Revised Manual almost finished

By the end of November, the four official representatives at each NCAA member institution will receive copies of the revised NCAA Manual that will be considered for adoption at the 1989 Convention. And while a final review of that document proceeds, the group that has spent almost three years preparing it is looking at ways to make NCAA rules less complex.

"Our projected schedule is to mail the revised Manual in November to the chief executive officer, director of athletics, primary woman administrator and faculty athletics representative at each institution," said Wilford S. Bailey, NCAA president and chair of the Special Committee on Deregulation and Rules Simplification.

"The revised Manual in its entirety was submitted to the (NCAA) legislative services department February 1," Bailey noted. "All sections of the revision had been reviewed one or more times by department staff members prior to that, but we felt it important to present the entire document for review."

"All suggestions and changes were incorporated, and the manuscript was submitted May 13 to Steve Morgan (assistant executive director for compliance and enforcement) and Ted Tow (assistant executive director for publishing) for a final substantive and editorial review."

"Nancy Mitchell (a director of legislative services and staff liaison to the special committee) is working with them on a continuous basis to answer questions and provide additional information on behalf of the committee."

Bailey said the final review is expected to be complete in August, at which point the committee could meet to take action on any significant changes or corrections that are proposed. For now, however, the group is concentrating on deregulation.

"As we have proceeded (in revising the Manual), we have carried to the Council and to the membership some minor items of deregulation, and those have been accomplished," Bailey said.

"Now (the committee met May 23-24) and in our next meeting (June 8-9), we will look more seriously at a number of places where deregulation may be warranted. We are approaching this portion of our charge with an eye toward elimination of legislation or a reduction in complexity of existing legislation."

Bailey said the group projects offering a preliminary deregulation package for consideration by the Council at that group's August meeting, with a final deregulation package to be presented for Council consideration in October.

Like the revised Manual, any deregulation package would be presented for membership action at the 1989 Convention.

"Nearly three years have passed since the special committee began its work," Bailey noted. "The project has been much more time-consuming and demanding than I believe any of us initially envisioned."

Hill named to Council

Sarah E. Hill, associate athletics director at Florida A&M University, has been appointed to a Division I at-large position on the NCAA Council, effective immediately.

The NCAA Administrative Committee appointed Hill to replace Patricia D. Cage Bibbs, Grambling State University, who resigned from the Council.

A member of the Florida A&M athletics department staff for 11 years, Hill was an instructor in the department of health, physical education, recreation and dance and coached women's track and field before being named women's athletics director. She has overseen the development of the institution's Lua S. Bartley Women's Annex, the first sports complex of its type in Florida designed solely for women's athletics.

She is responsible for administrative duties for all nonrevenue sports, as well as coordinating academics, financial aid, housing, eligibility and other NCAA legislative requirements for the entire athletics department. She also is the current president of the New South Women's Athletic Conference and serves on the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Committee.

Hill earned two degrees at Florida A&M in the mid-1970s and is a doctoral degree candidate at Florida State University.

Preregistration for June Forum nears 400

Preregistration for the National Forum session to be held June 20-21 in Orlando is approaching 400 with four weeks remaining before the event is held.

As of May 23, a total of 371 persons had indicated their intention to attend the meeting. That total represented 214 member institutions and conferences, as well as early news-media registrations.

"With four weeks remaining, it would appear that we will have little difficulty realizing the attendance of 500 to 600 that we anticipated from the beginning," said Bernard F. Sliger, president of Florida State University and chair of the NCAA Presidents Commission's Ad Hoc Committee on the National Forum. "May is a busy time on campuses, of course, and I expect a number of registrations to come in now that the spring term has ended at most institutions," he said.

Sliger also noted that approximately half of the Division I member institutions had not submitted their registration forms. "I believe that most Division I institutions intend to be represented in Orlando, so these institutions alone could push us past the 500 mark," he said.

News media representatives already are registered from The Chronicle of Higher Education, USA Today, United Press International, and newspapers in Atlanta, Dallas, Des Moines, Orlando, Tampa and several other Florida cities.

More than 70 presidents and chancellors had preregistered as of May 23, or about one of every five delegates.

The program for the Orlando Forum—the third national meeting in the Presidents Commission's 18-month National Forum on the proper role of intercollegiate athletics in higher education—features three topics: the NCAA membership structure, NCAA procedures (legislation and interpretations) and the proper basis of financial aid for student-athletes.

Congressman Tom McMillen (D-Maryland), a former all-America basketball player and Rhodes Scholar, was announced earlier as the keynote speaker for the June Forum. He will speak shortly after 8 a.m. June 20.

Other speakers, all announced earlier:

Membership structure: Richard D. Schultz, NCAA executive director; Charles M. Neinas, executive director, College Football Association, and Kenneth J. Weller, president, Central College (Iowa).

NCAA procedures: Jeffrey H. Orleans, executive director, Ivy League; Lattie F. Coor, president, University of Vermont, and NCAA President Wilford S. Bailey, Auburn University.

Financial aid: Peter Likins, president, Lehigh University; Cecil Mackey, former president, now professor of economics, Michigan State University, and a panel of members of the NCAA Committee on Financial Aid and Amateurism, chaired

'Unjust' minority-education effort threatens U.S. economy

By David E. Anderson

The nation is moving backward, not forward, in the effort to educate blacks and other minorities—a retreat that is not only unjust but also threatens the nation's economic survival, a new report said May 23.

"Our goal as a nation must be nothing less than to eliminate, as soon as possible, the gaps that mark our racial and ethnic population as disadvantaged," said the report by the bipartisan, independent Commission on Minority Participation in Education and American Life.

The 37-member commission, headed by Frank H. T. Rhodes, president of Cornell University, was established last fall by the American Council on Education and the Education Commission of the States.

"In education, employment, income, health longevity and other basic measures of individual and social well-being, gaps persist—and in some cases are widening—between members of minority groups and the majority population," said the 24-page report, "One-Third of a Nation."

The report was fueled in part by demographic trends that show that by the year 2000 one-third of all school-age children will be members of minority groups and, between 1985 and 2000, minority workers will make up one-third of the net additions to the U.S. labor force.

"Bringing these citizens into the mainstream of American life is a matter of basic social justice," Rhodes said. "It is also a matter of national survival."

The report expressed particular concern over the fact that minority participation in higher education has stalled if not lost ground.

"Between 1970 and 1975, the percentage of black high school graduates 24 years old or younger who were enrolled in or had completed one or more years of college rose from 39 percent to 48 percent," the report noted.

"However, between 1975 and 1985, while the college participation rate for white youths climbed to 55 percent, the rate for Blacks dropped to 44 percent. Recently released figures indicated that in 1986, the rate for Blacks rose to 47 percent—still slightly below 1975."

Among Hispanic youth, the rate of college attendance remained stagnant between 1975 and 1985, the report said, while among American Indians, high school-graduation and college-attendance rates "remain the lowest for any minority."

College-graduation figures are even worse, the report said, noting that while Blacks made up 10 percent of all college students in 1985, they received only six percent of the baccalaureate degrees.

"At the graduate level, the falloff for Blacks is dramatic," the report said. "Between 1976 and 1985, the number of Blacks earning master's degrees declined by 32 percent," the report said; and in certain "critical" fields of study, such as computer science, "the minority presence is nearly nonexistent."

"Our democracy cannot succeed if one-third of our people—characterized by the color of their skin and their ethnic identity—are essentially cut off from participation in our national life," Rhodes said.

"If we fail to address this problem adequately, we will face not only social injustice, but also social disharmony and disruption," Rhodes said. "Such a failure would endanger our national security, as well as our ability to compete in the international marketplace."

The commission offered what it called seven core strategies to solve the problem, including a renewed commitment by colleges and universities to "increase minority recruitment, retention and graduation."

Anderson writes for United Press International.

Showboat's plan to sponsor game is sunk

A casino has canceled plans to sponsor a college basketball game next season, succumbing to criticism that organized gambling should be kept out of college athletics.

The Showboat Hotel and Casino backed out of the Temple University game against the University of Kansas, scheduled for December 10 in Convention Hall in Atlantic City, because it wanted to "end the controversy" over the sponsorship, Showboat President Frank Modica said in a prepared statement.

Showboat officials said they hoped the casino's withdrawal will allow the Temple-Kansas matchup, to be nationally televised on NBC, to go on as scheduled in Atlantic City.

"It is important to the development of Atlantic City as a well-rounded resort that events such as the Temple-Kansas game be played at Convention Hall," Modica said.

H. Patrick Swygert, Temple's vice-president for university administration, said the Philadelphia university continues to believe its sponsorship deal with the Showboat was proper.

"I think there was an overreaction by some members of the media," Swygert said. "I don't believe it was a poor decision."

Swygert told United Press International that he believes Temple, 29-1 in the 1987-88 regular season and ranked No. 1 for several weeks at the end of the season, would have little trouble finding another sponsor before December.

Softball coach reprimanded

The NCAA Division III Women's Softball Subcommittee issued a public reprimand and sanction May 24, per NCAA Executive Regulation 1-2-(o), to an institutional representative from Eastern Connecticut State University.

The reprimand and sanction were the result of an incident during the eighth game of the 1988 NCAA Division III Women's Softball Championship May 22 at Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Illinois.

Based on reports from game officials, eyewitness accounts and an administrative hearing conducted for the involved parties, the subcommittee decided that the game between Eastern Connecticut State University and Trenton State College was marred by unsportsmanlike conduct.

The Division III Women's Softball Subcommittee issued the following public reprimand and sanction:

"The head softball coach from Eastern Connecticut State University was reprimanded for unsportsmanlike conduct toward game officials; the head softball coach from Eastern Connecticut State University was restricted to the dugout for the remaining games of the championship in which the Eastern Connecticut State University team participated. The head coach was prohibited from any on-the-field coaching activity during those games."

