Strong-arm tactics

The heads-up play of UCLA catcher Kelly Inouye made things difficult for Arizona May 25 at the Women's College World Series in Oklahoma City. Inouye threw out three base runners on her way to making the all-tournament team, and UCLA defeated Arizona, 2-0, in the title game. See story on page 7.

Success rate high for certifying coaches; program meets goals

The early feedback on the new NCAA coaches certification examination has been good, and those involved with implementing the program believe it has accomplished its primary goals.

"The test itself has been viewed to be a fair test," said Kevin C. Lennon, director of compliance services. "It has provided greater exposure and a greater level of comfort with the NCAA Manual."

Effective August 1 in Division I, only those coaches who have been certified may contact or evaluate any prospective student-athlete off campus. Certification procedures include a requirement that the coaches pass an open-book examination on NCAA recruiting legislation.

The rate of failure on the examinations has been low, probably less than five percent.

"The test is easy, but that's OK," said John R. Gerdy, associate commissioner for the Southeastern Conference. Gerdy said the test accomplished two principal goals: motivating coaches to review the Manual and testing them on a non-technical basis.

"We had fallen into a trap regarding rules," Gerdy said. "We made the mistake of expecting coaches to know every single rule. It created an enormous paranoia among them."

While the NCAA certification program is new, testing coaches about rules is not. Conferences and institutions in the past relied on a bank of test questions from the NCAA to check coaches' knowledge, but the questions often were legalistic and difficult to answer, Gerdy said.

"We missed the boat on that," he said, "because they don't need to understand all the specifics. They need to know general principles, and they need to be smart enough to know that if something falls outside those principles, they should ask."

For example, the following questions are similar to those that appeared on the open-book certification examination:

• After September 1 of the beginning of the prospect's junior year in high school, a Division I institution may give to a prospect all of the following items, except:

- a. a student-athlete handbook.
- b. a magazine subscription.
- c. a wallet-size playing schedule.
- d. a recruiting letter.

• True or false? A Division I coach may make a recruiting telephone call to a prospect during the prospect's junior year in high school.

The answer to the first is selection "b" (Bylaw 13.4), and the answer to the second is false (Bylaw 13.01.6). In both cases, the appropriate rules are clearly stated in the Manual.

Britton Banowsky, assistant commissioner of the Southwest Athletic Conference, said about 240 SWC coaches had been tested so far, and all had passed the exam. About 120 of them had perfect scores, he said, and one finished the exam in seven minutes. Although coaches had an

NCAA awards minority grants

The NCAA has awarded post-graduate scholarships through the ethnic-minority-enhancement program for the fifth year.

Toner knows where he stands

By David D. Smale
The NCAA News Staff

It never has been hard to get an opinion related to NCAA activities out of John Toner. On any subject. At any time.

It is not that Toner is overly opinionated. He has just been involved in so many athletics issues during his career that he has a well-formed opinion on practically everything. Gender equity? Toner was heavily involved in incorporating women's championships into the jurisdiction of the NCAA. Proposition 48? Toner was NCAA secretary-treasurer when the original legislation was passed. The reorganization of the NCAA? Toner was on the NCAA Council when Division I was federated into I-A and I-AA in football.

This is one Toner that never runs dry.

First cause

Toner began getting involved in NCAA activities in the late 1960s and early 1970s as the football coach and athletics director at the University of Connecticut. His first cause was what he called "taxation without representation."

Connecticut sponsored football in Division II and all other sports in Division I. Toner reacted to the fact that his vote counted in Division II only when the matter was a football only issue. If it was an all-sports issue that included football, he was limited to a vote in Division I.

"If Division I voted one way on a broad-based financial aid piece of legislation, for example, Division II or III could end up voting just the opposite," he said. "You could have a program at your own institution that is dealt a blow contrary to your persuasion without having a voice. Now I-A, I-AA and I-AAA members can vote not only on football-only issues in their respective categories, but also on the broader issues that affect all programs, including football."

Senate set for vote on gambling

A vote is scheduled June 2 in the U.S. Senate on the Professional and Amateur Sports Protection Act (S. 474), which would prohibit expansion of state-authorized sports-gambling schemes.

The bill, which has been cosponsored by more than 60 senators, would prohibit state and local governments from instituting new lotteries or other gambling schemes based upon the outcome of, or performances in, professional and amateur sporting events.

A similar bill was adopted by the U.S. House of Representatives last year as part of the omnibus crime bill, but, at least for the moment, that legislation is stalled in conference for reasons unrelated to the antisports-gambling measure.

The NCAA, along with the professional sports leagues, has been a

Certification subcommittee plans review of topics for self-study

A subcommittee of the NCAA Special Committee on Athletics Certification will reexamine which areas are to be considered when an institution conducts a self-study as part of the proposed certification procedure.

In the committee's February 17 report, seven areas were identified that every Division I institution would examine in a self-study to achieve certification, if the program is approved at the 1993 NCAA Convention.

However, at its May 6-7 meeting at the University of Nevada, the committee formed the subcommittee to create a document on the self-study segment of the process and charged that group with the responsibility of assuring that the certification process examines the proper areas.

A subcommittee also was formed to create a document on the certification program's general administrative procedures.

The group studying the self-study instrument was given two primary responsibilities: first, to make the self-study process as simple as possible and, second, to readdress the program's scope.

The seven areas listed in the committee's February 17 report were institutional mission, institutional control and presidential authority, fiscal integrity, academic integrity, conduct of student-athletes and athletics personnel, commitment to rules compliance, and student-athlete experience.

The subcommittee will solicit comment from the membership on whether those areas are the ones that should be examined or whether some of them could be combined or

Other highlights

In other actions at its May 6-7 meeting in Reno, Nevada, the Special Committee on Athletics Certification:

- Received a report on an experimental peer-review visit to the U.S. Military Academy.
- Reviewed and discussed the latest report of the Knight Foundation Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics.
- Discussed building a greater understanding of the certification process. As part of this effort, representatives of the committee will make presentations at the conventions of the College Football Association in late May and the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in June. Also, the committee discussed the possibility of another set of open hearings, possibly in mid-August after the proposal has been circulated.

deleted. Also, the subcommittee will consider how to address gender equity and minority issues. The NCAA Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee has recommended that minority concerns be explicitly examined in the certification process.

The self-study subcommittee also will consider whether the operating principles (see The NCAA News, February 19) need to be revised.

The subcommittee reviewing general administrative procedures will pay special attention to four areas:

- How the NCAA athletics certification program works with regional accrediting bodies. The Presidents Commission and the NCAA Council both want redundancies between the programs kept to a minimum. The Southern Association of Colleges and Universities recently strengthened the athletics portion of its procedures, and its NCAA Division I member institutions have expressed special concern about meeting requirements from two organizations.

- Composition and workload of the proposed Committee on Athletics Certification. The committee could be called upon to make as many as 60 certification decisions every year, which might be more than it could effectively handle.

- Treatment of pilot participants. The full committee requested comments from those institutions that participated in the pilot programs and referred the matter to the subcommittee examining general administrative procedures.

- Legal counsel's advice, especially on matters pertaining to appeals opportunities and hearing procedures.

Two other documents—a users' guide for institutions and conferences and a set of instructions for peer reviewers—will be written after the self-study and administrative projects are completed.

General committees

Olympic Sports Liaison: Nelson E. Townsend, State University of New York at Buffalo, appointed to replace Larry Ellis, Princeton University, resigned.

Student-Athlete Advisory: Chris Studer, student-athlete, Boston University, appointed to replace Margaret Smith, George Mason University, resigned from the committee. Studer's sport is wrestling.

Sports committees

Men's and Women's Golf: Vince Jarrett, Abilene Christian University, appointed to replace Joseph E. Carlson, University of California, Davis, resigned from the committee.

Men's and Women's Rifle: Terri Howes, University of Wyoming, appointed to replace John W. Kaiser, St. John's University (New York).

Men's and Women's Skiing: Sten Fjeldheim, Northern Michigan University, appointed to replace Margaret F. Strait, St. Lawrence University, when her term expires September 1, 1992.

Penn State commits to Blockbuster Bowl

Pennsylvania State University announced May 20 that its football team would play in the Blockbuster Bowl at the end of the 1992 season.

This is the second year in which institutions are free to accept a bowl invitation at any time. Penn State officials took advantage of the option because the institution was caught in a difficult situation brought about by its new Big Ten Conference membership and a bowl alliance that will begin this season.

The alliance includes four conferences, but not the Pacific-10 Conference or Big Ten, each of which sends its champion to the Rose Bowl.

Because bowl-alliance organizers considered Penn State a Big Ten member, it was not eligible to compete in the Mobil Cotton, Federal Express Orange, Fiesta or Sugar Bowls. However, because it is not eligible for the Big Ten championship until 1993, Penn State cannot compete in the Rose Bowl, either.

Penn State athletics director James I. Tarman acknowledged that accepting a bowl invitation in May was unique but "not inappropriate given circumstances that forced Penn State to assume an aggressive and accelerated posture toward the postseason."

In 1991, postseason football games attempted to police their agreed-upon invitation date with the threat of a fine for any bowl that got an early commitment from a potential participant.

The NCAA eliminated restrictions concerning bowl-game invitations at its 1991 Convention. In 1992, the only restriction is an NCAA rule stipulating that a team must win six games against Division I-A competition to qualify for a bowl.

NCAA Bylaws 13.12.3 and 14.8.6.1 Exceptions and waivers for state games

As set forth in Bylaw 14.8.6.1-(d), a student-athlete who wishes to participate in officially recognized state and national multisport events must be sure before such participation that the events in question are sanctioned by the NCAA Council. The Council's approval is necessary in order to waive the prohibition against outside competition set forth in Bylaw 14.8.2 (basketball) and, where applicable, to permit a coach and a student-athlete from the same institution to participate on the same team. In accordance with the provisions of Bylaw 14.8.6.1-(d), the following state games have received approval from the NCAA Administrative Committee (acting for the Council) to permit student-athletes with eligibility remaining to participate in all of the events' sports:

Alabama Sports Festival
Badger State Games (Wisconsin)
Bay State Games (Massachusetts)
Big Sky State Games (Montana)
Commonwealth Games of Virginia
Cornhusker State Games (Nebraska)
Cowboy State Games (Wyoming)
Empire State Games (New York)
Florida Sunshine State Games
Keystone State Games (Pennsylvania)
Maccabiah Games (Israel)
New Mexico State Games
North Carolina Amateur Sports Festival
Ohio Sports Festival State Games
Prairie Rose State Games (Minnesota and North Dakota)
Show-Me State Games (Missouri)
Southeast Regional Great Lakes State Games (Michigan)
Star of the North Summer Games (Minnesota)
State Games of North Carolina
State Games of Oregon
Sunflower State Games (Kansas)
Tennessee Sportsfest
Utah Summer Games
White River Park State Games (Indiana)

Further, the use of a member institution's facilities for state games and the participation of an institution's athletics department staff member(s) in such recognized regional or national training programs or competition would be considered an exception to the tryout legislation in accordance with the provisions of Bylaws 13.12.3.3 and 13.12.3.4; however, all other recruiting regulations would be applicable. Student-athletes with collegiate eligibility remaining who wish to participate in state-games competition not listed above should contact the institution with which they are affiliated or the applicable state-games organization to request that the organization submit the necessary waiver request to the NCAA legislative services staff.

Participation on outside teams during the summer All divisions

Member institutions should note that there is a limit on the number of student-athletes from the same institution who may participate (practice or compete) on an outside amateur team during the summer as follows: baseball—four (Division I only); basketball—one (in NCAA sanctioned summer league for Divisions I and II and no limit in Division III); cross country—two (Division I only); fencing—four (all divisions); field hockey—five (Division I only); football—one (all divisions); golf—two [Divisions I and III (women) only]; gymnastics—two (all divisions); ice hockey—no limits (all divisions); lacrosse—five (Division I only); rifle—two (all divisions); skiing—four (all divisions); soccer—six (Division I only); softball—four (Division I only); swimming and diving—five (Division I only); tennis—two (Division I only); track and field (indoor and outdoor)—seven (Division I only); volleyball—two [Divisions I and III (men) only]; water polo—four (all divisions), and wrestling—five (Division I only).

It should be noted that participation (practice or competition) on an outside team by student-athletes from the same institution that exceeds the above-mentioned limitations would constitute out-of-season practice.

In Divisions I and II, it is permissible for a coaching staff member in an individual sport to be involved with an outside team that includes student-athletes with remaining eligibility from that institution's team during the summer. Division III institutional staff members may be involved with student-athletes with remaining eligibility during the summer only in the following sports: fencing, women's golf, gymnastics, rifle and skiing. Such teams would continue to have limits (as specified above) on the number of student-athletes from any one institution who may participate on such teams without constituting out-of-season competition.

