in 1968 in 23 sessions. Comparatively, this year's record was set in only 20 sessions.

NCAA, NAIA Officials To Discuss Intercollegiate Athletics May 5

Three NCAA representatives who currently are serving the Association in several of its highest capacities will meet with three members of a National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Committee May 5 in Washington, D. C., to discuss common problems in the national administration of intercollegiate athletic programs.

Richard P. Koenig of Valparaiso University, who has served on the NCAA Council since 1969, was appointed by President Earl M. Ramer to serve as chairman of the NCAA delegation, which also will include NCAA Secretary-Treasurer Samuel E. Barnes of Howard University and Marcus L. Plant of the University of Michigan. Plant, who is on leave to Washington and Lee University, is an NCAA past president and currently is a member of the Association's Executive Committee.

Fort Lauderdale

"We (the NCAA delegates) plan to meet to decide what we'll talk about when the Council and Executive Committee meet at Fort Lauderdale (April 23-27)," Koenig said.

"Mark will be there with the Executive Committee, Sam will be there as an officer, while I'm a member of the Council.

"We hope that we will be able to get suggestions from the rest of the membership on what areas we should cover in the meeting with the NAIA," Koenig continued. "We would like institutions to contact us immediately with suggestions for topics for discussion."

The NAIA Board of Directors originally suggested the meeting. The three members on its Committee include chairman Dr. Arnold Kilpatrick, fourth vice-president of the NAIA and President of Northwestern State College in Louisiana; Eddie Robinson, NAIA second vice-president and director of athletics at Grambling College; and Ted Runner, NAIA first vice-president and director of athletics at Redlands.

Among the topics that the NAIA wishes to present are:

tion of consistent rules in the area of professional-amateur standing; creation of a national letter of intent; and discussion of problems in the recruiting of athletes.

"We are very happy to schedule the meeting," Koenig said. "We are always interested in furthering the national programs of intercollegiate athletics."

All three NCAA committee men have had extensive experience in the Association's affairs.

Koenig, besides serving on the Council since 1969, has been director of athletics at Valparaiso since 1957, and a member of the Association's College Committee, College Division Basketball Committee and Committee on Committees.

Law Professor

Plant, a professor of law at Michigan and that institution's faculty representative to the Association, served as NCAA President from 1967 to 1969, a post which involved him in many varied NCAA activities.

Barnes took over in January as NCAA secretary-treasurer. He had previously served on the NCAA Council since 1965, and has been at Howard University since 1947, serving as that institution's director of athletics from 1956-69.

Chicago: 1973 NCAA Convention

With the 1973 NCAA Convention set for the Palmer House in Chicago January 11-13, work has already begun to locate three of the other NCAA-affiliated organizations which also meet at the convention.

"The American Football Coaches Association will meet at the Conrad Hilton Hotel January 9-10-11, while we're working on locating the Baseball and Track Coaches and Business Managers Associations," NCAA Director of Events Gene Duffy said.

The '73 NCAA session will be the third held in Chicago. The Convention proper was housed at the Hilton in 1962 and 1965.

1972 Convention

A year before the Chicago meeting, the Association's delegates will gather at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood, Fla., north of Miami, for the 66th Convention, January 6-8, 1972.

Like the Chicago convention, the 1972 Convention will be held under a different format—Thursday through Saturday instead of the usual Monday through Wednesday program.

"The '72 Convention was originally scheduled for the traditional days, but the selected hotel for the event was turned into a condominium, thus making it necessary for the NCAA to look for new headquarters," Duffy said.

"We wanted to keep the Convention in the same city, so we decided to move into the Diplomat. We couldn't hold it January 10-12, on Monday through Wednesday, because the football coaches already were scheduled to meet there.

"Therefore, the best solution seemed to be to move the Association's dates forward."

Other Miami Convention dates include:

• U.S. Track Coaches Association, January 4-5, Marco Polo Hotel.

• American Association of College Baseball Coaches, January 4-6, Marco Polo.

• College Athletic Business Managers Association, January 10-12, Marco Polo.

• American Football Coaches Association, January 11-13, Diplomat.

Fifteen Basketball Standouts Awarded $1,000 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships for Academic Excellence

Fifteen top senior basketball players who epitomize the term "student-athlete" have just won $1,000 Postgraduate Scholarships from the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The total number of Postgraduate Scholarships awarded by the Association since the program's inception in 1964 is thus brought to 432 for a total allocation of $432,000.