In issuing the reprimand and sanction, the subcommittee noted that student-athletes and institutional representatives may experience certain frustrations during competition. However, the subcommittee said it will not tolerate unsportsmanlike conduct that undermines the principles of fair play or discredits the championship and intercollegiate athletics.

Saving par

Greensboro's Doug Trenor dropped this par putt during the final round of the Division III Men's Golf Championships. He entered the final round tied for the lead but could not keep up with individual medalist Glenn Andrade (see results, page 7).

Southeast Missouri State set for Division I move

The president of Southeast Missouri State University was authorized May 23 to proceed with a plan for the school to move from Division II to Division I of the NCAA.

President Bill W. Stacy also was given permission, at a meeting of the school's board of regents, to seek affiliation with a Division I conference. The university will seek admission to the Ohio Valley Conference, athletics director Marvin Rosengarten said following the regents' meeting.

Under a timetable outlined by Stacy, the university would become a Division I school in the fall of 1991. In football, the school would play in Division I-AA. Currently, the Indians play in the Division II Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Stacy said he would not seek final board authorization to move to Division I if the university does not gain admission to a Division I conference.

"I don't want to go as an independent institution," Stacy told the Associated Press. "We will seek conference affiliation, and then I will bring (the Division I affiliation) back before the board."

Rosengarten said Stacy will write a letter to the NCAA stating that the university will begin Division I compliance June 1.

Prior to June 1, 1990, the university must present the NCAA with verification of compliance, a four-year football schedule on which at least 50 percent of the games are against Division I-AA teams and a two-year basketball schedule with 26 of 28 games per year against Division I teams.

Stacy's recommendation follows campuswide debate on the issue during most of the past academic year.

Legislative Assistance

1988 Column No. 21

NCAA Constitution 3-1-(g)-(2)—expenses for summer athletics competition

Member institutions are reminded that in accordance with the provisions of Constitution 3-1-(g)-(2)-(iii), it is not permissible for a member institution to provide expenses for a student-athlete competing in an event that occurs when the student-athlete is not regularly enrolled in a full-time program of studies during the regular academic year or not eligible to represent the institution. It should be noted, however, that institutions would be permitted to pay expenses for a student-athlete to compete in regularly scheduled intercollegiate events and established national championships occurring between terms and during the summer months, provided the student-athlete is representing his or her institution and was eligible for intercollegiate competition the preceding term. Further, as indicated in NCAA Case No. 7 (page 315, 1988-89 NCAA Manual), it is not permissible for a sponsor, other than an individual upon whom the student is naturally or legally dependent or the nonprofessional organization that is sponsoring the competition in question, to provide expenses for a student to participate in athletics competition.

In accordance with the provisions of Constitution 3-1-(h)-(3), it is permissible for a member institution to provide a student-athlete actual and necessary expenses for participation in Olympic, Pan American and World University Games qualifying competition that occurs any time during the calendar year.

NCAA Bylaw 3-6-(b)-(5)—individuals eligible for foreign tour

Member institutions are reminded of an NCAA Council-approved interpretation (reference: Item No. 5 of the minutes of the NCAA Legislation and Interpretations Committee's April 23, 1987, conference) that the provisions of Bylaw 3-6-(b)-(5) would not prohibit a student-athlete who is ineligible during the previous academic year (e.g., a partial qualifier, nonqualifier or transfer student serving a one-year residence requirement) from participating in an institutional foreign tour conducted after the completion of the initial year of residence (per O.I. 501) and during the summer prior to both the first day of classes for the next academic year and the first official practice session for the next season in that sport, subject to the understanding that such a student-athlete must be eligible to represent the institution in intercollegiate competition in that sport during the coming season and also must be charged with a season of competition in that sport for the preceding year. Further, in accordance with the provisions of Case No. 290 (page 398, 1988-89 NCAA Manual), where an institution participates in a foreign tour after its intercollegiate season is completed and prior to the start of the next academic year, a student-athlete who was eligible but did not participate during the institution's season just completed (redshirt) would be charged with a season of competition if the student-athlete represents his or her institution's team on the foreign tour.

NCAA Constitution 3-1-(g)-(5) and 3-1-(h)-(1)—passports for foreign tours

As institutions prepare for foreign-tour travel during the summer months, they are reminded that the Council has revised a previous interpretation issued by the NCAA Administrative Committee (see 1984 Column No. 31) regarding the application of Constitution 3-1-(h)-(1) to an institution's purchase of passports for its student-athletes in connection with foreign tours. The Council has determined that student-athletes may retain ownership of passports purchased for them by member institutions for team travel to foreign countries without violating the provisions of Constitution 3-1-(g)-(5) and 3-1-(h)-(1). The Council noted that the institution's purchase of these passports was incidental to a student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics.

Herd thunders down a costly road

By Kelly P. Kissel
The Associated Press

Marshall University in the 1980s turned long-dormant athletics programs into winners, but overspending and poor financial predictions have proven that the road to the top is a two-way street.

The Thundering Herd finished second in the nation in Division I-AA football last year, and its basketball team has regularly appeared in postseason play. But the new-found success has not come without a price.

NCAA statistics show that many small-college athletics departments operate at a loss, but in building its programs, Marshall's athletics department has accumulated a debt projected to be more than a half-million dollars. In the past month, new athletics director Lee Moon has dismissed seven employees—including the sports information director—and dropped a sport.

"That's not a general mark of program improvement," said Mitchell H. Raiborn, a Bradley University professor of accounting who studies athletics revenues and expenses of NCAA member schools. "Generally, you want to build a program that would be expanding and taking on new people."

Marshall President Dale F. Nitzschke said his school had the same idea but found it too easy to use "next year's money to pay this year's bills" and was too optimistic about what successful sports programs could bring in.

"The biggest problem was a projected revenue that was simply grossly out of whack with what was being generated," Nitzschke said.

From June 30, 1984, to June 30, 1987, the Marshall athletics department debt climbed from $37,510 to $191,809, according to school documents. Prior to a fund drive last spring, the shortfall was $316,176.

This spring, the division predicted a shortfall of $568,000. Moon, who was hired March 1, responded by cutting employees, expenses and the school's swimming program, with apologies to no one.

"All I know is that when I took over, there was a report on the state of Marshall athletics. The problem areas (were) identified, and they thought I could get the program in shape and not create a deficit every year," Moon said. "They didn't bring me in here to put them another $300,000 in debt."

This year's budget is nearly $250,000 short in private-donation expectations, $85,000 short on projected football ticket sales and, at one point, was predicted to be $112,000 over budget in men's basketball.

From 1965 to 1983, the football team had not had a winning season. The Herd's 1984 appearance in the NCAA basketball tournament was its first in a dozen years.

"We were just overly optimistic when that budget was built," Nitzschke said.

With 12,000 students, Marshall is considered a small NCAA Division I school, and since it plays Division I-AA football, it never is in the running for big-time bowl bids or lucrative television contracts, Raiborn said.

"Sixty-five percent of the I-AA football-playing institutions have more expenses than they do revenues," Raiborn said, adding that one school once found itself spending more money on football than anyone else in the division was making.

"It almost gets to be a business decision" on whether a strong football program is worth the debt, Raiborn said. "The revenue potential for I-AA programs is just not there."

Marshall finished the 1987 football season at 10-5—its most victories ever. But despite the winning season and four NCAA play-off games, the football program expects to be $25,000 over budget in expenses and $85,000 behind in ticket revenue.

In basketball, Marshall's problems are worse. Nitzschke said until drastic cuts were mandated this spring, basketball travel expenses would have approached $200,000—including air travel on 10 of 13 road trips, including separate excursions to Hawaii, the West Coast and seven Southern Conference road trips.

Atlantic Coast Conference member Georgia Tech, which has a $12 million total budget compared to Marshall's $1.8 million budget, spent only $150,000 on travel last season, said Yellow Jacket assistant athletics director Jim Murphy.

Marshall's basketball budget has been cut to $69,000, but Nitzschke said the school still faces the question of whether Marshall should continue a strong financial push for athletics excellence.

"What's the payoff? If you look at it from the economic factors, they (Division I-AA football programs) would all close down. Well, not all, but those 65 percent (operating at a deficit)," Nitzschke said.

"Should we be pumping this kind of money in football and basketball and these other sports? Our answer here has been yes... but I'm not sure it's sound judgment."

Committee Notices

Member institutions are invited to submit nominations to fill interim vacancies on NCAA committees. Nominations to fill the following vacancy must be received by Fannie B. Vaughan, executive assistant, in the NCAA office no later than June 20.

Men's Ice Hockey Committee: Replacement for Herbert B. Hammond, Brown University, resigned from the committee. Appointee must be a representative from the Division I East ice hockey region.

Bylaw 5-1-(j) appeals

The following is a record of actions taken by the NCAA Council Subcommittee on Bylaw 5-1-(j) Exceptions, as approved by the Council at its April meeting. Divisions I and II voted at the January Convention to authorize the Council to grant exceptions to the initial-eligibility requirements of Bylaw 5-1-(j) in cases where a member institution provides "objective evidence" that a student's overall academic record warrants such an exception. Cases involving students who failed to meet core-course or test-score requirements under Bylaw 5-1-(j) are listed below, including circumstances of the case and the action taken. Future subcommittee actions will be published in The NCAA News following Council meetings.

Bowl group might devise its own play-off plan

By Bob Keim

Bowl-game officials live in fear of one word: play-off.

A postseason football tournament of any kind would destroy the present bowl structure, executives of the games argue, and reduce the glut of bowl games that have multiplied to the point where teams with 6-5 and 7-4 records earn $500,000 each by playing once more.