Noninstitutional/privately owned camps and clinics Division I

Division I member institutions should note that in accordance with Bylaw 13.13.2.3.2, a member institution's coaching staff members in the sports of football and basketball may not be employed by (either on a salaried or volunteer basis) or lecture at a noninstitutional (i.e., privately owned) football or basketball camp or clinic in which prospective student-athletes participate. Per Bylaw 13.13.4, in sports other than Division I football and basketball, an institution's athletics department personnel may be employed by or lecture at a noninstitutional/privately owned camp or clinic that includes prospective student-athletes under the following conditions: (1) No senior prospects are enrolled in or employed at the camp or clinic (Note: A senior prospect is any prospective student-athlete eligible for admission to a member institution or who has started classes for the senior year in high school), and (2) no high-school, preparatory school or two-year college athletics award winner is employed by the camp/clinic. A private/noninstitutional camp is any camp that does not meet the definition of an institution's sports camp or instructional clinic as set forth in Bylaw 13.13.1.1.

This material was provided by the NCAA legislative services staff as an aid to member institutions. If an institution has a question it would like to have answered in this column, the question should be directed to Nancy L. Mitchell, assistant executive director for legislative services, at the NCAA national office.

State due-process legislation

Nevada

The legislation: Requires national collegiate athletics associations to observe certain procedural standards in proceedings involving member institutions in Nevada; creates a cause of action if those standards are not observed.

Introduced: January 23, 1991.

Status: Signed by governor April 8, 1991; effective immediately. Federal judge currently considering an NCAA suit against the constitutionality of the law.

Minnesota

The legislation: Provides that all parties that may be subject to sanctions by a national collegiate athletics association must be given an opportunity for a hearing after reasonable notice; specifies notice and hearing procedures; requires impartial presiding officers; bars sanctions that do not meet minimum procedural standards.

Introduced: May 13, 1991.

Status: Never got out of Senate Committee on Education; died when 1992 session adjourned.

California

The legislation: Provides that a national collegiate athletics association must give all parties an opportunity for notice and a hearing in proceedings that may result in the imposition of a sanction; provides for judicial review of association decisions; prohibits a national collegiate athletics association from imposing sanctions unless it has complied with these standards.

Introduced: March 8, 1991.

Status: Died January 31, 1992, when Senate failed to meet deadline for passage.

Kansas

The legislation: Enacts the Athletic Association Procedures Act. It is directed to any athletics association that has its principal place of business located within the state of Kansas and whose function is the promotion, regulation and control of collegiate or high-school athletics. The act would apply not only to member institutions in the state of Kansas and elsewhere, but also to any student or employee of such institutions.

Introduced: February 13, 1991.

Status: Died in committee as an amended bill.

Florida

The legislation: Creates the Collegiate Athletic Association Compliance Enforcement Act; provides that hearings must be held before finding that association rules were violated; specifies hearing procedures; provides restrictions on penalties imposed by associations; provides for liability of associations.

Introduced: March 5, 1991.

Status: Signed by governor May 30, 1991; effective June 1, 1992. (Subsequently amended in the areas of notice, time period and location.)

Mississippi

The legislation: Creates the Collegiate Athletic Association Compliance Enforcement Procedures Act; provides that no penalty may be imposed by a collegiate athletics association on any institution of higher learning in Mississippi unless the penalty is based on findings made at a formal hearing; provides that individuals suspected of violating association rules shall have certain rights when they are interrogated by the association.

Introduced: January 21, 1992.

Status: Bill failed to meet the deadline for being voted out of committee on March 10, 1992.

Illinois

The legislation: Creates the Collegiate Athletic Association Compliance Enforcement Procedures Act; requires collegiate athletics associations to observe due process requirements; provides for judicial review of association enforcement actions.

Introduced: March 12, 1991.

Status: Signed by governor September 12, 1991.

Iowa

The legislation: Prohibits the enforcement of collegiate athletics association rules by institutions of higher education or other entities when the rules do not meet certain legal requirements; establishes a cause of action.

Introduced: March 11, 1991.

Status: House Committee on Judiciary and Law Enforcement recommended against passage. Died in committee in 1991.

Nebraska

The legislation: Adopts the Nebraska Collegiate Athletic Association Procedures Act; requires that an enforcement proceeding must comply with due process requirements of the Nebraska statutes and constitution; provides that violation of statute subjects athletics association to damages.

Introduced: January 10, 1990.

Status: Signed by governor February 28, 1990; effective immediately.

Rhode Island

The legislation: Provides that the NCAA must provide due process protections in all enforcement and eligibility proceedings that may result in the imposition of a penalty.

Introduced: February 13, 1992.

Status: On April 10, 1992, House Committee on Judiciary recommended passage as amended.

New York

The legislation: Provides that in a proceeding that may result in the imposition of a sanction by a national collegiate athletics association, parties shall be given an opportunity for a notice and hearing; provides for judicial review of association decisions; prohibits an association from imposing sanctions unless it has met these standards.

Introduced: May 21, 1991.

Status: Withdrawn from Senate Committee on Rules and sent to Senate Committee on Higher Education January 8, 1992.

S. Carolina

The legislation: Creates the Collegiate Athletic Association Procedures Act; specifies hearing procedures; provides restrictions on penalties imposed by associations; provides for liability of associations.

Introduced: March 19, 1991.

Status: To Senate Committee on Education May 7, 1991.

Pell Grants exceed budget by $1.4 billion

The nation's main college aid program is running about $1.4 billion over budget, but students who already have been told they will receive Pell Grants for the coming year need not worry, the U.S. Department of Education said.

"No one who has grants this year and who has received a commitment for next year will be affected," said department spokeswoman Etta Fielek.

But she warned that proposals to increase grant ceilings and make more students eligible by raising family income limits may have to be shelved.

The shortfall comes from an unanticipated increase of 300,000 students who qualified for and received Pell Grants this year, for a total of four million, Fielek said.

"Our goal is within the next very few days to work with the congressional committees to decide the best course," Fielek said. "We don't happen to have one now."

Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-Rhode Island, architect of the program and chair of the Senate Labor and Human Resources Subcommittee on Education, told The Associated Press he wants the problem resolved as soon as possible, possibly with a supplemental appropriation for the current fiscal year.

"If we do not find a way to cover the Pell Grant shortfalls, we run the risk of dismantling the hard-earned gains for the middle class that we have won."

Pell blamed the recession for the grant program's rapid growth.

Most of the increase has been among students attending public institutions that have increased tuitions to compensate for cutbacks from fiscally strapped state governments, he said.

In addition, Pell said, "Individuals are far more apt to enter school when they are having difficulty obtaining secure employment or when they have lost a job, situations that have become all too common in this recession."

Half of the Pell Grants go to people in families with incomes under $10,000, while the rest go to those with family incomes of $10,000 to $40,000. A few go to people with higher family incomes, but only in extraordinary circumstances.

Pell Grants now range from $200 to $2,400, with an average of about $1,440, Fielek said.

Traditional way not the only way for Division II

By Dennis Haglan
Catawba College

After serving for a number of years as an associate athletics director in Division I, where revenue production was a "prime mover," I became the athletics director at a nearby NCAA Division II college. I soon realized that revenue production was every bit as important at this level.

Although revenue is produced at the Division II level in much the same manner as Division I (short of the television dollars), the amounts are significantly lower, almost to the point of offering no comparison. With that single fact in mind, I have been searching for a rational justification for the significant scholarship expenditures in some of the sports at this level.

Quite frankly, there is no good reason to support the maximum scholarship levels currently in existence at the Division II level, unless these expenditures are directly offset by the "revenue" produced from the enrollment attained from the investment of these scholarships.

The term used most frequently on our campus to categorize this concept is "discount rate." In other words, athletics scholarships are used to enhance our enrollment figures, much like "discount coupons" are used to enhance sales in a retail business.

pons" are used to enhance sales in a retail business.

If one agrees that the revenue produced in the vast majority of Division II schools is of little consequence, particularly when compared with the significant outlay for athletics scholarships, and if one agrees that perhaps the single best justification for giving athletics scholarships in Division II is to drive enrollment, then it seems to follow that there should be an equitable distribution of these scholarships ("discount coupons") among the various sports.

Our institution currently supports 63 scholarships in 12 sports. Yet the distribution of these scholarships is, at best, based on tradition and geographical competitiveness. Under the circumstances described earlier, it doesn't make sense that a basketball player should receive, for all intents and purposes, a full scholarship, yet a soccer player should receive, on average, a fourth of a scholarship.

As a point of reference, the accompanying table shows the current distribution of the 63 scholarships at our institution, along with an evolutionary realignment of scholarships based on traditionally sized squads. In this scenario, each full scholarship serves to add five student-athletes to the institution's enrollment.

One additional assumption of using this five-to-one ratio is that a number of these student-athletes will have access to other institutional financial aid, based upon need and/or academics.

I realize that this type of thinking may serve as an irritant for the more financially successful Division II programs. I also realize that there may be disagreement on what a traditional size is for each sport as well as what the enrollment production should be for each scholarship.

However, I think that the Division II schools producing significant amounts of revenue in certain sports are few and far between. Consequently, I am proposing that those of us not in this elite category who want to remain in Division II and who want to maintain parity in scholarship distribution should seriously consider justifying our scholarship distribution with a sense of equity among our sports programs.

Opinions

Holding news of injuries may aid the wrong people

John Mackovic, head football coach
University of Texas at Austin
USA Today

"I am concerned about illegal gambling on college football, and not reporting injuries gives gamblers a tremendous advantage because they have ways of accumulating information. That type of information should never be suppressed."

Gerald Coyne, assistant
Rhode Island attorney general's office
New York Times

"The extent of gambling that we've seen at (the University of Rhode Island and Bryant College) is staggering. We've seen individual cases where the amount of gambling debts matches the tuition."

"The reason we are taking this so seriously is because of the evidence of collection practices we've seen: the assaults and threats of assault used to recover the debts. You hate to see a student go off to college, usually because of the hard work of the parents, and get involved in betting."

"Then they have to go back to their parents to have them pay hundreds or, in some cases, several thousand dollars in gambling debts. That has more serious implications than a student who experiments with marijuana."

Gregory M. St. L. O'Brien
Chair, NCAA Presidents Commission
New York Times

"Quite frankly, (gambling) is something presidents have not had on our agenda in the past, simply because you can't address a problem when you don't know you have one. We've been so concerned with drugs, alcohol and public safety, that we really haven't paid much attention to gambling. But we see it's something that is coming."

David H. Bennett, faculty athletics representative
Syracuse University
CFA Sidelines

"While no one can say with certainty why the graduation rate has increased significantly in the past few years, the most plausible explanation is that Proposition 48 has had a beneficial effect on the preparation of student-athletes for college work and has screened out the weakest and least motivated individuals."

"With the implementation of even stronger academic standards adopted by the 1992 NCAA Convention, we can expect further improvement in graduation rates. Of course, the publication of graduation-rate data mandated now by the NCAA and encouraged by Congress also will play a role in concentrating the efforts of member institutions in this regard."

Skepticism greets ABC pay plan

A sampler of opinions on ABC's plan to make regional college football game telecasts available on a pay-per-view basis to viewers who want to see a game other than the one being carried in their region:

Ed Fowler, columnist
Houston Chronicle

"Nye Lavallo of Dallas-based Sports Marketing Group has a strong record of forecasting industry trends, especially with regard to pay per view. He predicted last year PPV programming of this summer's Barcelona Olympics would be a 'complete disaster,' a vision that appears to be coming true."

"Regional college football, he says, 'is the best use of pay per view yet.' He calls it a 'very viable option, how pay per view should be used.'"

"The reasons it won't snowball and run amok in other areas, he says, are that a popular insurrection with the print media in the fore would result and Congress would jump into the fray with both feet...."

"What we're seeing now, says Lavallo, is an age of experimentation. 'In the next four years, there'll be a dramatic turnaround in TV rights fees for sports,' Lavallo says. 'The gravy train is over. They're fishing now, scrambling to find ways to hold the line, or not lose 35 to 50 percent.'"

"ABC is contemplating an ESPN 2 network with PPV capability built in, while leagues are looking at options beyond their traditional deals with the networks. The new college football arrangement, billed as a one-year trial, is a manifestation of the new attitudes."

(What about the possibility of ABC telecasting a popular game over the air to a small segment of the country and thereby forcing the rest of the viewers to purchase the game?)

"That's the one negative I caution," says Lavallo. Scheduling is a sensitive issue."

"Overall, we are reassured by his assessment, and we're not to the point of searching for pay-per-view infiltrators under the bed just yet. This situation, however, bears watching."

Marc Hansen, columnist
Des Moines Register

"...Any pay per view is bad pay per view. It sets a dangerous precedent. It opens a Pandora's box of expensive sports programming. Once they start charging to watch a particular sporting event, they'll never stop."

Barry Horn, columnist
The Dallas Morning News

"ABC is estimating that up to 40,000 viewers per week will buy the pay-per-view system."