The group includes Jan Essenberg, Virginia Military Institute; George Faerber, Purdue; Rick Howat, Illinois; Mike Newlin, Utah; Bill Drozdak, Oregon; Howard Greenblatt, Trinity (Conn.); Bruce Wheeler, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Paul Shechtman, Swarthmore; Dave Finholt, St. Olaf; Chuck Williams, Southwest Missouri State; Mark Estes, Case Western Reserve; Pat Lillis, Loras; Vaughn Wedeking, Jacksonville; Dennis Bresnahan, Creighton; and Terry Schofield, UCLA.

"Too often student-athletes get recognition only because of their athletic prowess," said Laurence C. Woodruff, chairman of the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Committee, which selects award winners.

"The program originally was created to recognize student-athletes academically," he continued.

Each of the 15 cage stars just awarded the scholarships has achieved an exceptional collegiate academic and athletic record. Each has earned at least a 3.0 or "B" accumulative grade point average for three years of college work and has performed with distinction on the basketball court.

The grade point average of the 15 is 3.46. The highest g.p.a. is that of Utah's Newlin (3.725).

Four English Majors

Four of the winners majored in English and two each in business, economics and biology. Other majors include history, chemistry, physical education, engineering, political science, religion and psychology.

Each recipient must have signified his intention to begin graduate studies as soon as possible and must have been judged capable of doing postgraduate work by his major professor.

To date, 319 of the now 432 awardees have enrolled in postgraduate programs. Football players who won scholarships in the fall will enroll later this year. Others who have not begun their postgraduate careers have been delayed by military obligations.

Tickets, Television, Constitution

Hopefully these comments will serve as a warning, a sounding board and an informative summary.

They are prompted by the confluence of several related issues of direct importance to the administrators of college athletics. This interlocking was spotlighted by the recent heavyweight championship fight, and the manner in which it was arbitrarily confined to closed circuit (high-priced) theater television.

Suddenly the issue of the "peoples' right to see sports on TV"—which has been raised against the black-out policy of professional football—was amended to become the "peoples' right to see sports on TV for free."

Debate on the issue was heated by growing pressures from the television and communications industries concerning the increasing role of cable television. Prophets of doom (and spokesmen for over-the-air commercial television) gloomily predicted an early end for presentation of top sports events on free television.

Cable TV (or CATV) has the commercial TV industry scared, the networks concerned, the advertisers worried, the government studying and subscribers interested. Whether CATV will have more to offer sportswise than a clearer-than-usual picture may well be determined soon.

Politicians Rush Bills

Some politicians sensed a chance to become champions of the "free" sports cause and rushed forward with bills which would prohibit sponsors of major sports events from showing them exclusively on closed-circuit and/or CATV. Sponsors would have to obtain a permit from the Federal Communications Commission before they could advertise or sell admissions to major sports events. These permits would be granted upon evidence that the TV and radio networks had had an opportunity to bid for the broadcast rights to the event. Further, broadcasters and wired media (CATV, closed circuit, pay TV) would be prohibited from "seeking, contracting for or exercising exclusive rights" to sports events.

At the same time, interestingly and contradictorily, one closed circuit company is suing the NFL to force the League to permit the company to bid for TV rights to the Super Bowl, and to grant it the exclusive TV rights if it submits the high bid.

This brings us back to the earlier contentions that the public has a "right" to see an event, and a "right" to insist the event be presented on free television when sold out or played in a distant town.

Rights of Management and Buyer

As dependent as sports (college, high school, professional) are upon the entertainment dollar of the public, the essential rights belong to and their sale must be determined by the sponsoring agency. The only persons with a right to see a sports event are those who purchase a ticket. Management will be held in check by the financial pressures of the public—bad policies or lack of consideration for the local fans will result in economic disaster.

Fortunately, the courts have so held, to date.

But the government should not enact laws which force utilization of a specific means of communication. This borders on thought control, and definitely reflects management of the news processes. Latitude, freedom and competition between media should be encouraged.

Hopefully, the Congress will continue to let management and sponsors determine whether particular events are best suited for closed circuit or over-the-air television. For many organizations, a higher price from closed circuit would not begin to pay for the greater exposure of over-the-air. Conversely, CATV may offer television avenues to sports events now unable to attract the sponsors' dollars necessary for commercial television presentation. However, this is much the same Congress which recently passed the patently un-Constitutional (to this writer's view) ban on advertising cigarettes in one medium.

Accordingly, all those in college sports should study these points and issues and be ready to speak and act should any of the bills advance in Congress.

Otherwise, some Washington bureau may be determining the manner in which the school-college community may present its events to the nation.

Drug Committee Presents Diversified Program

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of three articles on the NCAA Drug Education program. It deals with the misuse of drugs by athletes.)