Even though the NCAA decided at its Convention in Nashville not to enact a play-off system for Division I-A football—the only sport that does not decide its champion in postseason play—the consensus at the meeting was that a play-off was coming. Because of that, says Orange Bowl Executive Director Steven J. Hatchell, the bowls should begin thinking about drawing up a play-off plan that would incorporate the existing games.

The bowl structure has worked perfectly the past two seasons. The Fiesta Bowl and the Orange Bowl put on games that determined the mythical national champions.

Hatchell, who recently was named chair of the bowl association, composed of representatives from each of the 18 NCAA-sanctioned postseason bowl games, knows the satisfaction with the bowl system will last only as long as it produces a national-championship game. The first time the top-ranked teams are unable to meet in a game because of conference bowl ties, however, the cry for a play-off will resume, Hatchell said.

Anticipating that, Hatchell believes there is a need to develop a play-off system that would use the existing bowls, and he said such a plan could be discussed at the June 5 bowl association meeting in Dallas.

"We can't just put our heads in the sand," he said. "We've got to say we like the bowl structure as it is, but have we ever explored that (a play-off)? Can you do a play-off in the bowl structure? It's a big issue."

Steven J. Hatchell

One reason bowl executives fear a play-off is that any type of championship game will cut into the money spent on the bowls by television, advertisers and fans.

"First blush tells you that any type of a play-off, even a championship game—just one championship game—kills the present bowl structure," he said. "Even your in-stadium crowd would suffer."

But a play-off would not necessarily sound a death knell for many of the smaller bowls, Hatchell said. If the bowls themselves drew up a play-off plan that was adopted by the NCAA, it actually could increase interest in the games.

Eight of the 11 bowl games played before or after January 1 failed to sell out, and television ratings for most games dropped. Placing strong regional teams in a bowl as part of a play-off could turn struggling bowls into major attractions. Also, when there is a national-championship game, such as last year's Orange Bowl between Oklahoma and Miami (Florida), interest in the other major bowls dwindles.

"There are so many schools, and the payoffs are the same, that you end up with matches you don't want," Hatchell said. "(The smaller bowls) are better off under even a plan the bowls would run, because they then get assigned two teams and then they can promote it as part of the play-off structure."

Until a play-off becomes a reality, there are measures the bowls should take to ensure their financial health.

One idea Hatchell endorses is developing a tier approach to the dates of the games.

For example, bowls with payouts between $500,000 and $700,000 per team would schedule their games on certain dates, with other dates allotted for bowls paying between $800,000 and $1 million. Bowls with payouts of $1.5 million to $2 million would play January 1.

"I think that would keep everybody from leapfrogging each other" with game dates," Hatchell said. "You get some kind of identification as to where these bowls are."

He also wants to develop a guidebook similar to those published by the NCAA (championships handbooks) that spells out operating procedures, covering everything from how to allocate media credentials and the methods of paying teams to when the national anthem should be played.

One part of this idea also has the bowls policing themselves. Many smaller bowls force schools to buy a certain number of tickets and tie

Coming out early is counterproductive

"I'm totally against coming out early. It's to a kid's advantage to stay in college for four years. By staying in school, he develops his skills—emotionally, artistically and physically—and then everybody benefits.

"Personally, I'm kind of excited about the proposal to look into Division I-AAA football.

"First of all, it's going to be good for Division III because it's going to take the Division I schools out of Division III football. The two teams playing for the Division III Football Championship this year were Division I football teams. They are Division I in every sport except football; and while those athletes had financial aid based on need, most Division I schools have more resources and more facilities than the average Division III school, so that's an unfair situation for III.

"At the same time, it provides an opportunity for schools in Division I that want to have football but don't want to put that much money into it. So I think it's a terrific idea. I wish it were mine."

Total cost not school's responsibility

To the Editor:

I read with interest the comments of Bill Walsh, head coach of the San Francisco 49ers (The NCAA News, May 4, 1988). Walsh states, "There's no way the college athlete can legitimately survive on the scholarship."

In my opinion, it's not the institution's responsibility to assure that a grant-in-aid will finance the total cost of a student-athlete's education.

The parents of the student and the student-athlete may need to share in the cost of obtaining an education. The principle of students' assisting in financing their education is sound. The difficulty lies in the expectation of coaches and the demands placed on student-athletes.

Too often, coaches require the student-athlete to train for 12 months each calendar year for a sport that has a three-month season.

Government financial aid and athletics grants-in-aid are meant to assist students who are honestly attempting to earn a degree. These forms of financial assistance were not established to totally finance a student's program of higher education.

No justification for cutting wrestling

To the Editor:

I am alarmed at the number of college wrestling programs that are disappearing. It frightens me that such a sport is so callously and carelessly being eliminated from many colleges.

I have heard many excuses for dropping wrestling programs. I have not heard any that were defensible. For example, the most common excuse I have heard for dropping wrestling is lack of interest.

According to a 1986 census by the National Federation of State High School Associations, 247,653 male athletes participated in interscholastic high school wrestling. Only 196,028 male athletes participated in high school soccer. Only football, basketball, track and field, and baseball had more participants than wrestling.

Michigan Intercollegiate schools have good grasp on athletics' role

By Don Faber
Ann Arbor News

Michigan is blessed with an excellent system of higher education, one component of which is its network of small, liberal arts schools scattered across lower Michigan.

Probably not many people know that a grouping of these colleges known as the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association is the oldest athletics conference in the United States.

The MIAA is 100 years old this year. It was in March of 1888 that representatives of several Michigan colleges journeyed to Jackson in inclement weather to form an athletics alliance.

The MIAA currently is made up of seven schools: Adrian College, Albion College, Alma College, Calvin College, Hope College, Kalamazoo College and Olivet College. Michigan Agricultural College, now known as Michigan State University; Eastern Michigan University, and Hillsdale College dropped out along the way.

As a product of one of the MIAA's member schools, I can vouch for the perspective it keeps. No special reverence or adulation was accorded the star athlete at the campus I attended. He may have been good enough to cut it in the Big Ten. But at Calvin College, he was just another student using the card catalog in the library.

I'm not saying the MIAA way is the best or the only way, or that an athlete can't get a good education at Notre Dame or Michigan or Penn State.

But in an age of high-pressure performance, athletes on steroids and wholesale cheating, I like what the MIAA stands for—student-athlete in the right sequence of that term.

Nobody gets an athletics scholarship. You won't see Hope or Albion on TV. If they're in the sports section at all, you'll have to look hard to find them. The media attention they get results from a slow news day at the glamour campuses.

Bo Schembechler is lauded—and properly so—for running a clean program at Michigan. But why should a program to which no scandal is attached somehow seem out of the ordinary? The MIAA has been around for 100 years, and not once has it been tinged with suggestions of impropriety.

Athletics in the MIAA is placed in the context of higher education. The conference is run by the presidents, and the presidents understand the value of athletics. Athletics is part of the total educational experience at member schools, not an end in itself.

Joe Falls of The Detroit News wrote, "These are special schools because they play their games the way the games were intended to be played: For the fun of it."

Tom Renner, the league's publicist, said, "In my mind, it's still one of the last examples of pure sport in America... athletes playing for the fun of it."

The difference between athletics competition at the NCAA's Division I level and Division III is like that between night and day. Perhaps college sports suggests to you 105,000 people in Michigan Stadium on a crisp autumn afternoon; but have you also checked out the gridiron on a small college, with the bells of the campus carillon chiming in the near distance?

You don't hear the term "well-rounded" much anymore. It means a person who is broadly developed educationally, able to converse in many areas and who values knowledge for knowledge's sake. The small, liberal arts schools of the MIAA turn out these kinds of graduates in droves.

All of Michigan celebrates with the MIAA 100 years of top scholastics and quality athletics... in that order. Michigan higher education has been enriched by the contributions of its small colleges in general and the MIAA in particular.

see whether 80 wrestlers are practicing or competing. The visibility is not as great so there is a perception, or rather a misperception, of low interest.

Another excuse is one of economics. Wrestling is a very inexpensive sport compared to most. God knows, the competitors don't eat much.

The only equipment that needs replacement annually are knee and elbow pads. A mat costs about $2,000 to recondition every five years. Other than regular costs of food, travel, headgear and uniforms, the only other investment is of time, desire and hard work.

Especially in NCAA Division III, a school can make money with a wrestling team. In many cases, two or three wrestlers can pay for the program. With a squad of 15 to 20 athletes... anyone can see the potential here for revenue.

A great reason for continuing programs and even starting new ones is that wrestling is the ultimate competition. It is a one-on-one competition that requires a phenomenal level of mental and physical conditioning. It is an experience that, by its very nature, builds character and an appreciation for competition. Don't sell it out.

UCLA women try to join Bruin men on winner's platform

After winning the men's team title by 53 points a year ago, how can UCLA top itself at the 1988 Division I Men's and Women's Track and Field Championships?

The answer may be to claim the men's and women's crowns this season.

The Bruins' speedy men's team, so dominant at Baton Rouge in 1987, is expected to display a similar prepotency when the championships begin June 1 at Oregon.

And now, after several seasons out of the top echelon, the UCLA women's team has an excellent opportunity to regain the title it captured in 1982 and 1983. Texas and Alabama will be among the challengers.

Men's championships

Nine seasons after it last won a share of the Division I team championship, UCLA made a shambles of the 1987 meet by recording the widest margin of victory in the 67-year history of the event.

Even with the graduation of some of its stars, Bob Larsen's team has the potential to again win comfortably. Decathlon champion Jim Connolly will be missing, as will weight specialist Jim Banich and steeplechase standout Mark Junkermann. But younger Bruins stand ready to fill many of the gaps.