"Now, 40,000 is not a lot of people. Certainly not enough to make anyone rich on the deal."

"But it is just about the right number to experiment with, to make sure the equipment works, to plant a seed."

"The television industry will be closely watching the great college football experiment of '92, which is what this public service is really all about."

"If the equipment works, the National Football League, which can expect to take a television hit when its contract expires after the 1993 season, could be next in line...."

"After football, college basketball and the National Basketball Association will fall in line. Baseball, where the rights fees are more spread out, eventually will fall in line."

"And as you become more accustomed to paying to watch playing, you may someday find yourself paying to watch the home team as well."

"And maybe someday in the 21st century, you'll be reading about a new network experiment—sports on free television."

Less than one percent fail drug test

Only 0.3 percent of the 6,119 student-athletes examined in the NCAA's fall 1991 drug-testing programs were ruled ineligible after failing to pass a urinalysis, continuing a trend of lower failure rates since the program was implemented in 1986.

The fall 1991 total shows that 18 student-athletes tested positive for banned substances. Of those 18, 14 were detected during the year-round testing administered to Division I football players. Three other positive tests in Division I football were detected during prebowl examinations on campus. Eight football players did not take the test when requested, which resulted in a loss of eligibility.

Six of those who failed tested positive for anabolic steroids (nandrolone, stanozolol and testosterone/epitestosterone ratio greater than 6 to 1).

The remaining positive test occurred in Division II men's soccer (for marijuana).

All tests were negative in Division III field hockey, Division I men's soccer, Division II men's and women's cross country, Divisions II and III football, and men's water polo. Also, all 96 Division I-AA football athletes tested at the championship passed.

In the program's first year in 1986, 1.3 percent failed the test. Last year, the failure rate was 0.4.

The failure rate from the year-round testing program in Division I football also was down, falling from 0.5 percent (24 of 4,383) to 0.3 percent (14 of 4,743).

A total of 14 student-athletes (0.3 percent) tested positive but regained their eligibility when medical justification was documented, when an appeal was granted or until the results of a follow-up examination were provided.

Frank D. Uryasz, director of sports sciences, said the Association does not attempt to interpret the results of the drug-testing program and that the results of the testing do not necessarily indicate that only 0.3 percent of student-athletes are using drugs.

Uryasz said the "Replication of the National Study of the Substance Use and Abuse Habits of College Student-Athletes" probably provides a more accurate portrayal of drug use by student-athletes. In that study, a sample of student-athletes is asked to self-report drug use on an anonymous basis. The first version of that study was released in 1986, and Uryasz said a second replication is expected next year.

Athletes failing the test are ineligible for competition for at least one year after testing positive.

Championships previews

Arizona's Manny Zerman is eyeing an individual championship, but he'll likely have to overcome Arizona State's two-time champion Phil Mickelson to win it

Division I men's golf

Arizona rivals prepare to duel for team championship

Event: 1992 Division I Men's Golf Championships.

Overview: The championship trophy most likely will take up residence in Arizona; the question is whether it will be in Tempe or Tucson. Arizona State, behind two-time individual champion Phil Mickelson, is ranked No. 1 and Arizona, behind Mickelson's high-school teammate, Manny Zerman, is No. 2. Arizona State won its first championship two years ago before falling to third last year. Georgia Tech is ranked third.

Field: A total of 156 golfers representing six districts will compete for the team and individual championships.

Dates and sites: The championships will be June 3-6 at the University of New Mexico South Golf Course in Albuquerque.

Results: Championships results will appear June 10 in The NCAA News.

Championships notes: Mickelson's fourth-place finish last year prevented him from becoming the second golfer to win three straight individual championships. But he still can match Texas' Ben Crenshaw (1971-72-73) as the only three-time winner....David Duval of Georgia Tech, who finished second to Warren Schutte of Nevada-Las Vegas last year, nearly won a PGA tour event in May. Duval led the Atlanta Classic after three rounds. He faltered on the final day, finishing at four under par....Yale leads Division I programs with 21 team championships, although the last came in 1943. Houston has won 16, the last in 1986....Yale also leads in individual champions with 13. Tom Aycock was the last in 1929.

What they are saying

Steve Loy, head coach

Arizona State

Currently ranked No. 1

"We feel like we're one of the teams to beat. We've had as good a year as we've ever had. But obviously the most important is yet to be played. For any team to win, it must have excellent individual play with a player in position to win an individual championship; they have to play consistently. And they have to be lucky.

"I think Phil (Mickelson) is the best amateur in the country at the present time. For us to do well, he'll have to play well. I won't put that kind of pressure (saying Mickelson is the heavy favorite) on anybody, but he's my guy."

Rick LaRose, head coach

Arizona

Currently ranked No. 2

"It seems that both Arizona schools have had real good years the last few years. Being intrastate rivals, it makes for interesting competition. Obviously, we have a great deal of respect for them.

"But it isn't fair just to focus on those two. There are a handful of teams that have a chance to win. Manny Zerman should be a first-team all-American this year. He has been playing very well. He's a solid and consistent player."

Division I men's outdoor track

Four teams considered top favorites

Event: 1992 Division I Men's Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

Overview: Five points separate the top four teams in the projected finishes for this meet. Clemson, behind the sprints and hurdles, would win with 48 points based on performances so far this season. UTEP and Washington State follow with 45 points, each and Arkansas shows 43. Defending champion Tennessee, with the top two decathletes and the top 800-meter runner, is projected in eighth place.

Field: The NCAA Executive Committee has approved a qualifying procedure that allows for a maximum field of 388 athletes.

Dates and sites: The championships will be June 3-6 at Texas.

Results: Championships results will appear June 10 in The NCAA News.

Championships notes: Southern California has won the most championships with 26. The last Trojan victory was in 1976....Baylor has a five-championship (three indoors and two outdoors) winning streak in the 1,600-meter relay....Kamy Keshmiri of Nevada is the only individual who has a chance to win a third straight championship.

What they are saying

Bob Pollock, head coach
Clemson

Currently ranked No. 1

"We've got several individuals who will be key. The top two are probably James Trapp and Michael Green (both are sprinters). Both will run in the 400-meter relay. We probably will split them up in the 100 and 200. With the number of heats they have to run in, it isn't fair to ask them to do both. With the U.S. Olympic Trials two weeks later, we also want to give James a chance to make the Olympic team. (Green is Jamaican.)"

John Chaplin, head coach
Washington State

Currently ranked No. 2 (tie)

"One of these days we're likely to win because everybody that has been a track and field power in the last two decades has beaten us. We have finished second eight times in NCAA competition.

"Is this the year? Probably not. We're ranked higher than we should be. Clemson and Southern California have their points in the sprints. I can tell you for sure that hurdlers sometimes don't finish. But they could run away with it. I believe we'll be a top-five finisher."

Samuel Kibiri (No. 278) and his Washington State teammates are hoping to better last year's second-place finish

Louisiana State is going for its sixth straight outdoor title

Division I women's outdoor track

Showdown could come in last race

Event: 1992 Division I Women's Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

Overview: Two teams, one race: That is the likely scenario as the championships feature a battle between five-time defending champion Louisiana State and 1992 indoor champion Florida. Louisiana State appears to have about a 10-point lead on the Gators—based on projected points from performances this season—heading into the 1,600-meter relay, the final event of the meet. Florida has the fastest qualifying time in the event, but Louisiana State has the fifth best. Those four points would be enough to give the Tigers their sixth title in a row.

Field: The NCAA Executive Committee has approved a qualifying procedure that allows for a maximum field of 280 athletes.

Dates and sites: The championships will be June 3-6 at Texas.

Results: Championships results will appear June 10 in The NCAA News.

Championships notes: The only team other than Louisiana State to win more than one team title is UCLA (two). UCLA also has finished second three times.

What they are saying

Pat Henry, head coach
Louisiana State

Five-time defending champions

"I don't think (Florida winning) the Southeastern Conference was a fluke. I give a lot of credit to Bev (Kearney) and the University of Florida. They are the champions, no doubt about it. I think from a motivational standpoint, we are in a position where we have nothing to lose."

Beverly Kearney, head coach

Florida

1992 Southeastern Conference champions

"Louisiana State will come back motivated, and we will go in motivated. We know that neither will quit.

"I don't know if we will win the nationals. The key for both teams will be in the sprint areas. The hurdles, the 100 and the 200 will be the swaying point. Michelle Freeman is the fastest qualifier in the 100-meter hurdles and the 200-meter dash and the second or third fastest in the 100-meter dash."

'Out of the infield' becomes 'out of park'; UCLA champs

Freshman Jennifer Brewster's home run broke a scoreless tie in the bottom of the seventh inning as UCLA defeated defending champion Arizona, 2-0, to win the Women's College World Series May 25 in Oklahoma City.

Left fielder Yvonne Gutierrez led off the inning with a single and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Jennifer Brundage. Brewster then connected on her third home run of the year and only her third hit in 16 at-bats during the tournament.

"It feels great," Brewster said. "I just wanted to hit the ball out of the infield. I had been making contact in the tourney but felt sooner or later, I'd get there. It's a great feeling. We've worked hard all season. I was so glad I could contribute. It was time for a hit."

UCLA pitcher Lisa Fernandez scattered four hits over seven innings. She struck out six and walked just one, chalking up her fourth victory in the series and her 29th win of the season.

Three of Arizona's hits were by first baseman Amy Chellevoid. The Wildcats were caught stealing three times by Bruin catcher Kelly Inouye. Debby Day took the loss for Arizona. She allowed six hits and two earned runs, walked one, and struck out one in 6 1/3 innings.

"It's always a thrill and a relief once it's all over," UCLA coach Sharron Backus said. "Arizona was a tough and very stubborn team to get by, but my team performed well, and now they're reaping the reward."

"You have to give Arizona credit for the way they came out and took it to us, because for a while there, it looked like it might go extra innings. But this whole week my team has been on fire, and I was just waiting for the bats to heat up again. I just didn't realize it would be in such dramatic fashion."

Arizona coach Mike Candrea had nothing but praise for Fernandez.

"We were in the game all the way. Any time you hang in there with UCLA late in the game, especially as hot as they've been, you have a chance to win it," Candrea said. "Fernandez is the type of pitcher where you have to take immediate advantage of any opportunities that she might give you because, as far as I'm concerned, she's the best in the game."

UCLA never lost in the tournament, defeating Massachusetts (4-0), California (10-0), Fresno State (4-0) and Massachusetts (11-1). The Bruins finished with a 54-2 record. Arizona ended the year at 58-7. The Wildcats advanced to the championship game through the losers' bracket. After losing to Long Beach State, 1-0, Arizona defeated Kansas (1-0 in 17 innings), California (2-1) and Fresno State (1-0).

It was UCLA's seventh Division I Women's Softball Championship title in the tournament's 11-year history.

Members of the all-tournament team were Fernandez, pitcher, UCLA; Gutierrez, outfielder, UCLA; Inouye, catcher, UCLA; Kathi Evans, outfielder, UCLA; Chellevoid, first base, Arizona; Michelle Bento, second base, Fresno State; Kim Maher, shortstop, Fresno State; Susie Duarte, third base, Arizona; Susie Parra, at large, Arizona; Holly Aprile, at large, Massachusetts, and Debby Day, at large, Arizona.

UCLA celebrates its seventh Division I Women's Softball Championship title

Consistency is par in Methodist's third straight title

Methodist captured its third straight Division III men's golf team championship by turning in consistent rounds of 300, 301, 302 and 297 and finishing with a score of 1,200, 13 strokes better than Gustavus Adolphus.

Gustavus Adolphus was runner-up for the third consecutive year, while UC San Diego finished third at 1,217 and Wooster, playing May 19-22 on its home course, finished fourth at 1,218 after shooting an even-par 288 on the final round.

Jon Lindquist of Gustavus Adolphus, an all-American in each of his first three years, capped his career with an individual championship by firing a tournament-record five-under-par 283, including a tournament-record six-under-par 66 on the final round. The old records were five-under-par 66 by Greg Perry of Rochester in 1986 and a four-round total of two-under-par 286 by Mike Bender of Cal State Stanislaus in 1980.

Methodist did not lead the tournament until the conclusion of the third round. Gustavus Adolphus held a one-stroke lead after the first round. The Gusties were replaced on the leader board by Salem State after two rounds. Methodist's 302 in the third day opened up a six-stroke lead on Salem State, which shot 314. Salem State closed with a 319 to finish in a tie for eighth place.

TEAM RESULTS

1. Methodist, 300-301-302-297 1,200; 2. Gust. Adolphus, 299-303-316-295 1,213; 3. UC San Diego, 306-298-310-303—1,217; 4. Wooster, 308-307-315-288—1,218; 5. (tie) Allegheny, 312-307-307-297 1,223; and Ramapo, 304-306-310-303—1,223; 7. Binghamton, 317-304-299—8. (tie) Salem St., 301-294-314-319—1,228; and Rochester, 307-309-305-307—1,228; 10. Skidmore, 313-302-307-308—1,230.