The NCAA Drug Education Committee first met October 21-22, 1970, but in the short period since that time it has provided the impetus for one of the NCAA's most comprehensive programs.

The Committee, of which Robert W. Pritchard, Director of Athletics at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (Mass.) is chairman, is composed of Dr. Donald Cooper, team physician at Oklahoma State; Thomas J. Hamilton, Pacific-8 Conference executive Director; and James H. Wilkinson, NCAA. It was formed by the NCAA Council last August.

"The Committee was formed," said Wilkinson, "because of the rising public concern over drug abuse by young people and athletes."

Successful Panel

One of the most successful functions of the Committee has been presentation of an educational panel discussion to football, track, baseball and basketball coaches at their annual conventions, as well as to NCAA Convention delegates.

Cooper, who has spent years studying the drug abuse problem while a trainer, in private practice, an Olympic team physician and an Oklahoma State team physician, has spoken to each of the Coaches' Associations, along with Dr. Hardin Jones of the University of California, and Frederick M. Garfield, Assistant Director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs in Washington, D.C.

Cooper says that the drugs most abused by athletes are the amphetamines and the anabolic androgenic steroids.

The amphetamines and related "speed" and "uppers" are taken by athletes, "and they think they are the greatest," Cooper said.

"But in effect, the athlete's performance probably is worse, even though he doesn't think so. It has a reverse effect."

The steroids are used to gain weight at an extremely fast rate.

"What I've tried to get across to the coaches and delegates (Cooper has spoken to over 2,000 now) is that we really don't know too much about these drugs.

"Not only don't we know the immediate effects, but we also don't know what is going to happen to athletes who take them, five or ten years from now.

"There just is not enough knowledge on these drugs to know the facts. We don't even know if aspirin works for sure. And if we don't know how aspirin works, how are we supposed to know about the steroids and amphetamines? People give the medical and science fields a lot more credit than they deserve."

A basic concept Cooper presents to coaches as part of the Drug Education Committee's program is that there is no SAFE way anything can improve a normal, healthy, well-fed, well-hydrated human being.

Dangerous Drugs

"The amphetamines and steroids have proven to be dangerous. The amphetamines killed a French soccer player in 1968 and a British cyclist in 1967. And studies have shown that the steroids may cause testicular atrophy and hypertrophy."

The program presented by Cooper, Jones and Garfield has been widely received.

"I had one person come up to me after we presented our program," Pritchard said, "and tell me he had been to this convention for 20 years and ours was the best session he ever attended."

"The front of the room is always crowded with people after the panelists are through speaking, and there always is significant response from the coaches."

The Committee presented the program to the football, baseball, and track coaches and NCAA delegates at the NCAA Convention in January.

The program was so popular, that it was given to the basketball coaches at their convention when they met at the time of the National Collegiate Basketball Championship.

"I think that these coaches are going back to talk with their students," said Wilkinson. "They're aroused now and are aware that there is a drastic problem."

The Committee has undertaken several other projects.

Over 27,000 posters have been distributed to every college campus in the country, as well as to junior college and state high school athletic associations. They in turn have passed them down to their respective institutions.

Display advertising with anti-drug messages has appeared in football and basketball programs.

Anti-drug messages have been presented on NCAA football and basketball broadcasts and telecasts.

Anti-Drug Resolution

The Committee headed a drive for the unanimous passage of a resolution at the NCAA Convention, which condemns the use of non-therapeutic drugs by any member institution.

"In the future," Pritchard commented, "we hope to get the athletes and coaches involved on television. We also need physicians and trainers to speak out against this drug abuse."

"Another thing we can do is to provide more coaches with handouts and include more articles in high school publications."

UCLA, Evansville Winners Of NCAA Hoop Tournaments

The UCLA dynasty, which has undergone three complete changes of personnel in winning the National Collegiate Basketball Championship seven of the last eight years, won its fifth straight in Houston's Astrodome March 27.

And UCLA has given notice it may not want to end the victory string—now at 28 straight NCAA tourney wins.

The Bruins extended their current string and won their fifth straight by slowing down on offense and edging Villanova 68-62, after defeating Kansas 68-60 in the Thursday semi-final.

Western Kentucky took third place with a 92-89 win over Kansas. Jim McDaniels, Hilltopper seven-foot center, scored 36 points, while Jerry Dunn hit a one-and-one from the foul line with 12 seconds left to ice the contest.

Dunn had missed a free throw against Villanova in a Thursday semi-final with four seconds left that would have given the Hilltoppers a win over the Wildcats in regulation time. Villanova went on to win 92-89 in double overtime and earned the right to meet UCLA for the championship.