Leading the UCLA effort will be senior Kevin Young, defending champion in the 400-meter hurdles and a potential Olympic medalist in that event. Hoping to join his teammate as a "one-lap champion" will be Danny Everett, who was runner-up in the 400 meters a year ago and ranked fourth in the world, in addition to being the anchor of the Bruins' championship 1,600-meter relay team.

Steve Lewis, one of the top freshmen in collegiate track this spring, also could score in the 400.

Junior sprinters Mike Marsh and Henry Thomas, all-Americans last season, will be on hand as well. Throwers Dave Wilson, Brian Blumreich and Peter Thompson also are likely to add to the point total as the Bruins seek their eighth Division I outdoor team title.

Doing better

"We had some injuries and illness among our sprinters, but we're doing better," said Larsen. "I'm more optimistic now than I was a few weeks ago, because so many of our points come in the sprints."

"Things went our way last season and didn't go well for some other teams. I'd be pleased with half of the good fortune we had at that meet. We do have good people, and they've worked hard to repeat."

Texas, the distant runner-up a year ago, again will be among the teams chasing UCLA. U.S. Olympic coach Stan Huntsman returns a handful of potential individual champions, foremost among them 1986 long jump champion Eric Metcalf.

Two-time javelin champion Dag Wennlund has departed, but the Longhorns still have distance stand-out Harry Green; 800-meter specialist Pablo Squella; Winthrop Graham, runner-up to Young in the 400 hurdles last spring, and a host of other qualifiers.

Arkansas, so dominant in cross country and indoor track, suffers from relative weakness in the events where strength is so vital outdoors—the sprints. However, John McDonnell's squad does boast the ubiquitous Joe Falcon, who in less than three seasons has captured five individual titles in cross country and indoor and outdoor track. Falcon, 10,000-meter champion last spring, is likely to concentrate on the shorter distance events in this Olympic year.

Long jumper Tyrus Jefferson and steeplechase star Richard Cooper are among the Razorbacks' other standouts.

Conference strong

Three other teams from the Southwest Athletic Conference also could place in the top 10. Texas Christian, third last season, suffered graduation losses but has one of the field's top individual performers in defending 100-meter champion Raymond Stewart. Baylor also has a potential sprint champion in sophomore 200-meter man Michael Johnson. Texas A&M has staged a late surge into contention.

Louisiana State, fifth last season, could move up in 1988. Tiger senior Mikael Olander could succeed Connolly as decathlon champion and also may challenge for the javelin title. Freshman discus standout John Nichols is among Louisiana State's other probable scorers.

Other returning champions include Illinois State high jumper Tom Smith, Kansas State triple jumper Kenny Harrison and Division II discus standout Clifford Felkins of Abilene Christian.

Women's championships

UCLA is the only team to win two Division I team titles in women's outdoor track. The Bruins would like to collect a third in 1988.

Coach Bob Kersee's main weapon in that quest is senior Gail Devers, who has the opportunity to win the 100 and 200 meters, the 200-meter hurdles, and the long jump. In April, she set the American record in the hurdles.

In all but the hurdles, her primary competition could come from Texas freshman Carlette Guidry, who exploded onto the collegiate track scene with indoor victories in the 55 meters and the long jump and as a runner-up in the 200.

The head-to-head battle between these brilliant individuals could shape the outcome of the team championship, in which Texas will be one of UCLA's leading challengers.

"The difference could be Gail's experience," said Kersee. "She's a senior and she's been to this meet three times. That makes a big difference. And now we have some new people coming along, and that's lightened her load a little."

Yvette Bates, Southern California

Veteran Kris Larson and newcomer Tracy Millett are likely to score in the discus, as are freshmen Janeene Vickers in the 400-meter hurdles and Caryl Smith in the sprints. UCLA finished fourth in both relays at last spring's meet but is almost certain to improve on both of those performances.

Another good show

"Women's track has become very good entertainment," Kersee said. "I'm sure we'll put on another good show at Eugene."

Texas, which tumbled to fourth outdoors last season after winning the team crown in 1986, bounced back with the arrival of Guidry to capture the indoor championship. The Houston native became the first woman to win two individual titles at one Division I indoor meet.

Terry Crawford's Longhorn roster includes other performers who will contend for individual victories. Senior Karol Davidson, winner of the indoor 800 meters, will be the favorite outdoors. Texas' other indoor championships came from Angie Bradburn in the high jump and a 1,600-meter relay team that included Guidry and fellow freshman Kellie Roberts, a contender in the 400-meter hurdles as well.

Rivals in running

Defending champion Louisiana State and two-year runner-up Alabama, Southeastern Conference rivals, again will contend for national honors. Louisiana State is led by senior Schowanda Williams, whose 400-meter hurdle time is the best among Americans in 1988. Freshman sprinter Esther Jones also will play a key role for coach Loren Seagrave's team.

Alabama maintains its traditional strength in the sprints, with Pauline Davis a prime contender in both the 100 and the 200. The Crimson Tide's other key performers include senior distance specialists Evelyn Adiru and Heidi Olafsdottir and triple jumper Flora Hyacinth.

Host Oregon, the 1987 cross country champion, is led by senior Annette Hand, runner-up in the 5,000 meters last spring and a favorite in both that race and the 3,000. Camille Jampolsky could challenge in both the high jump and the heptathlon.

Pacific-10 Conference rival Southern California has another heptathlon contender in senior Wendy Brown, who also won the triple jump at the 1986 indoor meet. Trojan teammate Yvette Bates has captured the indoor triple jump the past two seasons.

Other returning outdoor champions include Wisconsin's Suzy Favor in the 1,500 meters and teammate Stephanie Herbst, 1986 champion in both the 5,000 and 10,000; Vicki Huber of Villanova in the 3,000; Tennessee's LaVonna Martin in the 100-meter hurdles; Linetta Wilson of Nebraska in the 400 hurdles, and California's Sheila Hudson in the triple jump.

Statesmen claim ninth straight lacrosse title

Hobart's Statesmen won their ninth straight Division III Men's Lacrosse Championship with an 18-9 victory over Ohio Wesleyan in Delaware, Ohio, May 21.

Hobart has won every championship since the tournament was started in 1980. Ohio Wesleyan has been the runner-up the past two years.

"Coming into the season, we had some questions," Hobart coach Dave Urick said. "I wasn't really sure about how far this team could go. I tend to underestimate them."

The Statesmen jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the first period. Senior midfielder Matt Torggler had both of his goals during that run. Senior attackman Tom Gravante scored three of his six goals in the second period. Jim Bardwell, also a senior attackman, had four goals for the day.

"I don't know if we could have played any better," Urick said. "Ohio Wesleyan is a great team, but we were just awfully hot (May 21)."

"They were the best team in the country (May 21)," Ohio Wesleyan coach Mike Pressler said. "They were awesome. It is the best I've ever seen Hobart play. Of course, our season was great (14-2 and ranked No. 1 in the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association Division III poll), and we have no complaints."

The victory extends Urick's record of most consecutive national championships by a coach in a team sport. By virtue of the Statesmen's 1987 title-game victory over Ohio Wesleyan, Urick bested former UCLA men's basketball coach John Wooden, whose Bruin teams won seven straight Division I Men's Basketball Championships (1967 through 1973).

Hobart's nine-goal margin of victory was the largest in this tournament's history. The title game was only the second not played at Hobart. The other was staged at Washington College (Maryland) for the 1985 championship, which the Statesmen won, 15-8.

Cal State Stanislaus makes fifth straight look easy

Cal State Stanislaus, paced by individual medalist Glenn Andrade, won its fifth consecutive Division III Men's Golf Championships team title in typical fashion—by a landslide.

The Warriors, who have won 11 team titles in the 14-year history of the championships, outdistanced host Greensboro by 26 strokes. Andrade's one-stroke victory over Greensboro's Doug Trenor on the par-71 Farm Course at the Greensboro Country Club marked the fifth time a Cal State Stanislaus golfer has won the individual title.

As predicted, Cal State Stanislaus ran away and hid in the 21-team tournament, the first round of which was postponed due to rain. The Warriors had a 10-stroke advantage going into the final round and finished with a 54-hole team total of 888 for its comfortable margin of victory.

"I knew that if we at least shot four 77s, we'd win the tournament,"

Cal State Stanislaus coach Jim Hanny said. "Fortunately, they got it going and tackled that goal with no problem."

Along with Andrade, Hanny got strong performances from third-place finisher John Groth, who shot a final-round 72, and Garret Cox and Joe McCormick, both of whom tied for 11th place. Cox, a freshman, shot the lowest round of the tournament with a two-under-par 69 in the final round.

Andrade's trek to the individual title was not as smooth as the Warriors' road to the team title. Andrade entered the final round tied with Trenor at 145. Trenor birdied the first two holes but ran into putting problems and bogeyed the next four holes. The Greensboro junior got back on track on the back nine but could not catch Andrade, who finished in a two-way tie for third at last year's championships. Andrade toured the final round's front nine

Trenton State women repeat in III

Trenton State won its second straight Division III Women's Lacrosse Championship with a 14-11 victory over William Smith in Haverford, Pennsylvania, May 21.

The Lions have played in every title game since the championship began in 1985 and have won three crowns. This is the first time they have won back-to-back titles. William Smith was making its second appearance in the tournament and reached the championship game for the first time.

William Smith trailed by one goal, 7-6, with 8:50 left in the first half. But Trenton State ran off four straight goals to take an 11-6 lead into the intermission.

Trenton State ended the year with a 17-2 record, and William Smith finished with a 15-3 mark.

Stanford women maintain hold on Division I title

Stanford defeated Florida, 5-2, to capture its third consecutive team title at the Division I Women's Tennis Championships.

The Cardinal won four singles matches in the finals, then clinched its fifth title overall by taking the match's first doubles contest.