11. Guilford, 319-304-316-302 1,241; 12. DePauw, 315-318-308-306 1,247; 13. (tie) Carthage, 308-311-308-327—1,254; and Greensboro, 314-318-310-312—1,254; 15. Wittenberg, 310-315-313-319—1,257; 16. Wade McGuire of host Georgia bowed to Stanford's Alex O'Brien in the singles championship

Stanford adds fifth team title of 1992, now in men's tennis

Stanford won its fifth team championship of 1992 with its victory May 19 in the Division I Men's Tennis Championships at Georgia.

With its 5-0 victory over Notre Dame, the Cardinal won its 12th men's tennis team title and its fourth championship in the last five years.

Stanford also tied an NCAA record by claiming its fifth team title in an academic year. Within the past three months, the Cardinal also has won titles in women's basketball, men's and women's swimming, and men's gymnastics.

In addition, Stanford senior Alex O'Brien won the singles crown and teamed with Chris Cocotos to claim the doubles title, giving the Cardinal a sweep of the championships titles. The sweep was the first under the current team-tournament format that was established in 1977 and also the first since Stanford won its second team title and swept the individual crowns in 1974.

"I can't give our guys enough credit," Cardinal coach Dick Gould said. "They're a classy bunch of kids. They've come a long way since we started this season last fall. I though we might be, at best, a second-five team so, to have played this well all week, to reach the big party, so to speak, has been very rewarding."

Against the Irish, the Cardinal jumped to a quick 3-0 lead as Michael Flanagan, Vimal Patel and Jason Yee each recorded two-set triumphs at Nos. 2, 5 and 6 singles, respectively.

Cocotos placed the Cardinal within one victory of the title by defeating Chuck Coleman, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1, at No. 3 singles. O'Brien then clinched the title at No. 1 singles with a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 triumph over David DiLucia.

Stanford, the No. 2 seed, finished the season with a 25-3 mark. Notre Dame, which reached the final by defeating Mississippi State, host and No. 3 seed Georgia and defending champion and No. 1 seed Southern California, closed out at 23-4.

The No. 10-seeded Irish appeared in their first final and were the lowest seeded team ever to advance to the final.

"Stanford certainly played well," said Notre Dame coach Bob Bayliss. "They stay within themselves. They know their strengths and their limits. They develop a game plan and stick to it."

"They've been here (the final) often. This is something they're used to doing, and I think it showed."

It also showed in the individual competition as O'Brien became the first player since Stanford's John Whitlinger in 1974 to win both the singles and doubles crowns.

As the tournament's third seed, O'Brien was forced to three sets in only one of six singles matches. He defeated hometown favorite Wade McGuire of Georgia, 6-3, 6-2, to win the singles crown.

O'Brien and Cocotos completed the titles sweep in an all-Stanford doubles final.

Competing against Yee and Patel, O'Brien and Cocotos gave the Cardinal its 11th doubles title, posting a 7-6 (4), 6-4 victory. The doubles crown was the first for Stanford since 1974, when Whitlinger and Jim Delaney claimed the crown. It was the first time since UCLA in 1988 that two teams from the same school faced each other in the final.

"It's awesome. I never thought that I could do it (win the triple crown)," O'Brien said. "People told me during the year that this was going to be my year. I just took it one match at a time. I know that's a cliché, but that's what I did."

True to form, Florida secures tennis crown

Based solely on numbers, the 1992 Division I women's tennis team title was Florida's to win.

Undefeated in 1992 and ranked No. 1 in Division I, Florida was the clear-cut championships favorite.

The Lady Gators did not disappoint.

Paced by freshman Lisa Raymond and veterans Holly Lloyd and Kristin Osmond, Florida captured its first team title, defeating Texas, 5-3, in the final May 17 at Stanford.

In accomplishing the feat, Florida ended Stanford's six-year title reign and became only the third team in the championships' 11-year history to win a team title. Stanford with eight titles and Southern California with two are the only other schools to win.

The title was also vindication for Florida, which also entered last year's championships undefeated and ranked No. 1 only to lose in the semifinals.

"It's so nice to get that monkey off our back," said Florida coach Andy Brandi. "The last six years we've lost in either the finals or semifinals. When that happens, you start to question your ability and ask if you're good enough to achieve what this bunch has."

Florida, which dropped only one singles pairing in winning its first three championship matches, broke a 2-2 tie in the final against the Longhorns when Kristin Osmond rebounded from a one-set deficit at No. 5 singles and defeated Carla Cossa in a third-set tiebreaker.

"I knew my match was the difference between leading 4-2 and being tied, 3-3," said Osmond. "When (Cossa) had those two match points, I was nervous. But once I got those two, I knew I could do it... after that I thought 'It's my turn now.'"

Jill Brenner made it 4-2, Florida, with a 6-0, 7-5 victory over Ashley Johnson at No. 6 singles, then the

Doubles champions Mamie Ceniza (right) and Iwalani McCalla of UCLA celebrate their victory

Lady Gators clinched the title when Kuttler and Osmond combined for a 6-1, 6-3 triumph at No. 3 doubles.

"It's just the most exciting, one-in-a-million feeling," said Osmond. "I just feel so many emotions, it's just unbelievable. It's the greatest feeling ever."

Raymond, the No. 2 singles seed, gave Florida its second title of the championships by upending No. 1 seed Shannan McCarthy of Georgia, 6-3, 6-3, in the singles final. By snapping Stanford's three-year victory streak in the singles competition, Raymond became only the second Florida player to win a singles crown—Shaun Stafford won the 1988 singles title—and only the second non-Stanford player to win the title in the past eight years.

Raymond's path to the title also included victories over Paloma Collantes of Mississippi, the No. 6 seed, and Heather Willens of Stanford, the No. 7 seed. In each of her six triumphs, Raymond needed only two sets to advance.

In the doubles final, Mamie Ceniza and Iwalani McCalla moved UCLA into a tie with Stanford for most doubles titles as they combined to defeat Susan Gilchrist and Vickie Paynter of Texas, the No. 1 doubles tandem, 6-4, 6-4, in the final.

Ceniza and McCalla, ranked No. 2, were pushed to three sets only once in five matches. They became the first UCLA duo to win the doubles title since Allyson Cooper and Stella Sampras in 1988.

Princeton topples power-packed field, wins lacrosse crown

If, before the first face-off of the semifinals, one were to play a game of "one of these things is not like the other" with the Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship field, anyone with even a passing interest in the sport would have picked Princeton as the oddball.

The cast that also included traditional powers Syracuse, North Carolina and Johns Hopkins; those three schools had won 15 of the 21 Division I championships, including every one since 1978. Princeton, on the other hand, didn't even get its first invitation to the tournament until 1990, Bill Tierney's third year as coach. Two years before that, Tierney's team had gone 2-13.

But Princeton's 10-9 overtime victory over top-seeded Syracuse in this year's championship game at Pennsylvania May 25 reversed that record to 13-2. Now the Tigers, after winning their first title, most certainly belong.

"My first year here...our kids would fear close games, but this year's team...I would look in their eyes and see people who wanted to go out and play when it counted," Tierney said. "Two and 13 to 13 and 2 sounds pretty good to me."

Much as they had in the 16-14 semifinal win over defending champion North Carolina two days earlier, the Tigers built a large early lead in the final.

Against the Orange, whose previous low score of the season was 13, Princeton used its deliberate offense and stingy defense to carve a 6-0 lead with 6:39 left in the first half. The first and the sixth goals came from the stick of Andy Moe.

But Syracuse, champions in three of the last four years and a 21-16 semifinal winner over Johns Hopkins, was far from dead.

"We were in a similar situation against Cornell this year (a 15-10 victory)," said Orange coach Roy Simmons. "I told them we couldn't panic and we'd get back in it."

They didn't and they did.

Syracuse, which entered the game 13-1 and averaging 16.6 goals per contest, scored twice before half time to cut the lead to 7-2. Still, Tierney must have liked his position.

"Like the North Carolina game, if you had told me we would be ahead 7-2, I'd tell you you're crazy," he said.

"Our kids played a perfect first half and you can look at that two ways. One is 'can we play another perfect half?' and the answer is probably not. But another way is that it shows you we can play with them, and that carried us through at the end."

Syracuse surrendered another Princeton goal to go down, 8-2, before running off six unanswered goals to tie the game.

By the end of the third quarter, Princeton's lead had shrunk to 8-4. When Syracuse's Tom Gilmartin fed Dom Fin for a goal with 8:24 left in the fourth quarter, the Princeton lead had vanished and the teams were even with eight goals apiece.

The Tigers, who hadn't scored in 17½ minutes, reclaimed the lead with 2:37 left in regulation on an unassisted goal from Greg Waller, but Syracuse's Tom Marechek scored his second goal of the day with 42 seconds left in regulation to force the sudden-death overtime period.

Twice this season the Tigers had been taken to overtime, and they won both times. This time was no different.

"Thank God we had the ability and poise of these fine young men," Tierney said. "We never profess to be the most talented team, but I've never met a bunch with more heart or desire. In the huddle before the first overtime, nobody doubted we would win."

The first four-minute period ended without a score, but Moe, the man who started the day's scoring, finished it nine seconds into the second overtime with an unassisted goal.

Kalamazoo performs an encore in claiming Division III tennis title

If Kalamazoo men's tennis coach George Acker experienced déjà vu at this year's Division III Men's Tennis Championships, it would be understandable.

A year after guiding the Hornets to the Division III team title and watching as Lew Miller, the squad's top singles player, won the individual singles crown, Acker witnessed a repeat of those feats May 14-21 at Emory.

Kalamazoo, the No. 1 seed, rolled past UC Santa Cruz, 5-1, May 17 in the team final and won its championships-record sixth title. It was the second consecutive year Kalamazoo defeated UC Santa Cruz for the team championship and marked only the third time in the tournament's 17-year history (and second time for Kalamazoo) that a team won two consecutive titles.

"This is a satisfying championship," Acker said. "It's awfully hard to repeat. But I never thought about it."

"All season long we talked about 'The Road to Emory.' Our goal was to get to the nationals and make it to the final four (teams)."

As hard as winning two straight titles may have been, Kalamazoo made it look easy, especially in the final.

Led by Miller and the senior trio of John Ray-Keil, Nathan Eddy and James Osowski, Kalamazoo won the first five matches to clinch the title. Miller opened the match with a 6-4, 6-2 victory over Dave Muldawer at No. 1 singles, and Ray-Keil, Eddy, Osowski and Seth Denawetz followed suit, registering triumphs at Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 singles, respectively. Each of the victories, with the exception of Ray-Keil's, were two-set triumphs.

In all, the Hornets won 16 of 19 tournament matches and were forced into doubles play only once. Ironically, the doubles match against Claremont-Mudd-Scripps, which was completed before one of the singles matches, was not necessary.

"This was the healthiest we've been all year," Acker said. "That was a big key, staying injury free."

"I'm most happy that the three seniors (Ray-Keil, Eddy and Osowski) played the best tennis of their careers."

In individual competition, Miller, the No. 1 singles seed, posted six triumphs, capped by a 6-3, 6-7 (4), 6-1 victory over No. 2 seed Ryan Skanse of Gustavus Adolphus in the final. Miller became the first player in Division III history to win back-to-back singles titles and only the second to win two crowns. Toby Clark of Principia won the singles crown in 1985 and 1987.

"I feel fortunate to have won," Miller said. "Ryan played a great match. I have a lot of respect for him."

Miller's title run included victories over Andy Paley of St. Thomas (Minnesota), the No. 5 seed, in the quarterfinals, and Ryan McKee of Claremont-Mudd-Scripps, the No.

4 seed, in semifinal play.

McKee gained some revenge in the doubles championship as he teamed with Chris Noyes to defeat Miller and Ray-Keil, the No. 2 doubles seed, in the final, 6-2, 6-4, and prevent a Kalamazoo titles sweep.

Nazareth ends Hobart's reign over III lacrosse

For the first time since the tournament began in 1980, there is a new champion in Division III men's lacrosse.

Nazareth (New York), which a week earlier had halted Hobart's 12-year reign with a 13-12 sudden-death victory, took the final step to its first title with a 22-11 win over Roanoke May 24 in front of a Division III championship-record crowd of 6,741 at Pennsylvania.

In the final, the Golden Flyers opened up a 5-2 lead in the first quarter, with three of the goals coming from Ronnie Davis, who finished with six. Nazareth extended its lead to 8-4 at half time, then maintained a 14-9 lead after a nearly even third quarter.

Nazareth, which finished the season with a 14-1 record, blew the game open in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Maroons, 8-2. But despite the seemingly comfortable winning margin, Flyer coach Scott Nelson said he didn't feel as though he had the victory until late in the game.

"I never felt in control until the water hit me late in the fourth quarter," he said following a celebratory soaking from his team. "We were very, very worried. I felt it was over when the score was 19-11. They had played a lot of defense up until that point, and they looked tired."