Left Alone

"Everyone left me alone this time," Dunn said. "I would have made it Thursday night but all my teammates kept giving me advice."

In the title game, the Bruins went into a second-half stall after leading 45-37 at the half.

The strategy almost backfired. UCLA still led by 12 with 11:35 to go, but then Villanova steadily whittled at the lead. With 2:38 to go it was within three, 61-58.

UCLA scored, but Howard Porter, the tourney's Most Outstanding Player, hit a jumper to make it 63-60. Then Bruin guard Henry Bibby hit three free throws and center Steve Patterson shot a lay-in on which Porter was called for goal tending and it was all over.

It was Patterson who led the way for the Bruins this night, scoring a game and career high of 29 points.

Meanwhile, the Bruins' awesome forwards, Sidney Wicks and Curtis Rowe, were held to seven and eight points respectively, although they took only 10 shots between them as they were content to feed Patterson.

Next year the names for the Bruins won't be as famous as Wicks, Alcindor, Hazzard, Goodrich, Patterson, Rowe. Only one player who has a chance to start next season has reached national acclaim—guard Henry Bibby.

However, UCLA's freshman team went 20-0 last season, and should provide plenty of talent. The dynasty may not have ended.

But despite the talent up from the frosh team, it will be young, and the Bruins may have trouble getting out of the conference. Southern Cal returns guard Paul Westphal, center Ron Riley and forward Joe Mackey—all starters this season, and will probably rate as the favorite role in the conference race.

Evansville Wins CD

Evansville won its fifth College Division championship with a convincing 97-82 win over Old Dominion in the finals March 19 at Evansville's Roberts Municipal Stadium before a record crowd of 13,124.

Both finalists could have been classed in the Cinderella mold. Each entered the title game with a 21-8 record and each upset favored opponents in the semifinals.

The Aces pulled the surprise of the tournament in beating Southwestern Louisiana, 93-74, in semifinal action. The Cajuns'

Villanova Track Winner

By Gordon T. Morris
Detroit News

The National Collegiate Indoor Track Championships, sponsored annually by The Detroit News and held in Detroit's modern Cobo Arena, is "the best indoor track meet in the country," according to Villanova coach Jim (Jumbo) Elliot.

His team, thanks to distance star Marty Liquori's double win in the mile and two-mile events, captured the 1971 team title with 22 points. Runnerup Texas El Paso had 19 1/4 points, Wisconsin was third with 15.

Top Attraction

"I'm not fooling," Elliot continued. "This is the best meet we go to all year. The competitive facilities are great, the meet runs like clockwork, and the kids are royally treated."

"And the crowd . . . well, who ever heard of a track meet selling out two days back-to-back?"

More than 19,000 attended the 1971 meet, hosted by the University of Michigan. The meet has been a two-day sellout for each of the last five years.

New Mark

Wisconsin junior Pat Matzdorf set an NCAA high jump record of 7' 2" in winning his title, and Duke freshman Bob Wheeler wiped out the NCAA 1000-yard mark with a sparkling 2:07.4.

Friday morning, Kent State's Al Schoterman bettered the NCAA indoor mark in the 35-pound weight throw with a heave of 68' 10 1/4". The event was held at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Field House.

But the crowd favorite had to be Liquori.

Friday, he captured his first NCAA indoor title with an 8:37.0 clocking in the two-mile run, and Saturday got revenge on William and Mary's Howell Michael—his conqueror last year—by capturing the mile in 4:04.7.

Liquori's 12 points were the key factor in Villanova's team victory.

Wrestling: Okla. St.

For the second straight season, the 142-pound match was the event to watch at the National Collegiate Wrestling Championships, held this year March 25-27 at Auburn University.

Both times Washington's Larry Owings was involved in the match and both times the event produced the meet's Most Outstanding wrestler.

Last year Owings defeated the legendary Dan Gable of Iowa State—undefeated until that time in collegiate and high school competition—to win the Award.

But this season Darrell Keller of Oklahoma State, who moved up after winning the 134-pound NCAA title in 1970, upset Owings 16-12 to win the Most Outstanding Wrestler award this year.

Keller's efforts, plus place finishes by six other Cowboys, gave Tommy Chesboro's Oklahoma State team the Championship. The Cowboys scored 94 points to second-place Iowa State's 66 to win their 27th team championship since the meet first was held in 1928.

While Darrell Keller was winning, his brother Dwayne was being upset by Roger Weigel of Oregon State in the 134-pound division. The lighter Keller had won 106 matches in a row.