The 1988 championships were held May 11-19 at UCLA.

Frank Brennan's Stanford squad defeated Duke and Georgia in early round matches before notching a 5-1 semifinal triumph over Pacific-10 Conference rival Southern California. The Trojans are the only other team to win a Division I crown.

Florida sophomore Shaun Stafford, runner-up to Stanford's Patty Fendick in singles last season, claimed the top prize for herself in this year's individual play. The singles final was a homogeneous affair, pitting Stafford against Gator teammate Halle Cioffi, a freshman. Stafford's 7-6, 6-4 victory marked the first time in the tournament's history that two players from the same school met in the singles final.

Stafford defeated top seed Ronni Reis of Miami (Florida) in the se-

In doubles, third-seeded Allyson Cooper and Stella Sampras of host UCLA defeated Reis and Jami Yonekura in the finals, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. It was the Bruins' first individual title since the first women's championships in 1982.

Central (Iowa) outlasts weather, opponents for III softball crown

Central (Iowa) overcame the weather to defeat Allegheny, 3-2, and claim the Division III Women's Softball Championship.

The rain-marred championship was held May 20-24 at Elmhurst.

The victory was Central's first in three postseason appearances. The Flying Dutch finished second in 1986 and fourth last year.

Allegheny's runner-up finish is the team's best in its six championship appearances.

Rainy weather cast a gloom over the series and sent many fans home before the last two matchups, which were delayed one day. Fewer than 100 fans attended the final day's games, which saw Allegheny defeat Eastern Connecticut State before falling to Central in the final.

Chapman takes team, singles titles in Division II tourney

Chapman, led by a pair of Division II's leading individual performers, captured its second straight team championship in men's tennis and its third title in four seasons.

The Division II Men's Tennis Championships were held May 16-22 at Sonoma State.

Coach Mike Edles' squad, with senior Miles Walker and junior Olivier Amerlinck leading the way, won four of five singles matches in the finals against Hampton. The Panthers' all-America pair then notched an easy two-set decision in doubles to wrap up a 5-2 victory.

Chapman defeated Ferris State and Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in earlier rounds.

Walker also won the individual singles crown, cruising through the field without being forced to a third set. Walker, who reached the semifinals a year ago, defeated George Zink of Southern Illinois-Edwardsville in the finals.

Defending champion Pat Emmet of Rollins was upset in the third round by Neal Barryman of Cal Poly San Luis Obispo.

Rollins did claim an individual title with a doubles victory by Robert Green and Barry Pelts, who won a third-set tiebreaker against Flavio Lima and Luis Nascimento of Hampton. The loss capped a frustrating week for Lima and Nascimento, who lost singles matches in the team finals and then dropped the deciding doubles match to Walker and Amerlinck.

Washington and Lee rallies to win first III tennis crown

Trailing 4-2 after the singles round, host Washington and Lee swept the doubles in dramatic fashion and defeated UC Santa Cruz to win its first Division III Men's Tennis Championships team title.

The tournament was held May 15-22 on the Generals' home courts at Lexington, Virginia.

Washington and Lee, defeated by Kalamazoo in the team finals the past two seasons, shook off a third straight runner-up finish with its late rally. All three of the Generals' doubles tandems had to win tiebreakers in the finals.

Washington and Lee handily defeated Emory and Swarthmore to reach the finals.

In individual play, Noel Occomy of Brandeis captured the singles title, defeating Scott Milener of Rochester in straight sets in the finals.

Toby Clark of Principia, the only man to win two singles titles in Division III, was upset in the quarterfinals by Mark Roberts of UC Santa Cruz.

Lance Au and Frank Hinman of Claremont-Mudd-Scripps won the doubles title. Hinman was part of a tandem that reached the finals a year ago.

Tampa, Leonard repeat as II golf champions

Tampa doubled its fun for the second year in a row at the May 17-20 NCAA Division II Men's Golf Championships.

Jeff Leonard defended his individual title and led the Spartans to their second consecutive team title by 14 strokes over runner-up Florida Southern.

Leonard fired rounds of 71-70-73-73 (287 total) over the par 71, 6,442-yard Oaks Golf Course at Tan-Tar-A Resort at Osage Beach, Missouri, to defeat Valdosta State's Scott Hay by five strokes.

Tan-Tar-A, an Indian Blackfoot saying that means "One who moves swiftly," could have been Tampa's war cry for the 26th annual championships. The Spartans led the race for the team title from start to finish, carding rounds of 291-301-298-299 for a 1,189 total.

Tampa's performance was a great send-off for coach Chuck Winship, who will become Miami's (Florida) coach next season.

Although Leonard's title highlighted Winship's farewell party, he had plenty to celebrate. Tampa placed three other golfers—Scott Johnson (301), Jeff Schroeder (303) and John Finster (304)—among the top 13 finishers.

Runner-up Florida Southern, team titlist in 1985 and 1986, was led by Todd Mudge, who finished 11 strokes off the pace for a fourth-place individual finish, and Darren Stanek, who tied for fifth with a four-round total of 300.

Abilene Christian men, individual standouts stay on top

With the team outcome seemingly no longer in doubt, attention at the Division II Men's Outdoor Track and Field Championships has shifted to the number of career titles compiled by a handful of individual performers.

Abilene Christian, despite a drop in scoring from previous seasons, had little trouble notching its seventh straight team championship May 18-21 at Angelo State. Don Hood's Wildcats compiled 112 points, the lowest total during their remarkable streak, but won by 35 points over runner-up St. Augustine's.

Meanwhile, Abilene Christian's Clifford Felkins and Mount St. Mary's (Maryland) distance standouts Charles Cheruiyot and Peter Rono carved even deeper niches for themselves in the Division II record books.

Felkins won the discus and the hammer, bringing to seven his total of individual titles in indoor and outdoor track.

Cheruiyot won the 5,000 meters for a third straight season to complement his two titles in indoor competition. Teammate Rono won the 1,500-meter run after winning the cross country title last fall and the 800 and 1,500 indoors in March.

Other repeat champions included Norm McGee of North Dakota in the 100 meters, Ian Morris of Abilene Christian in the 200 and Derek Knowles of St. Augustine's in the 100-meter hurdles.

Mike Simierciak of host Angelo State set the only championships record in winning the javelin.

Joining Felkins and Morris in leading Abilene Christian was James Browne, who repeated his indoor title in the triple jump.

Women from Abilene Christian collect fourth straight title

The margin of victory was not as comfortable as in past seasons, but Abilene Christian took home another team title from the Division II Women's Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

The meet was held May 18-21 at Angelo State, meaning it was only a short trip home for Wes Kittley's squad and the first-place trophy that the Wildcats collected for a fourth straight season.

Abilene Christian scored 109½ points, its lowest total since first winning the title in 1985. Alabama A&M scored 72 to supplant perennial runner-up Cal Poly San Luis Obispo.

Marlene Lewis led the Wildcats by collecting her third straight title in the discus. Mazel Thomas, indoor champion in the long jump, repeated that title outdoors for Abilene Christian.

Hampton, despite four individual titles, finished third. Starring for the Lady Pirates was Vivienne Spence, who won both the 100 and 200 meters and ran a leg on Hampton's winning 400-meter relay team.

Other double winners were Darcy Arreola of Cal State Northridge in the 1,500 and 3,000 meters and Durrelle Schimek of Cal Poly Pomona in the javelin and the heptathlon.

Another individual standout was Jearl Miles of Alabama A&M, who broke her own meet record during the preliminaries of the 400-meter dash.

Also repeating as champions were Teena Colebrook of Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in the 800 meters and Seattle Pacific's Bente Moe in the 5,000.

Other meet records fell to Diana Wills of Army in the triple jump and Brandi Gail of Cal Poly Pomona in the shot put.

Members to get additional funds

NCAA Controller Louis J. Spry has announced the distribution of additional net receipts from two championships to participating member institutions.

The funds, which were generated from the 1982 Division I-AA Football Championship and the 1986 Division II Men's Basketball Championship, were returned as a result of the disposition of infractions cases against member institutions that participated in those championships.

Financial aid

3. Permissible financial aid beyond a five-year period. Considered a previous committee interpretation of Constitution 3-4-(b) (reference: Item No. 1 of the minutes of the committee's February 18, 1988, conference) as it relates to a situation in which a member institution's athletics department seeks to establish an "after-care" program, which will provide financial assistance to former student-athletes who meet the criteria of the program (e.g., the student demonstrates financial need as calculated by the financial aid office) to return to the institution to complete their degrees; recommended that the NCAA Committee on Financial Aid and Amateurism review the implications of this program, as well as other such financial aid programs administered by member institutions.

Waivers

4. Transfer student ("4-2-4") who participated in intercollegiate competition at a junior college. Considered a previous Council-approved interpretation (reference: Item No. 1-a of the committee's August 6, 1987, conference) as it relates to a situation in which a student-athlete attends a four-year institution (that never sponsored the student-athlete's sport) and subsequently enrolls in a junior college, participates in intercollegiate competition at the junior college, and now seeks to utilize a Bylaw 5-1-(n)-(1) waiver to be immediately eligible upon enrollment at another four-year institution; concluded that regardless of the fact that the student was a qualifier out of high school and has satisfied the provisions of Bylaw 5-1-(j)-(8)-(ii), the student-athlete originally enrolled at a four-year institution and subsequently participated in intercollegiate competition while at the junior college and, therefore, may not receive a waiver of the residence requirement per Bylaw 5-1-(n)-(1); accordingly, the provisions of Bylaw 5-1-(k)-(1) would require that the student complete one calendar year of residence at the certifying institution unless the student graduates from the junior college and completes a minimum of 24 semester or 36 quarter hours at the junior college following transfer from the four-year college and one calendar year has elapsed since the transfer from the first four-year college.