In addition to Davis, Nazareth's multiple scorers were Cam Bomberry with four goals, Jerry Caldwell with three, and Marty Kelly, Dan Coughlin and Jim Cornicelli with two apiece.

Nelson, whose team had nipped Roanoke, 13-12, in the regular season, said he stressed a building philosophy all year.

"We talked to the team about not peaking too early, and I definitely thought we didn't peak until today," he said.

Maybe, but no one would argue that the win over Hobart May 16 was at least as climactic, something that potentially posed problems for Nazareth going into the championship game.

"That (win) meant everything we've been working for the past six years," Nelson said. "We tried to defuse it as much as possible. We wanted to enjoy it for 24 hours and focus on the Roanoke game."

Against Hobart, Nazareth built an 8-1 first-half lead before the Statesmen, who were playing in front of an overflow home crowd of 7,286 at 4,500-capacity Boswell Field, cut the lead to 8-3 at half time. By the end of the third quarter, the lead had shrunk to 9-6.

The Golden Flyers' advantage was down to 11-10 with four minutes left in the fourth quarter, but Nazareth's Chris March fed Kelly for his third goal of the day to give the Golden Flyers a two-goal lead with 2½ minutes left.

Hobart, which had rallied from a 16-13 deficit against Nazareth in last year's semifinal to win, 19-17, and had scored a come-from-behind win over the Golden Flyers earlier in the season, wasn't finished.

The Statesmen's Bobby Wynne scored with 34 seconds left to bring Hobart within one goal. Nazareth gained control after the score and seemingly had the game won, but turned the ball over on an offside call, setting up a game-tying goal from Wynne with three seconds left in regulation.

Wynne's goal guaranteed that the final score would be 13-12, the same count by which Hobart had beaten Nazareth April 15 on the same field.

The Golden Flyers' Brian Silcott won the face-off to begin the sudden-death period, then passed to Davis, who relayed the ball to Kelly. Kelly slipped and lost control of the ball, then retrieved it and ended Hobart's domination and Nazareth's frustration with his fifth goal of the game.

Brian Silcott of Nazareth (New York) chases the ball in the Golden Flyers' championship victory over Roanoke. A week earlier against Hobart, Silcott won a crucial face-off.

"This was a victory for the entire Nazareth lacrosse program," Nelson said. "We felt for a long time that we would be the team to beat them."

While Nazareth was ending the longest dynasty in the history of NCAA team sports, Roanoke, which finished the season at 12-5, advanced to the second championship game in its history with a 20-10 semifinal victory over Ithaca. Brad Hennegan and Colin McGahren had four goals each.

Columbus men cruise to Division II golf championship

Columbus shot a 15-under-par 273 in the final round to pull away from the pack by 32 strokes and win its fourth Division II men's team golf championship.

The Cougars finished the tournament eight strokes under par at 1,144, smashing the previous team record of one under par by Lamar in 1968. Wofford hosted the tournament May 19-22.

Diego Ventureira of Columbus shot a 66 in the final round to claim individual honors with a three-under-par 285, one stroke better than Rodney Butcher of Florida Southern and two strokes better than Jeev Singh of Abilene Christian and Martin Lonardi of Columbus. But Ventureira's round was not the best of the final day. That honor belonged to Lonardi, who set a tournament record with an eight-under-par 64, besting the six-under-par 65 shot by Columbus' Thomas Brannen in 1978. The 64 also was a course record at the Carolina Country Club in Spartanburg, South Carolina, site of the tournament.

Five golfers broke 70 on the final day and 12 broke par (72). Three of Columbus' golfers shot 70 or better. All five of the Cougars' golfers finished in the top 22.

It was the second year in a row that a Columbus golfer won the tournament. Last year, Clete Cole was the only golfer to finish under par when he shot a one-under-par 287, two strokes better than Florida Southern's Butcher. The Cougars' five individual championships leads the division by two, and the four team championships trail division leader Florida Southern's six.

Ninth inning heroics bag first title for William Paterson

A dramatic three-run home run by first baseman Ralph Perdomo in the top of the ninth inning lifted William Paterson to a 3-1 victory over Cal Lutheran and its first Division III Baseball Championship title May 26 in Battle Creek, Michigan.

Cal Lutheran starting pitcher Pat Norville allowed only two hits entering the ninth inning, but the Pioneers started the rally when center fielder John DiGirolamo was hit by a pitch. One out later, DiGirolamo stole second base and advanced to third after a wild pick-off attempt. Keith Eaddy then walked ahead of Perdomo, who blasted a 2-0 pitch from relief pitcher Mike Teron over the 375-foot sign in right-center field.

Perdomo, who hit .471 during the championship round, was named the tournament's most outstanding player.

The Pioneers' Scott Farber allowed six hits and one earned run and struck out nine in the complete-game effort. It was his eighth win of the season and the first at the championship finals.

William Paterson advanced to the championship game through bracket play with a victory over Marietta (8-6) and two victories over Ithaca (4-3 and 8-4). William Paterson ended the season with a 36-7 record.

Shortstop Dan Smith and third baseman Jim Fifer had two hits each for Cal Lutheran, which was competing in the championship in its first year of Division III competition. The Kingsmen finished the season with a 43-6 record.

Joining Perdomo on the all-tournament team were pitchers Steve Dempsey of Cal Lutheran and William Paterson's Farber; Brian Detwiler, catcher, William Paterson; Chad Kolb, second base, Ithaca; Cal Lutheran's Smith, shortstop; Paul Pedone, third base, Ithaca; outfielder Eaddy, William Paterson; Joe Myrtle, outfielder, Methodist; Bob Farber, outfielder, Cal Lutheran, and Dean DiGrazio, designated hitter, William Paterson.

Eligibility appeals

In cases involving prospective student-athletes, current NCAA policy allows the NCAA Eligibility Committee either to restore the involved prospect with all eligibility remaining at the violating institution or to render the prospective student-athlete permanently ineligible at that institution. Accordingly, because the eligibility ramifications of violations that involve prospects and enrolled student-athletes are treated differently, those cases that involve prospects are published separately from the other matters.

Also, note that any actions taken by the institution, conference or NCAA Committee on Infractions regarding the institution's responsibility for the occurrence of the violation that caused the ineligibility of the student-athlete are reported along with the publication of the particular eligibility case.

Eligibility Appeals Concerning Recruiting Violations Involving Prospective Student-Athletes

DIVISION I

No.	Sport	Citation	Facts	NCAA eligibility action	NCAA action regarding institutional responsibility	Institution/conference action
1.	Men's ice hockey	B 13.02.4.4	Head coach and one assistant coach evaluated and had a brief in-person contact with prospective student-athlete (PSA) at a Canadian hockey tournament during dead period. PSA was not being recruited by any other Division I institution.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; Involved coaches were required to review NCAA recruiting rules	Institution, upon learning coaches were on the road during dead period, required coaches to return to campus immediately. Institution ceased contact with PSA and canceled PSA's official paid visit. Further, institution restricted head coach from recruiting off campus from mid-November 1991 to March 1992 and precluded further recruitment of any other prospects who were evaluated impermissibly at the same time.
2.	Men's cross country	B 13.02.4.4	PSA made one-day official paid visit to campus during dead period before fall National Letter of Intent signing date. Neither head coach nor institutional employees who handled the paperwork associated with official paid visits realized it was a dead period.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution required coach to cease contact with PSA for approximately two months.
3.	Women's softball	B 13.02.4.4	PSAs made unofficial visits to campus during dead period before fall National Letter of Intent signing date. Visits were not arranged by coaching staff. Head coach had brief contact with PSAs during visits.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
4.	Men's basketball	B 13.1.1.1, 13.11.1 and 13.11.4	Head coach commented on PSA's possible attendance at institution during a local luncheon at which PSAs were present.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution counted luncheon as contact with each PSA. Institution also issued private reprimand to coach and required him to retake a recruiting exam before resuming off-campus recruiting activities.
5.	Men's tennis	B 13.1.2.1	Representative of institution's athletics interests had in-person contact with PSA and PSA's father during an unofficial visit to institution's campus. Head coach asked representative to give PSA and PSA's father directions to local restaurant near campus but representative instead went to lunch with them. PSA and PSA's father paid for their own meals and transportation.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
6.	Football	B 13.1.2.1	During official paid visit, PSA had contact with two former student-athletes (SAs).	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Conference required institution to provide graduating SAs with information regarding recruiting restrictions for representatives of the institution's athletics interests and to revise student host information sheet to include that representatives may not be introduced to PSAs during official paid visits. Also, conference issued private reprimand to institution and required football program to reduce the number of grants-in-aid by one.
7.	Women's volleyball	B 13.11.1	Head coach commented on PSA's athletics ability in school newspaper; PSA had committed to attend institution before violation.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	PSA will not be offered a National Letter of Intent or financial aid.
8.	Men's swimming	B 13.11.1 and 13.11.6	Sports information office issued press release regarding PSA's signing before the swimming signing date. PSA verbally had committed but had not signed and sports information office released erroneous information before the actual signing as a result of miscommunication with the coach. Head coach's comments about PSA's athletics ability also were released.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution reviewed B 13.11 with sports information staff and coach and revised press release procedures.
9.	Women's tennis	B 13.12.2.3	PSA hit tennis balls with current SA for approximately 15 minutes. Head coach believed activity was permissible as long as he did not observe.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
10.	Women's softball	B 13.13.2	PSA was employed as counselor at camp hosted by head coach. PSA previously had signed National Letter of Intent.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
11.	Women's basketball	B 13.2.1	PSA and her parents received complimentary admissions to an away contest. PSA previously had signed a National Letter of Intent. PSA repaid cost of admissions.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
12.	Men's swimming; women's swimming	B 13.4.1	PSAs, who were sophomores, inadvertently received recruiting materials.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
13.	Men's swimming	B 13.7.2.1 and 13.7.4	PSA's official paid visit exceeded 48 hours when PSA spent two evenings at home of the diving coach after PSA became ill with food poisoning during visit.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.

DIVISION II

14.	Women's volleyball	B 13.02.4.4	Head coach had in-person contact with PSA and PSA's parents during unofficial visit that occurred during dead period. PSA and PSA's parents were visiting several institutions at the time.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.

Eligibility Appeals Other Than Those Involving Recruiting Violations

DIVISION I

1.	Men's basketball	B 12.1.1-(a), 14.8.2 and 16.12.1.3.1	Student-athlete (SA) competed in one-day church tournament during academic year. SA also participated in slam-dunk contest and received a trophy for first-place finish.	Eligibility restored after SA is withheld from first regularly scheduled contest of 1991-92 season.
2.	Women's tennis	B 12.1.2 and 16.11.2.5	SA participated in local tournament and won $150 for her place finish.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action and after SA is withheld from first regularly scheduled intercollegiate competition of 1992-93 season.		Institution required SA to return prize money.