Two other Oklahoma Staters took first places, Yoshiro Fujita easily winning the 126-pound classification, 13-2, and Geoff Baum winning at 177. Meanwhile, Jay Arneson was second at 150 pounds, Jim Shields third in the heavyweight division, and Ray Stapp fourth at 118.

Iowa St. Gym Champ

Iowa State swept to the team title that eluded it the previous year and then two Cyclones won or shared three individual titles in the final day of action at the 1971 National Collegiate Gymnastics Championships April 1-3 at the University of Michigan's Crisler Arena.

Iowa State, nosed out the year before by Michigan, eased by Southern Illinois and Penn State to win its first national Gymnastics title. In the individual competition, Brent Simmons from Iowa State won the horizontal bar competition and tied Penn State's Tom Dunn for the parallel bars title. Russ Hoffman brought another individual championship to the Cyclone camp with a win on the side horse.

Yoshi Hayasaki of Washington successfully defended his all-around crown with a gutty performance despite injured shoulders.

Charles Ropiequet of Southern Illinois was another repeat individual winner, taking the rings with a fantastic final score of 9.6.

A Tie for Fencing Title

The NCAA Fencing Championship was won by the East for the 13th year in a row in 1971, but the Midwest made a run for the title this year at the U.S. Air Force Academy-hosted Championships March 18-20.

The East has won 25 out of the 29 championships, and again New York University was in first place, its ninth NCAA championship and fourth in the last six years.

However, this year the Violets had to share the title with Columbia, as each scored 68 points.

The Violets showed strongest in the epee and saber, where they had an individual champion and a runnerup. George Scuntyogh won the epee competition with a 20-3 record, while Steve Kaplan was second in the saber with a 19-4 mark.

The third member of the team, foil man Ed Ballinger, was 10th with a 14-9 mark.

Columbia's champion won in the Saber event, as Bruce Soriano had a perfect 23-0 mark to win his second title in succession.

Mark Haselkorn was fifth for the Lions in the epee event with a 14-9 record, while Bob Berger was third in the foil at 16-7.

Tyrone Simmons of Detroit broke the NYU-Columbia stronghold on individual championships by winning the foil event with a 20-3 mark.

Swimming: Indiana

With pool records broken in all 16 events, NCAA meet records in 14 events and American records in 10 events, the 1971 National Collegiate Swimming Championships were a statistician's dream.

Indiana won the team title for the fourth straight year, but the Hoosiers had been conceded the title long before the meet was staged. What everybody was interested in was how many records would be set March 25-27 in the waters of Iowa State's Beyer Hall pool, recognized as a "fast track."

Gary Hall, a Hoosier standout, set three American records in the 200-yard individual medley, the 400-yard individual medley, and in the 200-yard backstroke. Hall also set meet records in those events.

Teammate John Kinsella, only a freshman, won the 1650 freestyle in 15:26.510, shaving almost 10 seconds off his American record. Kinsella also won the 500-freestyle in NCAA Meet record time.

In other American-record performances, Brian Job of Stanford lowered his standard in the 200-yard breaststroke and he teamed with Fred Haywood, John Ferris and Martin Pedley to set an American record in the 400-yard medley relay.

Tom Bruce of UCLA is the new American record holder in the 100-yard breast stroke, while Southern California now has American records in the 400-yard freestyle relay and the 800-yard freestyle. The latter team trimmed a remarkable eight seconds off the old record.

Boston Wins in Hockey

Boston University, playing near-perfect hockey, kept the National Collegiate Ice Hockey Championship in the East in 1971 with two 4-2 victories March 18-20 at Syracuse's War Memorial Arena.

Staunch net-minding by BU's Dan Brady, who was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player, and two goals by center Steve Stirling brought the Terriers their first NCAA Championship over a tough Minnesota team.

Denver defeated Harvard, 1-0, for third place.

Boston University relied on its strength to get on the scoreboard first in the title game, as Steve Stirling netted a power play goal. Boston was devastating all year long when it had the advantage. Bob Gryp gave Boston a two-goal lead with a red-lighter later in the first period.

Boston, a team described as "having no weaknesses," held the troublesome Gophers scoreless through the first two periods. Meanwhile, Stirling turned on the red light with an unassisted goal in the second period to swell the BU lead to 3-0.

Evansville Wins CD Tournament

starting lineup averaged 6-5 in height while Evansville's tallest starter reached only 6-5. Speed, quickness and defense then were the decisive factors.