Hardship/redshirt

5. Appeal of the hardship rule. Declined to endorse a proposal that would permit the Council (or a designated subcommittee) to hear appeals for the restoration of eligibility via a "hardship" ruling when the requirements set forth in Bylaw 5-1-(j)-(2) are not satisfied, but when mitigating circumstances clearly would warrant such restoration.

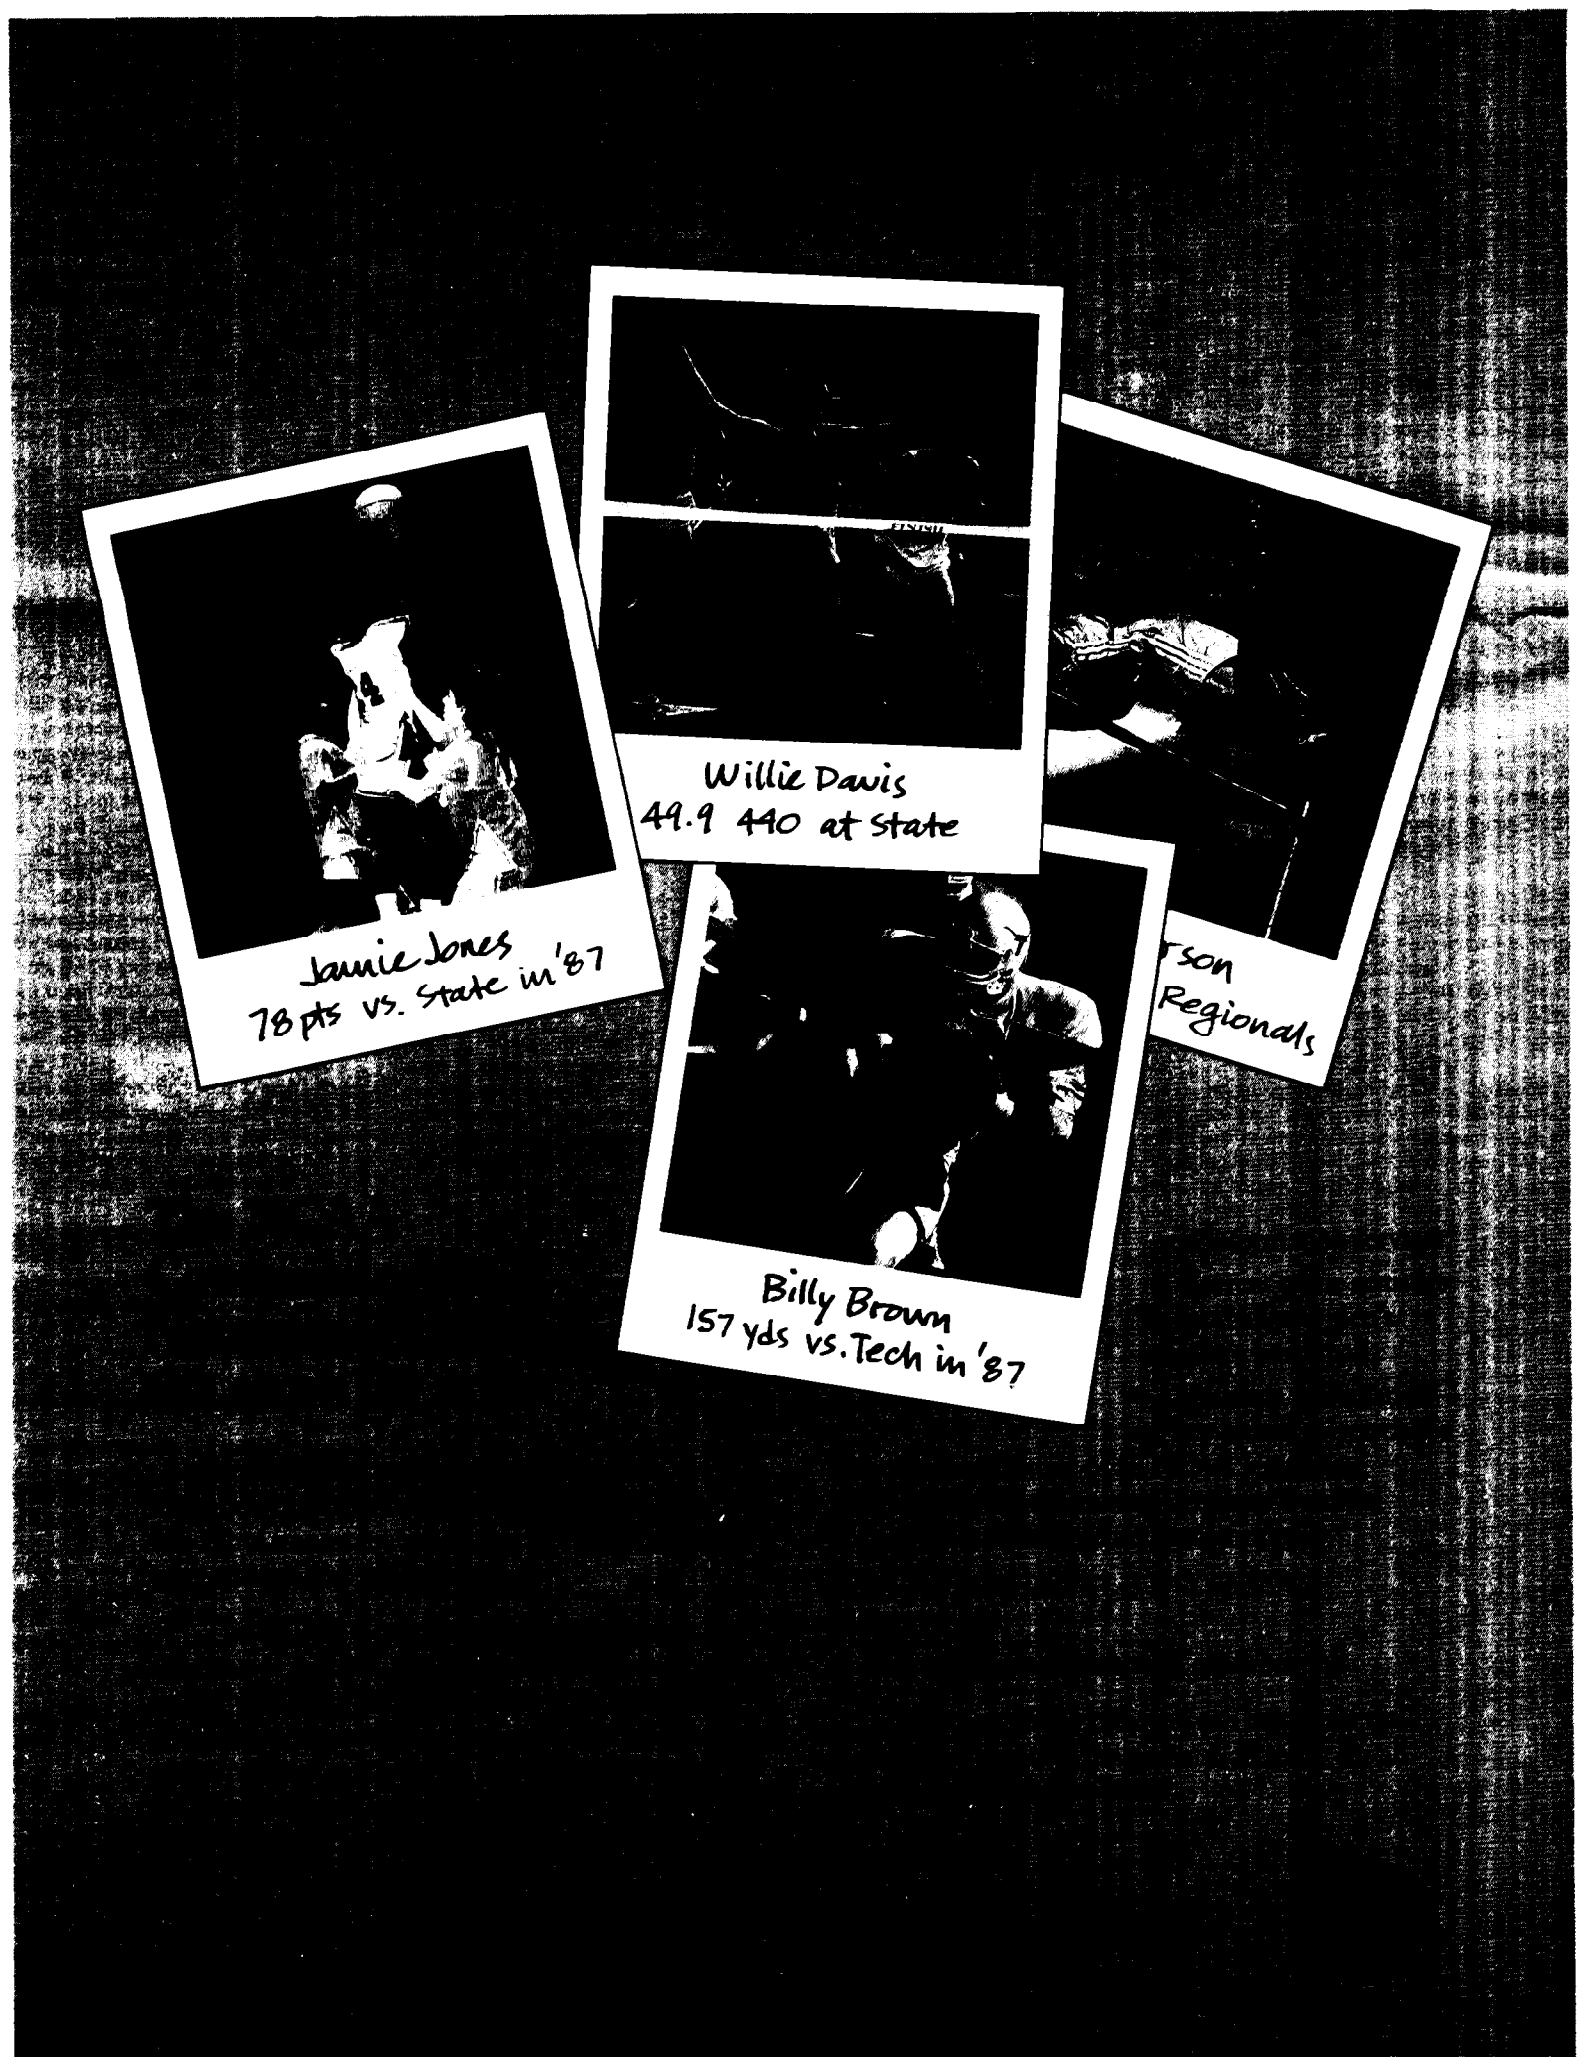

Financial Aid

6. "Walk-on" football player who receives athletics aid subsequent to second year of participation (Division I). Reviewed the application of Case No. 367 and declined to recommend that the case be revised to indicate that a student-athlete in the sport of football who becomes countable upon receipt of athletically related financial aid after participating for two or more years on the intercollegiate football team may be exempted from counting against the institution's initial awards limitation; confirmed the principle that such a student-athlete must be counted within the initial awards limitations upon his or her first receipt of athletically related financial aid as permitted per Case No. 367.

Contest limitations (Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico)

7. Foreign tour exemption (Division I). Considered 1988 NCAA Convention Proposal No. 150 amending Bylaw 3-6-(b), which indicates that in the sport of basketball in Division I, an institution shall not engage in a foreign tour in any academic year (or the summer immediately thereafter) in which it utilizes any of the exemptions set forth in Bylaw 3-3-(k); noted a situation in which a member institution has participated in exempted contests set forth in Bylaw 3-3-(k) [Hawaii trip] prior to the 1988 Convention and now wishes to participate in a foreign tour during the same academic year; concluded that inasmuch as the institution made arrangements to participate in the foreign tour prior to the adoption of Proposal No. 150, the institution may be exempted on this occasion from the restrictions set forth in Bylaw 3-6-(b)-(8).

'Retirement age' mother of three on four college teams

At an age when most athletes have retired, 37-year-old Martha Rodriguez is looking forward to her second season on the Herbert H. Lehman College women's softball team. She also runs cross country, plays volleyball, and competes in the shot put and discus as a Lancer student-athlete.

"Sometimes when the other players are goofing around, they call me mom," said Rodriguez, who does have an 11-year-old and 7-year-old twins. She also is a sergeant in the U.S. Army Reserves, having served active duty from 1970 to 1973 at Fort Devens, Massachusetts.

Rodriguez is majoring in physical education and hopes to become a gym teacher in elementary or junior high school.

James E. Longnecker, swimming and diving coach at Grove City College, recently earned a national title and all-America honors in six events during the National YMCA Masters Swimming Championships in Cincinnati, Ohio.

In his first national competition in the 55-59 age group, Longnecker won the 50-yard backstroke with a time of 34.21. He also finished second in the 400-yard individual medley, third in three events (100-yard backstroke, 200-yard backstroke and 200-yard breaststroke), and fourth in the 500-yard freestyle. A top-eight finish was required for all-America recognition in each event.

Amy Campbell, women's lacrosse coach at Connecticut College, has been named recipient of the school's Andrew H. Chait '82 Service Award, given annually since 1986 to a member of the college community (student or faculty/staff member) who has given outstanding service and commitment to the athletics department. Campbell was selected in voting by Connecticut College's student athletics advisory board.

"The recognition by the students is a well-deserved honor that clearly describes the contribution Amy has made in her first four years here," said Charles Luce, director of athletics. "Amy has been very involved in the department in a variety of ways, and it seems that every facet she's touched has turned to gold. And it's nice to see the students recognize that."

Nominees for the award, which is given by 1982 graduate Andrew H. Chait, must have been involved in the college's athletics department for at least two years. Campbell arrived at Connecticut College for the 1984-85 school year as head women's volleyball coach and assistant women's lacrosse coach.

She now serves as head women's lacrosse coach, assistant field hockey coach, director of intramurals and instructor of physical education. She served as coordinator of physical education last year and has handled the athletics department's budget and finances.

Christine Shelton, the first woman to coach a men's team at Ursinus College, "had herself a year to be proud of," according to Elliot Tannenbaum, the school's sports information director. She guided the Bears' tennis team to an 8-4 record—third best in the 42-year history of the sport at the school. The team was 4-9 in 1987.

Shelton previously coached the women's tennis teams at George Mason University and James Madison University, her alma mater.

Wittenberg University baseball player Greg Haller didn't just pitch in both games of a May 11 doubleheader against Ohio Athletic Conference foe Ohio Northern University... he started both games.

A junior, Haller tossed a one-hit shutout (1-0) in the opener. He needed only 62 pitches in 62 minutes to complete the seven-inning game and allowed only a lead-off single in the second inning.