3.	Football	B 12.3.1 and 12.3.1.2	SA signed an agreement with an agent after his participation in a bowl contest and received $500 from the agent for travel expenses upon signing. Before violation, SA had received his fall semester grades and had talked with an academic counselor; SA believed he would be academically ineligible for the 1992 season and, therefore, believed that he had no other option but to sign. SA did not consult with anyone, including his aunt (who is his legal guardian) before signing. A few days later, upon learning SA had signed, SA's aunt convinced SA that his education should be his top priority. SA nullified the agreement and repaid the $500. Information from agent, SA and institution, and short period of time between signing and nullification, substantiated SA clearly made a mistake.	Eligibility restored after SA is withheld from first three contests of 1992-93 season.
4.	Men's tennis	B 13.1.2.3-(c)-(1)	During telephone conversation between head coach and father of foreign PSA, SA entered coach's office. At same time, father indicated he knew SA, who is from same country. Coach permitted SA to engage in personal conversation with father for several minutes.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution required SA to repay cost of his portion of call.
5.	Men's basketball	B 14.1.5.1	SA competed in approximately 12 contests during 1992 spring semester while not officially enrolled in graduate program. SA met all prerequisites for admittance into graduate program. SA believed he was enrolled, as evidenced by the fact that he attended classes; however, SA entered wrong admission date on application and, therefore, was not considered officially enrolled. Institutional policy allowed SA's application to be backdated to reflect enrollment for 1992 spring semester.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
6.	Women's basketball	B 14.3.2.1 and 14.13.4.3	In 1988-89, SA, a partial qualifier, competed in approximately four contests on city league team during initial year in residence. Institution did not advise SA that she could not participate in outside competition during that year.	Eligibility restored after SA is withheld from next intercollegiate contest, which was the first contest of conference tournament.	Secondary violation; no further action.
7.	Men's track indoor	B 14.6.5 and 14.6.5.3.10	Due to an institutional error, transfer SA competed in two indoor track meets during year in residence. SA was not in good academic standing or making satisfactory progress at previous institution.	Eligibility restored. (Note: SA used season of competition per B 14.2.4.1)	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution forfeited points earned by SA and adjusted team score accordingly. Institution also revised its certification procedures.
8.	Men's soccer	B 14.8.1	SAs participated in one outside competition during the academic year. Director of soccer complex informed SAs that games were "pick-up" in nature and not part of league competition.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action.		Institution suspended SAs from practice and competition for remainder of non-traditional season.
9.	Women's basketball	B 16.12.2	SA's mother, aunt and two family friends received return transportation from an away contest on the team bus after their vehicle was stolen.	Eligibility restored upon basis of institutional action.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution required reimbursement of value of transportation.
10.	Men's volleyball	B 16.12.2	During summer of 1991, foreign SA's parents and brother received free lodging for eight days from institutional employee. Institutional employee is from SA's home country and previously had spoken to PSA's parents by telephone. Institutional employee is not employed by athletics department.	Eligibility restored upon repayment of value of lodging.	Secondary violation; no further action.
11.	Women's golf	B 16.12.2.1	SAs each purchased one ticket to attend 1992 Division I Men's Basketball Championship from head coach. SAs were unable to purchase tickets from allotment to student body.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
12.	Men's basketball	B 16.8.1.2	Institution permitted SA to travel with team to three away contests during year in residence due to erroneous interpretation from conference office.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.
DIVISION II
13.	Women's volleyball	B 14.8.1.1	SA competed in two contests on outside team during academic year.	Eligibility restored upon fulfillment of institutional action.		Institution will withhold SA from first two contests of 1992-93 season.
14.	Women's softball	B 14.8.1.1	SAs competed in one slow-pitch city league contest during academic year.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action.		Institution withheld SAs from two intercollegiate contests.
15.	Men's soccer	B 14.8.1.1	SA competed in six contests during December 1991 and January 1992 as member of outside team. SA was advised by head coach that participation was permissible.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action.		Institution withheld SA from one date of competition during spring nontraditional season.
16.	Men's basketball	B 14.8.2	SA competed in two contests in an unsanctioned tournament during the academic year. At the time, SA intended to transfer to another institution and did not intend to participate in athletics. SA later chose to remain at initial institution and rejoined the team.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action.		Institution withheld SA from first two regularly scheduled contests of 1991-92 season.
17.	Women's basketball	B 16.12.1.3.1	SAs won prizes for participating in a half-time shooting contest.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action.	Secondary violation; no further action.	Institution required SAs to return prizes.
18.	Men's track, indoor; men's track, outdoor	B 16.12.2.3-(a)	SA was delayed at work and could not get to campus to register. SA asked head coach to register him and pay the fees. SA arrived on campus an hour and a half later and repaid the head coach.	Eligibility restored.	Secondary violation; no further action.	The institution withheld SA from one contest.
DIVISION III
19.	Men's soccer	B 12.2.1.2	SA practiced for one week with a professional soccer team; SA had withdrawn from school at the time. SA did not receive expense money from or compete with the team.	Eligibility restored.
20.	Women's basketball	B 12.5.1.1-(f)	SA appeared with institutional staff members in photograph that was used in a commercial advertisement.	Eligibility restored	Secondary violation; no further action.
21.	Football	B 14.6.5.1 and 14.6.5.3.11	SA competed in seven contests during transfer year in residence. Institution believed SA met Division III transfer exception based on information provided by previous institution. After SA competed, institution was informed by previous institution that original information was inaccurate.	Eligibility restored after SA is withheld from first regularly scheduled contest of 1992 season.	Secondary violation; no further action.
22.	Men's soccer	B 14.8.1.2	SAs competed on outside team during academic year.	Eligibility restored on basis of institutional action.		Institution withheld each SA from next scheduled tournament, which consisted of a minimum of four contests.
23.	Men's basketball	B 14.8.2	SAs participated in weekend tournament sponsored by local high school, the purpose of which was to raise money for high-school baseball team.	Eligibility restored upon fulfillment of institutional action.		Institution will withhold SA from first regularly scheduled contest of 1992-93 season, which is a tournament.

Executive Committee minutes

1. Opening Remarks. Judith M. Sweet, University of California, San Diego, chair, welcomed John H. Harvey, Carnegie Mellon University; Joan C. Cronan, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; and R. Elaine Dreidame, University of Dayton, as new members of the Executive Committee.

a. It was noted that this meeting marked the implementation of the policy that all requests that would affect the Association's general operating budget must be submitted at the May meeting each year.

b. It was the sense of the meeting that in light of the fact that the Executive Committee previously had scheduled an extra day at its August 1992 meeting in order to engage in long-range planning for the championships program, action should be deferred until that meeting on requests pertaining to expansion of championships field sizes or other significant format changes, expansion of sports committees and officiating matters that would affect the budget. It was noted that this would preclude any changes in field sizes during 1992-93 and the submission of legislation regarding committee sizes until the 1994 Convention.

c. It was agreed that during their separate sessions, the championships committees would focus on philosophies and principles and identify other topics for discussion at the August meeting.

2. Previous Minutes.

It was voted that the minutes of the December 9, 1991, meeting be approved as distributed.

3. Actions Taken by Executive Director.

It was voted that the actions taken by the executive director on behalf of the Executive Committee since the December 9, 1991, meeting be approved.

4. Administrative Committee Minutes.

It was voted that the minutes of Administrative Committee Telephone Conference Nos. 20-22 and Nos. 1-7 be approved as distributed.

5. Report of Budget Subcommittee. Secretary-Treasurer B.J. Skelton, Clemson University, reported that the Budget Subcommittee had taken the following actions the previous day:

a. Reviewed the moneys already committed for the 1992-93 general operating budget;
b. Affirmed that it intended to balance the budget with revenues available during each fiscal year, rather than transferring moneys from the Funded Operating Reserve in order to balance the budget; and
c. Authorized the executive director to pursue the development of early-retirement options for selected members of the national office staff and to initiate discussions in this regard.

6. Consultant to Presidents Commission. It was reported that the Presidents Commission anticipated hiring a consultant to assist with its long-range planning relative to financial issues, but that no specific costs were available at this time.

7. Disposition of Moneys Returned Per Action of Committee on Infractions. The Executive Committee discussed the appropriate disposition of moneys returned by a member institution resulting from fines assessed by the Committee on Infractions, noting that in many cases involving secondary violations the amounts were minimal.

It was voted that moneys returned to the Association as a result of fines assessed by the Committee on Infractions be placed in the broad-based component of the revenue-distribution fund for distribution to the membership the following year.

8. Referrals from April Council Meeting. It was noted that the Council had referred to the Executive Committee a recommendation from the Minority Interests and Opportunities Committee that the conference grant program be monitored with a view toward establishing accountability for and evaluation of the success of programs funded by conference grant moneys and designed to enhance minority and women's participation.

Meeting
May 3-5, 1992

It was agreed that the Ad Hoc Committee to Review the Conference Grant Program would ask conferences for a full accounting of activities in this area and provide that information to the Minority Interests and Opportunities Committee and the Committee on Women's Athletics for review.

9. Report of Special Advisory Committee to Review Recommendations Regarding Distribution of Revenues. Sweet, chair of the special committee, presented its report. The Executive Committee took the following actions:

a. Voted to increase the membership trust to two percent of the television revenues for fiscal year 1992-93;

b. Took the following actions relative to the broad-based distribution:

(1) Noted that concerns had been expressed by a segment of the membership about the inclusion of football grants in the grants-in-aid component and the absence of specific or direct treatment of the cost-of-attendance issue, and that a subcommittee of the special committee had reviewed alternatives to the current formula; approved the recommendation that no changes be made in the broad-based formula for the 1991-92 distribution that will be made during the summer of 1992; but agreed that the special committee should continue to seek more refined factors (i.e., either in addition to or other than sports sponsorship and grants in aid) or formulas upon which to base this portion of the distribution;

(2) Approved that effective with the 1992 distribution, institutions would receive credit in the grants-in-aid component for grants awarded to fifth-year student-athletes who have exhausted eligibility and for student-athletes who, for medical or redshirt reasons, do not count on the squad list but are receiving aid; and reaffirmed that credit would not be given for Proposition 48 student-athletes;

(3) Reaffirmed the current methodology for calculating grants in the head-count sports (i.e., an institution that awards only a percentage of a full grant in a head-count sport would receive credit only for that percentage awarded, rather than for one full grant); and

(4) Agreed that institutions that do not meet the minimum contest and participant requirements of Bylaw 20.9.3.3 in a particular sport would receive credit for that sport in the grants-in-aid component of the broad-based distribution, but not in the sports sponsorship component;

c. Took the following actions regarding the needy student-athlete fund:

(1) Agreed that the current permissible uses of the moneys should not be expanded to include additional items;

(2) Affirmed the following interpretations regarding permissible uses of the moneys:

(a) That an institution may not use the moneys to pay room and board expenses for a student-athlete who does not go home during a vacation period, regardless of whether the student-athlete is required to remain on campus for practice or competition;

(b) That the moneys may not be used to pay the premiums for a student-athlete's individual health insurance coverage (beyond that provided by the institution);

(c) That nonqualifiers and partial qualifiers are not eligible for the fund during their first academic year of residence, inasmuch as only student-athletes participating in a varsity sport are eligible to receive the funds and nonqualifiers and partial qualifiers are not eligible to participate during the first academic year in residence;

(d) That payment of medical expenses for a student-athlete's son or daughter is not permissible pursuant to the medical-expense criteria, which are specific to the student-athlete's own medical expenses and may not be extended to family members;

(e) That a fifth-year student-athlete who has exhausted eligibility is not eligible for the fund, inasmuch as the student-athlete no longer is participating in a varsity sport;

(f) That payment for car repairs to enable a student-athlete's spouse to drive to job interviews is not a permissible travel expense for family emergencies;

(g) That payment for required course-related books is not permissible pursuant to the criteria allowing for academic course supplies, inasmuch as payment for course-related books is permitted under existing legislation and the fund should not be used as a source of awarding otherwise permissible institutional financial aid;

(h) That payment for noncosmetic dental expenses is a permissible medical expense, and

(i) That payment for drug or alcohol counseling is permissible in accordance with criteria for allowing medical expenses for off-campus psychological counseling.

(3) Determined that effective with the 1992-93 academic year, on a one-year trial basis, student-athletes (foreign and domestic) not receiving Pell Grants (either actual dollars or credit for them) be eligible for the fund under the following conditions:

(a) The awarding institution must certify in writing through the signature of the director of financial aid that the student-athlete has unmet financial needs beyond the value of a full grant-in-aid, as demonstrated by a needs analysis conducted according to Federal Congressional methodology;

(b) The written certification must be submitted with the application form to the conference office, and a copy also must be on file in the office of the director of athletics;

(c) The distribution of funds under these conditions may not exceed $500 per year per student-athlete and may be awarded to meet expenses only in the following areas: (1) medical expenses, except those covered by another insurance program, either institutional or personal; (2) hearing aids; (3) vision therapy (e.g., contact lenses, eyeglasses); (4) off campus psychological counseling; and (5) travel expenses related to family emergencies for parents or student-athletes; and

(d) Non-Pell Grant student-athletes are eligible for the fund only if they are receiving full grants-in-aid from their institutions;

(4) Agreed that the fund would remain available only to Division I institutions;

d. Took the following actions regarding the academic-enhancement fund:

(1) Increased the amount of the distribution to each Division I institution from $25,000 to $30,000, effective with the distribution made during the summer of 1993;

(2) Approved the following interpretations regarding restrictions on the use of academic-enhancement moneys:

(a) That the funds may not be used for scholarships for fifth-year student-athletes who have exhausted eligibility, for summer school tuition or for the purchase of course books; and

(b) That institutions are not required to use the moneys only to establish new programs or services, inasmuch as this would be an unfair burden to institutions that already are funding significant programs and services; and

(3) Agreed that more definitive guidelines would not be established for the uses of the moneys at this time, inasmuch as each institution will be asked to report, at the end of the year, as to how the funds were used;

e. Voted to reaffirm current policies regarding treatment of basketball units earned by conferences that experience realignment or dissolution;

f. Voted to keep the special committee intact through the life of the television contract (i.e., through 1996-97);

g. Discussed but took no action on the request that grants to automatic-qualifying and nonautomatic-qualifying conferences in the Division I Men's and Women's Basketball Championships, respectively, be equal; and

h. Noted that the special committee urged the Executive Committee and Budget Subcommittee, in developing the general operating budget, to increase the amount of money in the basketball and broad-based distributions to the extent possible, after taking into consideration the other recommendations or previous decisions that require funding.