Don Buse, Evansville guard voted the outstanding player, put the defensive clamps on Southwestern's Dwight Lamar, a 6-1 backliner who led the NCAA College Division in scoring with a 36 points-per-game average. Against the eventual champs, however, Lamar scored "only" 21 points, connected on but 9 of 33 field goal attempts, missed his last 10 shots and scored only a single free throw in the last 15 minutes of the game.

Meanwhile, the Evansville front line of John Wellemeyer, Bob Clayton and Rick Coffey scored 23, 21 and 20 points, respectively, against the Ragin' Cajuns.

Old Dominion earned its berth in the finals by besting three-time champion Kentucky Wesleyan, 97-83. All five Monarch starters hit in double figures with Randy Coulling leading the way with 24 points. Wesleyan forwards John Duncan and Jim Smith scored 23 and 22 points, respectively, but 36 per cent shooting compared to the 50 per cent for the winners tipped the scales to the team from Virginia.

Lamar easily led the tournament in scoring with 166 points, a total previously exceeded only by Jack Sullivan of Mount St. Mary's (185) and Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem State (176).

It was a record-breaking tournament from start to finish. Southwestern Louisiana raised the points per game standard to 97.6 for five games, including a record average of 40 field goals per game. The Cajuns combined with LSU New Orleans to shatter the two-team scoring record. SW Louisiana won the first round scoring duel, 113-107.

A full house—9,500 plus fans—viewed the NCAA Indoor Track Championship at Detroit's Cobo Hall Arena March 12-13. Marty Liquori won the mile and two-mile titles to lead Villanova to the team title.

College Division

Wrestling, Gym, Swim Titlists Crowned

UC Irvine Again

Mike Martin and UC Irvine continued to reign over College Division swimming at the eighth annual Championship conducted March 18-20 at Springfield College (Mass.).

In each of the last three seasons, UC Irvine has swum home the victor in the College Division Meet, with Martin winning the 200, 500 and 1650-yard freestyle events each time.

And also each year, he has swam a leg on the winning UC Irvine 400 and 800-yard freestyle teams.

Added to his victory in the 500-yard freestyle in his freshman season, he has now won 10 events, an NCAA record for most swimming titles in a career.

His nearest competitor in that category, Gary Ilman of Long Beach State, won five events in 1965-66.

UC Irvine scored 242 points this year, to second place South Florida's 176. San Fernando Valley was third with 152 points, while UC Davis was next at 108 and host Springfield close behind with 106.

Gym: Fullerton

California State College Fullerton broke the block in 1971 which had controlled the NCAA College Division Gymnastics Championships for the last three years.

The Titans tallied 158.150 points to win the fourth annual Championship at Illinois Chicago Circle March 25-27.

In the past, San Fernando Valley, and more recently Northwestern Louisiana State, Springfield and Southern Connecticut have done most of the scoring.

Last season, the latter three institutions placed 1-2-3, and some thought it was possible for a repeat order of finish.

But the Titans, who are enjoying relatively new success in gymnastics, received place-winning performances from Leon Mims, Leonard Caling, Glynn Heckenlaible and Mike Kelly to capture the Championship. Caling won his event with an 8.7875 score in the side horse.

Individual star of the meet was John Crosby of Southern Connecticut, who won the all-around, free exercise and parallel bar competition. He placed second in side horse, rings and long horse, and third on the horizontal bar as well.

Cal Poly on Mat

The National College Division Wrestling Championships has been conducted nine times, and California Poly San Luis Obispo walked away with its fifth title March 12-13 at North Dakota State University at Fargo, N.D.

The win was convincing. Cal Poly piled up 118 points in the 336-man, 404-match tournament, to second place Slippery Rock's 58 points.

The Mustangs had a place winner in every one of the 10 events except at 167 pounds. And six members of their 10-man team are sophomores, giving the Mustangs a shot at their fifth straight title next year.

The Mustangs got a championship at each end of the program, Gary McBride stopping Stan Opp of San Diego State, 4-2, at 118 pounds, and Tim Kopitar deciding Herman Pettigrew of Ashland in the Heavyweight division, 9-7.

The Mustangs also got three second place finishes—from Larry Morgan at 134 pounds, Pat Farner at 177, and Gary Maioffi at 190.

Third-place Mustang finishers were Glenn Anderson at 126, Lee Torres at 142 and John Finch at 158, while Allyn Cooke was fifth at 150.

Slippery Rock was led by Stan Dziedzic at 150 pounds, who won that weight division and was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Wrestler. Dziedzic was 37-0 following the College Division tournament, and went on to win the 150-pound title at the NCAA University Division Championship at Auburn University March 25-27.