In the second game, Haller allowed an unearned run and yielded four hits over five innings before leaving with a 3-1 lead. His teammates led 7-2 in the sixth before Ohio Northern came back to post a 9-8 victory.

When Kenyon College women's lacrosse players Rachel Shapiro and Jenny Leffler were sidelined by injuries, they traded game jerseys for coaching outfits. The sophomore duo took over the junior varsity squad for Kenyon head coach Sandy Moore after two games (the JVs were 1-1), and the team finished 3-3 for the season.

"My original intent was to have Jenny and Rachel work with the beginners in the winter because they could provide individual instruction," Moore said in a news release from Kenyon's sports information office. "But they did such an outstanding job, I gave them (coaching responsibilities for) the second team."

"We kept the practices hard, but fun," Shapiro said. "We made them into games and contests, and the players liked that."

"It was nice to see the skills and techniques we used in practice work on the field," Leffler added, "especially when half the players were brand new to the game."

The pair's coaching highlight came during a 7-6 victory over Wittenberg University. "It was beautiful lacrosse to watch," Shapiro recalled, "and it didn't look like half the team had just started to play."

Trivia Time: Two current Division I-A head football coaches have served as head wrestling coach at Augustana College (South Dakota). Who are they? Answer later.

Indiana State University alumnus Vencie Glenn, now a member of the NFL San Diego Chargers, has created a scholarship at the school to help student-athletes who exhaust their eligibility and athletics grants-in-aid before earning a degree.

"I put this scholarship in my (1986) contract when I signed with New England," said Glenn, who was traded to San Diego midway through that season. "It should give someone who otherwise wouldn't be able to finish school the incentive to do it."

Applicants are reviewed by a selection committee, with Glenn making the final decision on each award winner. Those selected are asked to assist in the perpetuation of the $5,000 scholarship fund by making payments after graduation.

Speaking of graduation, Glenn expects to do that this summer. The senior in business management has continued to work on degree requirements at Indiana State during the off-season.

North Texas State University officially became the University of North Texas May 15. Most interesting about the name change is the fact that it is the school's sixth.

According to United Press International, the school opened in 1890 as Texas Normal College and Teachers Training Institute. Since then, name changes have occurred in 1893 (North Texas Normal College), 1899 (North Texas State Normal College), 1923 (North Texas State Teachers College), 1949 (North Texas State College), 1961 (North Texas State University) and this month.

Marta Picado, women's volleyball coach at Springfield College, has been honored for her leadership and coaching achievements to women in sports.

During the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance national convention last month in Kansas City, Picado received the National Association for Girls and Women in Sports (NAGWS) Presidential Award. A Costa Rican native, she has organized various sports activities for women in Latin America.

In addition to volleyball, Picado also has coached basketball and track and field during her career.

Trivia Answer: Jim Wacker, head football coach at Texas Christian University, was head wrestling coach at Augustana College (South Dakota) from 1969 through 1971. Don Morton, currently head football coach at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, succeeded Wacker and coached the Vikings through 1973. Thanks to current Augustana wrestling coach Paul Kendle, who succeeded Morton in 1973, for submitting this question.

Last fall, first-year Mercyhurst College football coach Ken Braisington decided to get his players involved in some public-service work. One project already has raised thousands of dollars for the Boys Club in the Erie, Pennsylvania, area. The other will raise funds for the American Heart Association.

Last April 16, Mercyhurst football players acted as on-site supervisors for Boys Club members who sold coupon books to shoppers at stores in a local grocery chain. "Coupons for Kids" raised $3,500.

Now, players are contacting local businesses seeking pledges to the American Heart Association. Companies are agreeing to donate an amount of money for each point the 1988 Mercyhurst team scores this fall.

"These programs have gotten our kids off campus and into town," said assistant coach Ken Treschitta. "I believe (the experience) has made them more sensitive to the needs of others."

More Report Cards: Five student-athletes with 4.000 grade-point averages (4.000 scale) led a group of 58 Hunter College student-athletes who notched GPAs of 3.000 or higher during 1987-88, according to Jeff Bernstein, Hunter sports information director. The straight-A students were women's basketball player Candi Richards, swimmer Susan McGahon, fencer John Corda, and baseball players David Cajuste and Jeffrey Zahn. Bernstein also reported that two varsity teams (swimming and women's fencing) and the student trainers posted cumulative GPAs above 3.000.