10. Report of Basketball Officiating Committee. The Executive Committee took the following actions on the recommendations of the Basketball Officiating Committee:

a. Agreed to require the head coach of each institution that sponsors Division I men's or women's basketball to attend an officiating-improvement clinic in 1995; and to require a full-time member of the coaching staff (i.e., not necessarily the head coach) to attend one of the 1993 and 1994 men's or women's clinics, respectively;

b. Directed that a representative of each Division II and Division III conference that sponsors men's or women's basketball be invited to (1) audit the in-season telephone conferences for Division I supervisors of officials that are conducted by the national coordinators of men's and women's basketball officiating, respectively, and (2) attend, at their own expense, the respective fall meetings of the Division I men's and women's supervisors; and noted that currently Divisions II and III conferences are provided complimentary instructional and clinic videotapes and copies of all in-season officiating bulletins distributed by the coordinators, and are invited to send one representative to a clinic each fall; and

c. Received the information that the Basketball Officiating Committee enthusiastically supports the concept of regionalization of regular-season officiating assignments, and suggested that the championships committees discuss the concept in their respective meetings.

11. Report of Committee on Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports. The Executive Committee took the following actions on the recommendations of the competitive safeguards committee:

a. Allocated $10,000 for expansion of the Injury Surveillance System to include men's and women's cross country in 1992-93;

b. Approved a statement regarding HIV and AIDS treatment for inclusion in the NCAA Sports Medicine Handbook and directed all NCAA committees with rule-making responsibility to incorporate the statement into their respective playing rules;

c. Expanded the year-round drug-testing program to include Division I men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field, noting that no additional dollars were being allocated; and approved a plan whereby 24 student-athletes in Divisions I-A and I-AA football and 12 student-athletes in indoor and outdoor track and field would be tested;

d. Directed the sports sciences staff and competitive safeguards committee to evaluate the drug-testing and drug-education programs in general, and in particular total expenditures, long-range plans and the necessity for maintaining the program at its current level; and noted that as part of this study, it would be important to ascertain the extent of member institutions' and conferences' testing programs;

e. Approved revisions in the drug-testing protocol;

f. Approved revisions to Bylaws 31.2.3.1 and 31.2.3.1.1 (list of banned drugs); and

g. Noted the results of the drug testing conducted from August through December 1991.

h. The Executive Committee discussed interpretations of Bylaw 18.4.1.5 and the original intent of the legislation and agreed that further consideration would be given to this matter at the August meeting.

12. Report of Ad Hoc Committee to Review the Conference Grant Program. The Executive Committee was advised that a number of conference commissioners had requested that consideration be given to eliminating the restriction that no more than 50 percent of conference grant funds could be used for salaries and benefits for conference employees.

It was voted that a maximum of 60 percent, rather than 50 percent, of a conference grant may be used to pay salaries and benefits.

13. Report of Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee and Committee on Women's Athletics. The Executive Committee reviewed a request from the two committees that $50,000 be allocated in the 1992-93 budget ($25,000 for each committee) to fund projects related to their specific charges that might be undertaken during the fiscal year.

It was voted that the request be approved, but that the committees submit the specific projects to the Executive Committee for review and approval before proceeding.

14. Report of Staff Publications Committee. The Executive Committee reviewed the report of the staff Publications Committee, which had been established to review new requests for printed material and submit recommendations to the Executive Committee on an ongoing basis. It was noted that this was an effort to control the proliferation of printed materials being distributed from the national office, coordinate the flow of printed materials and control demands on staff time. Included in the report were proposed criteria upon which the staff recommendations were based and specific recommendations regarding requests for new printed material.

a. It was voted that the criteria by which to evaluate the need for material to be printed and for determining the level of publication be approved.

b. It was voted that the Administrative Committee be authorized to act on the specific recommendations regarding new printed material after the staff has completed See Executive Committee, page 17

Eligibility appeals Extensions and Waivers

(Note: The NCAA Eligibility Committee has the authority to grant extensions of periods of eligibility under NCAA Bylaws 14.2.1.4 and 14.2.1.5; hardship waivers for student-athletes at independent institutions under Bylaw 14.2.5; satisfactory-progress waivers for student-athletes at independent institutions under Bylaw 14.5.5; and waivers of the transfer-residence requirement because of a discontinued academic program under Bylaw 14.6.5.3.3.)

Division I
No.	Sport	Citation	Facts
1.	Men's basketball	B 14.2.1 and 30.6.1	SA was unable to attend collegiate institution due to two knee surgeries.
NCAA eligibility action
Extension granted for period of time equal to number of days SA was unable to attend collegiate institution to next opportunity to enroll (approximately 65 days). (Note: Length of extension was not sufficient to permit SA to compete during intercollegiate season.)
2.	Women's gymnastics	B 14.2.1 and 30.6.1	Foreign SA was unable to attend collegiate institution due to political disturbance in home country and resulting restrictions placed on study abroad by governmental authorities.
Extensions granted for period of time equal to number of days SA was unable to attend collegiate institution to next opportunity to enroll (approximately 16½ months).

3.	Football	B 14.2.1 and 30.6.1	SA was unable to attend collegiate institution due to extensive knee surgery and subsequent rehabilitation.	Extension granted for period of time equal to number of days SA was unable to attend collegiate institution to next opportunity to enroll (approximately four months).
4.	Football	B 14.2.1 and 30.6.1	SA did not attend collegiate institution due to alleged illness. SA was not diagnosed or treated by a medical doctor for the condition nor was objective documentation of inability to attend presented.	Extension request denied.
5.	Wrestling	B 14.2.1 and 30.6.1	SA chose not to attend a collegiate institution and instead worked and supported his family after a change in family circumstances.	Extension request denied.

In addition, under the provisions of NCAA Bylaw 14.2.5, one hardship waiver has been granted to a student-athlete at an independent member institution.

Executive Committee

its internal review of those recommendations.

15. Report of Research Committee. The Executive Committee reviewed research proposals to be funded with $100,000 already earmarked in the 1992-93 budget, noting that it previously had allocated a total of $200,000 for research and that $100,000 of that amount had been funded from the 1991-92 budget.

It was voted that the report of the Research Committee and research proposals be approved.

16. Report of Special Degree Completion Program Committee. The special committee recommended that grant recipients receive full funding (including tuition, books, fees, board and room) only if they are enrolled in a minimum of 10 hours, and that those requiring fewer than 10 hours during a given term not receive funding for board and room. It was noted that no increase was requested in the amount allocated for the program in 1992-93, but that the committee believed that approval of this recommendation would allow it to distribute the available moneys to a greater number of individuals.

The Executive Committee questioned why recipients should not be required to carry 12 hours before receiving funds for board and room, in order to be consistent with the legislative definition of full-time enrollment. It was agreed that this should be addressed by the special committee and its response forwarded to the Administrative Committee.

17. Agenda for August Long-Range Planning Session. In preparation for the August long-range planning session, the Executive Committee reviewed a list of discussion topics and agreed that the championships committees, in their separate meetings, should give further consideration to the issues to be dealt with at that time.

A general discussion ensued regarding the financial climate of intercollegiate athletics, principles and philosophies governing the championships program, gender-equity issues, concerns and opinions among the membership as to the Association's priorities and specific and general championships policies. It was agreed that the August agenda would include review of these issues, as well as those relative to per diem and transportation expenses, squad sizes, official traveling parties and financial requirements for championships.

18. Summary of Sports Committees' Three-Year Fiscal Plans. It was noted that the policy that sports committees (and other NCAA entities) must submit requests that would affect the budget at the May meeting had resulted in requests totaling approximately $1.8 million in these general areas: bracket expansion, committee expansion, officiating matters, official traveling parties, format changes and promotional activities.

19. Per Diem Policy for NCAA Championships. In response to the Executive Committee's August 1991 directive, the staff submitted recommendations regarding the Association's per diem policy. The recommendations were intended to incorporate existing exceptions, clarify the written policy and treat inconsistencies in selected championships.

a. It was noted that the proposed revisions essentially would accomplish the following:

(1) Provide one additional day's per diem for institutions in team championships that are required to be at the site one day prior to the start of competition but that, due to the particular format, may not engage in a contest until the second day of the championship (i.e., Divisions I, II and III baseball, Divisions I and III softball, Divisions I and III women's tennis, and Divisions I and III men's tennis);

(2) Clarify that in the sport of men's and women's swimming, per diem is not provided for individuals if the only event in which they compete on a particular day is an optional-entry event (i.e., one for which they did not qualify);

(3) Clarify that in individual-team championships, an individual may receive per diem for each day between days of competition, rather than just for one day between competitions (e.g., track and field, in which a student-athlete might compete on the first and fourth days of the meet);

(4) Authorize the NCAA business department to approve requests from member institutions (if made in advance) for additional per diem due to transportation circumstances that prevent teams from arriving at the site of competition in time to meet administrative requirements of the championship (e.g., practice, pretournament meetings or press conferences);

(5) Clarify that the NCAA business department may reimburse institutions additional per diem to travel from one preliminary-round site to the next, rather than return to campus between rounds, and

(6) Specify that one-half day's per diem, rather than a full day's per diem, would be reimbursed for host institutions and institutions located in the same metropolitan area as the championship (defined as within 25 miles) for each day the institution competes

if its on-campus dining and residence facilities are open and available to student-athletes; and specify that if the facilities are closed, full per diem would be provided for each day the institution competes and each day between competition.

[Note: It was noted that the current per diem varies from $150 (Division I men's basketball), to $120 (for five Division I championships), to $80 (for all other Division I championships) to $60 (for Divisions II and III championships). The staff was asked to recommend a standard half-day's per diem for host institutions and institutions in the same metropolitan area in the above circumstance.

b. It was recommended that the current policy regarding per diem for student-athletes competing in the diving qualifying meets for the Divisions II and III Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships be reaffirmed (i.e., per diem would continue to be provided only for those individuals who qualify for the championships).

[Note: The championships committees reviewed the specific items in their separate meetings and reported their recommendations when the Executive Committee reconvened.]

c. It was voted that the recommendations and proposed revisions be approved, effective with the 1992-93 academic year, and that the staff recommendation regarding a standard half-day's per diem for host institutions and institutions in the same metropolitan area as the championships be submitted to the Administrative Committee for approval.

20. Sports Committees' Weekly Polls. The Executive Committee reviewed recommendations regarding sports committees' conduct of weekly polls, noting that the recommendations were intended to provide greater consistency and fiscal responsibility.

a. The recommendations were as follows:

(1) That if an organization other than the NCAA conducts a poll in a sport (e.g., the coaches association, national governing body or media), the sports committee should not also conduct one. It was noted that this would eliminate the NCAA Divisions I and II women's volleyball polls and the Division I men's ice hockey poll;

(2) That only members of the sports committee and regional advisory committee chairs, or their designated replacements, be permitted to participate in the conduct of polls;

(3) That sports committees be directed to limit their poll calls to one and one-half hours in length;

(4) That the ranking procedures be consistent for all sports committees (specific procedures were recommended), and the polls be distributed in a consistent manner from the NCAA national office only, and

(5) That in light of the directive of the Divisions II and III Championships Committees that sports committees in those divisions select championships participants on a regional basis, consideration be given to conducting only regional polls in Divisions II and III sports.

[Note: The championships committees reviewed the specific items in their separate meetings and reported their recommendations when the Executive Committee reconvened.]

b. It was voted that the recommendations be approved, effective with the 1992-93 academic year, and that the polls conducted by Division III committees or subcommittees be regional in nature, rather than national.

21. Appeals of Sports Committee, Championships Committee and Executive Committee Decisions. The Executive Committee discussed proposed policies regarding processing appeals of decisions of sports committees, the division championships committees or the Executive Committee. It was noted that only two areas are subject to appeal: (1) denial or withdrawal of automatic qualification, and (2) penalties assessed by a sports committee for misconduct or for failure to adhere to policies and procedures governing championships administration. The Executive Committee took the following actions:

a. Affirmed that appeals of decisions made by a sports committee first must be considered by the sports committee itself; and that if the sports committee upholds its original decision, it can then be appealed to the appropriate division championships committee;

b. Determined that appeals must be submitted in writing no later than 30 days after notification of a decision; and that if an appeal to a sports committee is denied and the involved party(ies) wish to appeal to the appropriate division championships committee, that appeal also must be submitted within 30 days of notification of the sports committee's denial;

c. Agreed that an appeal must include new information that was not considered or available when the original decision was made [i.e., appeals may not be made simply on the basis that the involved party(ies) are dissatisfied with the decision];

d. Specified that a sports committee must make available to the involved party(ies) the opportunity to present the appeal during a telephone conference with the sports committee; further, that if a decision is appealed to a division championships committee, the latter will afford that same opportunity in cases involving misconduct or failure to adhere to championships policies and procedures; but that in appeals of automatic qualification, the championships committee may, but is not obligated to, hear the appeal via telephone conference.

22. Playing-Rules Changes. In accordance with the oversight provisions of Bylaws 21.3.4.2(c) and 21.4.1.3, the Executive Committee took the following actions on recommendations of committees with rules-making responsibilities:

a. Football Rules Committee.