What Coaches Were Saying Following NCAA Tourney

Ted Owens
Kansas

"It was a great season for us. We have no regrets. I think we played awfully hard. I was proud of our team's effort." After loss to UCLA in semi-finals Thursday night: "We don't have any excuses, no alibis. UCLA produced and we didn't. I had no idea how we'd do against UCLA. We had the chances and didn't capitalize on them. UCLA did a good job and responded to every situation." On Henry Bibby's hot shooting night, after a relatively bad shooting year all season: "We played him like a good shooter, and you can understand why."

John Oldham
Western Kentucky

"With Western playing here, they ought to change the name of this place to the Astro-Cardiac Dome. (Wildcats lost to Villanova in double overtime 92-89, beat Kansas 77-75). Every win is enjoyable to coach. Kansas has a great ball club. They could have won as easily as we, but we won. They are a physical ball club." Hank Siemionkowski's 31 points against Western on Thursday night: "We had Clarence Glover on Howard Porter and (Jim) McDaniels was helping him, leaving Siemionkowski wide open."

Jack Kraft
Villanova

After championship game with UCLA: "... we were tardy with Patterson. We were concentrating on Rowe and Wicks inside and he'd come out front and we were late gettin' to him." The UCLA slow-down in championship game: "I think the slow down made our players scrap all the more. You'd have to say that the slow down got us back in the game because that's what happened. He (Coach John Wooden of UCLA) is perfectly within his rights using that strategy. After all, we're playing for big stakes here."

John Wooden
UCLA

Regarding slow-down: "We wanted to draw them out of their zone. But you never know how it's going to work. Sometimes it backfires when you slow down the tempo and lose momentum." Defense: "This year I'm content to play defense against anybody. ... That's why I left four starters (Steve Patterson, Sidney Wicks, Curtis Rowe and Henry Bibby) from last year in the entire game today. This is not one of our better running or offensive teams. Wicks needs no excuses, but he had a sore toe. He really played on courage and I have nothing but respect for him."

INTERPRETATIONS

4-1-4 Academic Calendar

Situation: An institution operates on a 4-1-4 academic calendar. A student-athlete is eligible during and at the end of the first four-month term, but does not enroll in the one-month interim term. He will continue with the second four-month term. (10-A).

Question: Is he eligible to participate in intercollegiate competition during the period between the two four-month terms?

Answer: Yes. It is not necessary for the student-athlete to be enrolled in the interim one-month term in order to retain eligibility or participate in competition during that period. [C3-3]

Situation: An institution operates on a 4-1-4 academic calendar. A student-athlete is not eligible during the first four-month term, but gains eligibility at the close of the term. He does not enroll in the interim one-month term. (10-B).

Question: Will the student-athlete be eligible to participate during the one-month period prior to the second four-month term?

Answer: No. The student-athlete is not eligible until the first day of classes during the second regular four-month term. [C3-3]

Situation: An institution operates on a 4-1-4 academic calendar. A student-athlete is not eligible during the first four-month term, but gains eligibility at the close of that term. He enrolls in the interim one-month term. (10-C).

Question: Will the student-athlete be eligible to participate during the one-month period prior to the second four-month term?

Answer: Yes, provided he is enrolled in the one-month term in a minimum full-time program of studies equivalent on a prorata basis to the program of minimum full-time study during a regular term. [C3-3]

Eligibility—1.600 Rule

Situation: A student-athlete (O.I. 100) is not eligible under the 1.600 rule for financial aid in which his athletic ability is a consideration.

Question: What type of financial aid is such a student-athlete prohibited from receiving?

Answer: All institutional funds such as scholarships, grants, loans, work-study program assistance and on-campus employment earnings, as well as off-campus employment earnings and other sources of aid for which athletic interests of the institution intercede in behalf of the student-athlete. Included as institutional funds is aid from government or private sources for which the institution selects the recipient or which the institution provides matching or supplementary funds for a previously-determined recipient. [B4-6-(b)-(1)-(2)-(3)]

Situation: A student-athlete competes (or practices) in intercollegiate competition and/or receives institutional financial assistance based in some degree upon his athletic ability while ineligible under the provisions of Bylaw 4-6-(b) [1.600 rule].—(19)

Question: How is the student-athlete's future eligibility affected?