Four academic awards recently were given to student-athletes at St. Lawrence University. Skiers Julie Fontaine [3.600 GPA (4.000 scale)] and Pat Colclough (3.400 GPA) won the Ronald C. Hoffman Freshman Scholar Athlete Awards. Biology major Tim McCrossen was named male senior scholar-athlete. He compiled a 3.140 GPA and, as a track athlete, won the 1987 Division III championship at 100 meters. Most notable among the four, however, may be female senior scholar-athlete Kathy LaBarge. She captained the women's volleyball and women's basketball teams while maintaining a 3.200 GPA—with a double major in biology and sport and leisure studies. LaBarge completed her degree requirements in 3½ years.

Women's basketball players at the University of Indianapolis posted good scores on the court and in the classroom during the 1987-88 season. The team finished with a 22-5 record and a cumulative GPA of 3.480 (4.000 scale).

New Charlotte arena to host ACC

The 1990 and 1991 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournaments will be held in Charlotte, North Carolina, after a 20-year absence from the city, ACC officials said.

League officials also discussed a possible football tie-in with the Florida Citrus Bowl, but no decision was reached during the ACC's annual spring meetings that concluded May 18.

Acting on a recommendation by athletics directors, the conference's NCAA faculty athletics representatives voted unanimously to hold the ACC basketball tournament at the new 23,500-seat Charlotte Coliseum, which officially opens August 11.

The 1990 tournament will be March 9-11.

"We are delighted," ACC Commissioner Eugene F. Corrigan told the Associated Press. "We feel like

Eugene F. Corrigan

we got a good deal and they got a good deal."

Paul Buck, director of municipal buildings in Charlotte, said the ACC tournament is "the greatest in the business."

"I always say you guys could hold this in the middle of the Pacific Ocean at 4 o'clock in the morning and fill it up," Buck said. "You could. We'll do the job."

The main reason for picking the Charlotte Coliseum was its seating capacity, Corrigan said.

"The prospect of having... 3,500 more tickets than we would have at Landover (Maryland) and at least 5,000 more than we would have at Atlanta or Greensboro (North Carolina) was something the athletics directors just couldn't turn away from," Corrigan said.

League officials also discussed a possible affiliation with the Florida Citrus Bowl, but Corrigan said they were not looking to make a decision in the near future.

"There is not anything specific to discuss," he said. "We just discussed it in a general way, about getting together with them; what their aspirations are, and whether there would be a fit or not."

State legislation relating to athletics

This report summarizes legislation currently pending in state legislatures that, if passed, could affect intercollegiate athletics programs and student-athletes at NCAA member institutions. Set forth below is a list of 109 bills from 30 states that have been introduced or carried over into this session, organized alphabetically by state. Bills introduced since the last report (see the February 17, 1988, issue of The NCAA News) are marked with an asterisk. Previously reported bills that have died in committee or have been withdrawn are not included.

This report is based on data provided by the Information for Public Affairs on-line state legislation system as of May 9, 1988. The listed bills were selected for inclusion in this report from a larger pool of bills concerning sports, so they do not necessarily represent all bills that would be of interest to individual member institutions. Bills pending in the District of Columbia Council and the legislatures in the U.S. territories are not available on-line and are not included. In addition, the legislatures in six states—Arkansas, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon and Texas—reportedly are not scheduled to meet this year.

The NCAA has not verified the accuracy or completeness of the information and is providing this summary as a service to members. For further information regarding the bills, members should contact the state legislature concerned.

As an overview, the table below summarizes the number of bills included in this report by subject.

Publication in this column of executive regulations adopted or revised by the Executive Committee constitutes official notice to the membership. Bold type indicates new wording; italicized type indicates wording removed. Included are editorial changes incorporated into the 1988-89 NCAA Manual to reflect previous Executive Committee actions.

Editor's Note: At the request of a member institution, Executive Regulation 1-2(i) was revised on an experimental basis only for the 1989 Division I Women's Basketball Championship. Under the revision, bands playing at the championship will be permitted to use a limited number of amplified instruments. Bands will be limited to no more than 15 members when amplified instruments are used.

Executive Regulation 1-2(m)-(5) was revised as follows:

(5) Band members in uniform (not to exceed 25 in number) may be admitted without charge if recommended by the governing sports committee and approved by the Executive Committee. In the Division I Men's Basketball Championship, an institution shall purchase tickets for its band, and each is limited to 30 members. There shall be no limitation in the men's lacrosse championships and the Divisions I-AA, II and III Football Championships unless the respective governing sports committees establish limits.

Executive Regulation 1-2(o)-(1) was revised as follows:

(1) If a student-athlete or representative of an institution has been found guilty of misconduct, the governing sports committee, or the games committee authorized to act for it, may cancel payment to the institution of the NCAA travel guarantee for the individual(s) involved and/or, withhold all or a portion of the institution's share of the net receipts, and/or ban the institution from participating in one or more subsequent championships in which its team in that sport would otherwise be eligible to participate.

Executive Regulations 1-3(d)-(3), (5) and (6) were revised as follows:

(3) Swimming—first two finishers in each Division II event and champion in each Division III event, provided they meet the minimum performance standards established by the swimming committee. All members of an advancing relay team must be eligible under the provisions of paragraph (d) above; a maximum of one ineligible student-athlete [per paragraph (d)] from an advancing relay team may be replaced by an eligible participant if approved by the governing sports committee.

Executive Regulation 1-3(i) was revised as follows:

(i) If a member conference, which conducts its regular-season competition under eligibility rules at least as stringent as those provisions of Bylaw 5 applicable to its members, conducts a championship in a team sport (and has conducted a championship in that sport for at least two consecutive years) and at least two-thirds of the conference's member institutions sponsor the sport as a varsity intercollegiate sport and participate in the process that determines the conference championship, the governing sports committee shall select the official conference representative (as determined by the conference through regular-season competition or a conference tournament) to participate in a national championship before it may select any other team from that conference.

(1) This regulation shall apply to team championships in the sports of baseball, basketball, fencing, field hockey, football, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, soccer, softball, tennis, volleyball and water polo, provided a selection process is utilized.

(2) A member conference must advise the NCAA championships department in writing by September 1 of each year whether it wishes the provisions of this regulation to be applied or waived. Conferences that fail to meet the deadline may appeal to the NCAA Administrative Committee for an exception; such an appeal must be submitted to the NCAA national office no later than November 1 in order for the conference to apply the provisions of this regulation. If the Administrative Committee, acting for the Executive Committee, grants the appeal, then the conference shall be granted a waiver. Such a conference that fails to meet a the September 1 deadline in a subsequent time year may be granted an exception only upon payment of a penalty of $150 for the second offense and $300 for each subsequent offense during the five-year period preceding the last offense. [Rest of paragraph unchanged.]

Executive Regulation 1-5(g) was revised as follows:

(g) The presence on a varsity squad of one or more players who are ineligible, or unavailable due to injury, for NCAA championship competition does not necessarily disqualify that team from consideration. If an ineligible such a player(s) materially contributed to the team's success during the season, the committee may choose not to select that team based on the conclusion that without the use of the ineligible or unavailable player(s), the team would not have been able to compile the record that brought it before the committee for consideration. It shall be the responsibility of the governing sports committee to apply the criterion "materially contributed" to each case as it arises.

Executive Regulations 1-6(b)-(5) and (8) were revised as follows:

(b) Prior to recommending that a conference receive automatic qualification, a governing sports committee shall ensure that the conference:

(5) Conducts conference competition in the sport in question and determines the conference champion in that sport either by regular in-season conference competition or a conference meet or tournament, and completes all regular-season and conference championship competition no later than the date on which participants are selected for the NCAA championship.

(8) All eligible member institutions that are otherwise eligible have agreed to participate in the appropriate NCAA championship unless an institution or an individual student-athlete elects not to participate in any postseason competition in that sport. If a conference champion is ineligible to compete, declines to compete or cannot compete for any reason, automatic qualification shall be withdrawn for that year and the remaining conference members shall be considered at large.

Executive Regulations 1-9(e)-(1) and (2) were revised as follows:

(1) An institution using its facilities in serving as host to preregional or regional competition first may deduct 15 percent or $200, whichever is greater, from the net receipts, except that an institution using its facilities in serving as host to first-round, second-round or regional tournament games in the Division I Men's Basketball Championship may deduct 20 percent or $200, whichever is greater, from the net receipts, and an An institution serving as host for common-site men's and women's championships preregional or regional competition may deduct 15 percent or $400, whichever is greater, from the net receipts.

The NCAA executive director is authorized to administer this provision when the proposed off-campus facility is the regular home facility of a member institution.*

(b) Governing sports committees shall evaluate the following factors in determining sites for all competition in NCAA meets and tournaments: quality and availability of the facility and other necessary accommodations; revenue potential (e.g., a financial guarantee or guideline that ensures fiscal responsibility and is appropriate for the particular event, as recommended by the governing sports committee and approved by the Executive Committee); attendance history and potential, and geographical location. The division championships committees may assign specific priorities to these criteria for their respective championships and shall specify any such priorities in the appropriate championships handbooks. In the case of nonpredetermined sites, the governing sports committee may award the site to the higher-ranked team if these criteria, and any priorities established by the respective division championships committees, are met. We're holding six men responsible for something they started years ago.

Introducing the first six members of the GTE Academic All-America® Hall of Fame.

Not only have these Academic All-Americans proven themselves in their academic years but they have also gone on to excel in their chosen fields.

These six men have a history which cannot be forgotten. They include a ten-year U.S. Senator and onetime New York Knicks basketball star. An attorney who played seven seasons with the Los Angeles Rams. A senior minister who offered the invocations at two Presidential inaugurations and was a football star at UCLA. A television actor/spokesman and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. A U.S. Congressman from Maryland who played with the Washington Bullets. Even a former brigadier general and winner of the Heisman Trophy.

At GTE, we think it's about time somebody put these men where they belong.