Answer: If he practices for or participates in intercollegiate athletics while ineligible, the member institution is obligated to charge him with a penalty of one varsity season of eligibility for each season of ineligible practice or participation. Further, if he receives financial aid based in some degree upon his athletic ability while ineligible, the institution is required to declare the young man ineligible for intercollegiate competition. In either circumstance, the institution has the right to appeal for a reduction in the period of ineligibility if it feels the facts warrant a reduction. [B4-6-(b)]

Coaches Express Concern Over Early Signings

A statement demanding that the American Basketball Association refrain from drafting college players who still have eligibility remaining was drafted by the National Association of Basketball Coaches at its annual convention in Houston in March.

The statement reads:

"The National Association of Basketball Coaches of the United States expresses shock and deep concern about the recent signing of sophomore John Neumann of the University of Mississippi by the American Basketball Association. This has continued an explosive situation which could destroy the good will and fine working relationships that have taken years to establish.

It would be very unfortunate if the action of the American Basketball Association in first the Spencer Haywood case, then the Ralph Simpson signing and now Neumann, destroys fruitful training opportunities for future professional athletes.

The claim has been made that these cases involve the hardship rule, which rule is difficult to interpret and apply. However, almost any college player having some eligibility remaining could in some manner be classified as a hardship case.

The National Association of Basketball Coaches calls upon the American Basketball Association to hereafter refrain from signing any college player who has eligibility time remaining."

ADOLPH RUPP, President
National Association of Basketball Coaches

NCAA FILMS

An extensive library of 16mm films of NCAA Championship events is available for use by member institutions, high schools, civic clubs and other groups.

Commencing with the 1968 Championships series, all films are in color and, with 1969, sound is available as well. For the first time, the 1970 championship events may be viewed in 30-minute sound/color high-light films as well as full-length silent/color.

Adolph W. Samborski
former Harvard AD

Samborski New Yankee Loop Commissioner

Adolph W. Samborski, former director of athletics at Harvard University, will assume the Commissionership of the Yankee Conference July 1.

He succeeds J. O. Christian, selected as the Conference's first commissioner in 1966, who is retiring.

Samborski spent 50 years at Harvard, from his first day as a student in 1921, to his retirement as director of athletics in February of this year.

He became Harvard's director of intramurals in 1927, a position he held until he was appointed assistant director of athletics in 1961. Two years later he was named AD.

Samborski also has been active in NCAA affairs, having served on the Council from 1966 to the present.

Voting, Lema Award Explained

Explanations for the NCAA membership of the selective voting procedures used at the annual Convention and the ban on the Tony Lema Award have been issued by the Association's policy-making Council.

After several years of study and discussion, the Council concluded that "divided" voting along University Division-College Division lines at NCAA Conventions not only would be divisive to the Association, but also would fail to answer requests for restricted voting on issues such as those pertaining to only one sport.

Accordingly, just prior to the 1971 Convention, the Council adopted a procedure whereby the President may indicate to the delegates that the next issue to come before them may be of interest only to a portion of the membership, and might then ask those not involved to refrain from voting on that issue on a voluntary basis.

All delegates would be encouraged to participate fully in debate, however, on every matter before the Convention.

This system was used in 1971 in regard to an amendment to permit College Division institutions to play freshmen in NCAA events in all sports, and an amendment to permit freshmen to compete in all University Division events.

Special Committee on Recruiting Reorganized

The NCAA Special Committee on Recruiting has been reorganized, while two other appointments to Committees also have been made by the NCAA Officers acting for the Council.

The Recruiting Committee, created in 1968 by the Council to review recruiting practices, was restructured to add an additional member, as well as to appoint replacements for out-going Committee members.

Robert C. James, Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner, will chair the Committee, while hold-over members from the 1968 group include Howard C. Gentry, director of athletics at Tennessee State University, and James D. Owens, head football coach at the University of Washington.

Newly-appointed members include Harry Arlanson, director of athletics at Tufts University; Robert L. Blackman, head football coach at Illinois; Alan J. Chapman, Rice faculty athletic representative; and Ted Owens, University of Kansas head basketball coach.

The Council has referred a number of items to the Committee for consideration, including proposals:

- to limit the number of expense-paid visits a prospect may receive, and also to limit the visits an institution may make to a prospect's home town;
- to further restrict the use of private aircraft, and to place restrictions on the leasing of aircraft by individuals or institutions for the transportation of prospective student-athletes;
- to review the current permissible practices for entertainment of prospective student-athletes.

In other Committee appointment action, Dr. Jim Robie of North Carolina was appointed to the Committee on Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports, replacing Dr. Ernst Jokl of Kentucky.

William Exum of Kentucky State was appointed chairman of the National Summer Youth Sports Program Committee, while Dave Hunt of New Mexico was appointed to fill a term left vacant by Richard C. Larkins of Ohio State, who retired.