(1) Approved the creation of the new infraction "illegal block in the back" and penalties for the infraction;

(2) Noted that at the request of the Executive Committee, the Football Rules Committee had voted to delay by one year (until 1993) the effective date of the rule requiring 25-second clocks at both ends of the playing enclosure; noted that as a result, the membership divisions would have an opportunity to petition for a division-wide exception under 1992 Convention Proposal No. 118; noted that a request for an exception had been received on behalf of the Division III Steering Committee and the Division III Championships Committee, and that the rules committee would conduct a survey of the membership in May and present its recommendation at the Executive Committee's August meeting, and

(3) Reaffirmed the current rule prohibiting commercial advertising on the field except "in any game not played in-season when the corporate sponsor is associated with the name of that game" (i.e., preseason classics and bowl games); agreed that this issue was within the rules committee's purview in light of the effect such advertising could have on officiating, and agreed that the issue fell under Executive Committee oversight responsibility for rules related to the image of the sport.

b. Men's and Women's Skiing Committee. Approved the recommendation that points awarded by the Federation Internationale de Ski could be used as an alternative method for seeding competitors in collegiate meets, so that regular-season meets could be recognized by FIS in order that collegiate competitors could retain their international rankings.

c. Men's and Women's Basketball Rules Committees.

(1) Noted that the committees had met at a common site for the second year and continued to reduce the number of differences between the two sets of rules;

(2) Approved a rule prohibiting commercial logos on the playing floor, the backboard or the rim support system, and a rule prohibiting any logos other than the original manufacturer's logo on basketballs;

(3) In response to a question raised by the men's committee, reaffirmed the current fight rule with regard to the suspension penalties. Further, the Executive Committee indicated that it would not be appropriate for the rules committee to discuss or recommend alternatives designed to permit a team to retain enough players to be competitive or to keep from forfeiting, and

(4) Noted that in response to the Executive Committee's directive, the two committees discussed whether the positions of secretary-rules editor and national coordinator of basketball officiating should be occupied by the same individuals.

(a) The women's committee believes it is quite appropriate and desirable to have the same person in both positions but believes that there should be an assistant to help with the work load and to assume the roles at some time in the future.

(b) The men's committee believes that the current secretary-rules editor and national coordinator for men's officiating is a valuable resource and should be retained in both positions, but that in principle the two positions should not be held by the same individual, and that there should be an assistant provided.

(c) The Executive Committee referred these comments to the Division I Men's and Women's Basketball Committees for consideration and a recommendation.

23. Affirmative Action Plan. The Executive Committee received a report on the national office Affirmative Action plan.

24. National Collegiate Championships and Related Matters. Eugene F. Corrigan, Atlantic Coast Conference; Jerry M. Hughes, Central Missouri State University, and Mary R. Barrett, University of Massachusetts, Boston, chairs of the Divisions I, II and III Championships Committees, respectively, reported their committees' actions on recommendations from sports committees.

The Executive Committee took the following actions on the committees' recommendations regarding their respective championships:

a. Men's and women's fencing.

(1) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that an additional armorer be hired for the National Collegiate Men's and Women's Fencing Championships, and

(2) Authorized reimbursement for air transportation for two additional officials for the championships, noting that the total number of officials would be reduced and a cost savings realized.

b. Field hockey.

(1) Joint recommendations.

(a) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request to increase officials' fees;

(b) Declined to approve a $500 stipend for an officials' evaluator;

(c) Specified that all regular-season games that, due to conference rules or tournament situations, must have a winner determined be counted as a win or loss for the respective teams for selection purposes, rather than considered a tie, and

(d) Declined to approve a waiver of Bylaw 31.1.4.4 to permit the third-place games of the Division I and Division III Field Hockey Championships to begin before noon Sunday; and directed the committee to respond in August as to why third-place games are conducted at the championships.

(2) Division I.

(a) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 Division I Field Hockey Championship to the Big Ten and North Atlantic Conferences; noted that Bylaw 31.3.4.2(b), which requires that a conference must have conducted competition in the sport in question for two consecutive years, would be waived for the Big Ten;

(b) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that two additional officials be reimbursed for air transportation expenses, and

(c) Designated Virginia Commonwealth University as the host institution for the 1992 championship, November 21-22.

(3) Division II. Took the following actions relative to the format for the inaugural Division II Field Hockey Championship:

(a) Approved that the championship be held on the campus of one of the two participating teams Sunday, November 8, 1992;

(b) Approved the alignment of institutions that sponsor field hockey into North and South regions, for the purposes of selection;

(c) Declined to approve the conduct of a national six-team poll, and

(d) Approved a squad size and official traveling party of 19 and 24, respectively.

(4) Division III.

(a) Deferred until the August meeting action on a request to increase the official traveling party for the Division III Field Hockey Championship from 23 to 24;

(b) Effective in 1993, approved the realignment of the Mid-Atlantic and Pennsylvania regions into the North Atlantic and South Atlantic regions, and

(c) Remanded to the Field Hockey Committee for reconsideration the recommendation that the championship be conducted Saturday and Sunday, rather than Friday and Saturday.

c. Men's and women's golf.

(1) Joint recommendation. Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to expand the Men's and Women's Golf Committee.

(2) National Collegiate. Approved that effective with the 1993 National Collegiate Women's Golf Championships, a regional qualifying system be implemented to determine championships participants, and approved the following:

(a) That two regions be established incorporating the current five competitive divisions.

See Executive Committee, page 18

Executive Committee

tricts.

(b) That a total of 102 participants (18 teams and 12 individuals) be selected for each of the two regional tournaments on the basis of allocations determined by the performance of teams in each district over the past six years (i.e., head-to-head competition and records against common opponents); and that the number of teams and individuals that advance from each regional to the championships be allocated as recommended by the committee;

(c) That regional tournaments be 54-hole competition with no cuts; and that if at least 36 holes could not be played due to inclement weather, the committee would select the regional representatives;

(d) That hosts for regional competition be limited to a $2,000 budget, and that sites be rotated among the districts; and

(e) That transportation and per diem expenses for regional competition be borne by the participating institutions, in accordance with established NCAA policy regarding regional competition in individual-team championships.

d. Men's gymnastics. Received the report that the Men's Gymnastics Committee did not anticipate any requests over the next three years that would increase the costs of administering the National Collegiate Men's Gymnastics Championships.

e. Women's gymnastics.

(1) Declined to reimburse transportation or per diem expenses for regional competition of the National Collegiate Women's Gymnastics Championships.

(2) Declined to authorize the expenditure of $1,500 for a computer program to assist in the selection of judges for the championships.

(3) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that judges' fees be increased 10 percent annually; and

(4) Declined to approve $1,000 for a special promotional fund for the championships, noting that such promotional expenses should be incorporated into the host institution's approved budget for the conduct of the competition, in accordance with standard budgeting procedures.

f. Men's lacrosse.

(1) Joint recommendation. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to increase officiating fees for the Divisions I and III Men's Lacrosse Championships.

(2) Division II. Took the following actions relative to the establishment of the inaugural Division II Men's Lacrosse Championship:

(a) Approved that the championship be conducted on the campus of one of the two participating institutions the fourth Saturday or Sunday before Memorial Day weekend, with teams being selected the preceding Sunday;

(b) Established officials' fees of $150 per official; and

(c) Approved a squad size of 28 and an official traveling party of 33.

(3) Division III.

(a) Approved a power rating strength of schedule index for use as a guideline in the selection of teams for the Division III Men's Lacrosse Championship; and

(b) Noted but agreed to take no action on the recommendation that the championship continue to be conducted at the same site as the Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship, inasmuch as the two events were to be conducted at the same site for the first time in 1992.

g. Women's lacrosse.

(1) National Collegiate.

(a) Declined to increase the official traveling party for the National Collegiate Women's Lacrosse Championship from 24 to 26;

(b) Designated the University of Maryland, College Park, as the host institution for the 1993 championship, May 15-16; and

(c) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to authorize reimbursement of air transportation expenses for one official to fly to the first-round and championship sites.

(2) Division III.

(a) Declined to increase the official traveling party for the Division III Women's Lacrosse Championship from 23 to 25; and

(b) Declined to authorize reimbursement of air transportation expenses for one official to fly to the first-round and championship sites.

h. Men's and women's rifle. Received the report that the Men's and Women's Rifle Committee did not anticipate any requests that would increase the costs for administering the National Collegiate Men's and Women's Rifle Championships for the next three years.

i. Men's and women's skiing. Designated the University of Colorado, Boulder, as host institution for the 1993 National Collegiate Men's and Women's Skiing Championships, March 10-13.

j. Men's soccer.

(1) Joint recommendations.

(a) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to increase the size of the Men's Soccer Committee, and

(b) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that officials' fees be increased.

(2) Division I.

(a) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 Division I Men's Soccer Championship to the following: Atlantic Coast, Atlantic 10, Big East, Big Ten, Big West, Midwestern Collegiate, Missouri Valley, North Coast and West Coast Conferences; the Colonial Athletic Association; and the Council of Ivy Group Presidents; and

(b) Designated Davidson College as the host institution for the 1992 and 1993 championships, December 4 and 6 and December 3 and 5, respectively.

(3) Division II.

(a) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 Division II Men's Soccer Championship to the California Collegiate Athletic Association and the New England Collegiate Athletic, Northern California Athletic and Sunshine State Conferences;

(b) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to revise the championship format to provide for a day of rest between the semifinal and championship games; and

(c) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to expand the bracket from 12 to 16 teams.

(4) Division III.

(a) Awarded automatic qualification to the following for the 1992 Division III Men's Soccer Championship: Dixie Intercollegiate, Empire, Massachusetts State Collegiate, Minnesota Intercollegiate, New Jersey, North Coast, Old Dominion and State University of New York Athletic Conferences, and the University Athletic Association;

(b) Declined to revise the championship format to provide for a day of rest between the semifinal and championship games;

(c) Revised the championship format to provide for first- and second-round games to be played within each of the eight regions on the first weekend of the championship, and for third-round games to be played at four on-campus sites the second weekend; and

(d) Approved that from three to five teams would be selected from each of the eight regions (rather than from three to five from some regions and two from others).

k. Women's soccer.

(1) Joint recommendation. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to increase officials' fees for the Divisions I, II and III Women's Soccer Championships.

(2) Division I. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to increase the championship bracket from 12 to 16 teams.

(3) Division II. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to increase the championship bracket from six to eight teams.

(4) Division III.

(a) Awarded automatic qualification to the Empire Athletic Association and the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference for the 1992 championship;

(b) Effective with the 1992 championship, realigned the states of Texas and Arkansas from the West to the South region, and Thomas More College to the Great Lakes region; and

(c) Effective with the 1993 championship, realigned the state of Missouri from the West to the Great Lakes region, and divided institutions in Illinois between the Great Lakes and West regions.

l. Women's softball.

(1) Division I. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendations to increase the Division I Women's Softball Championship bracket from 20 to 24 teams and to permit the Women's Softball Committee to seed the top four teams nationally.

(2) Division III.

(a) Realigned Bethany College from the Mid Atlantic to the Central region for selection purposes for the Division III Women's Softball Championship; and

(b) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to authorize reimbursement of air transportation expenses for two of the four umpires.

m. Men's and women's swimming.

(1) Joint recommendations.

(a) Remanded to the Men's and Women's Swimming Committee for reconsideration the recommendation that $3,000 be allocated for the purchase of the computer software program designed to fill the fields for the Divisions I and III Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships, noting that purchase of the program would not result in the Association's owning the rights to the program; but allocated $1,000 for 1992-93 to be used to research potential changes in the entry procedures and to negotiate an agreement with the individual responsible for running the computer program; and

(b) Declined to permit championship awards to be provided for the first eight place finishers (rather than only to the first six) in the Divisions I, II and III men's and women's championships.

(2) Division I.

(a) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to increase the field size for the women's championships from 230 to 270 competitors;

(b) Effective with the 1993 men's and women's championships, changed the qualifying period to end March 7; and remanded to the committee for more information the recommendation to change the qualifying period to end one week earlier in 1994;

(c) Approved a $100 honorarium for the two starters at the men's and women's championships, noting that due to an oversight, permission had been granted previously to pay only one starter;

(d) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to hire a second announcer at the men's and women's championships; and

(e) Received a report that the field size for the 1992 women's championships was exceeded by one competitor, and that the field size for the men's championships was one under the limit, and noted that at its October meeting, the committee would review the entry process and institute changes to ensure that the limits are met in the future.

(3) Division II.

(a) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that the fee for the meet coordinator for the Division II Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships be increased;

(b) Declined to approve $1,500 for the host institutions to purchase mementos for participants in the Division II men's and women's championships;

(c) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to expand the Division II subcommittee to include a diving representative; and

(d) Remanded to the committee for reconsideration the recommendation that a host institution be permitted to rent a specific timing system as a budgeted games expense.

(4) Division III.

(a) Denied the recommendation that the field sizes for the Division III men's and women's championships be maintained at their current level; reaffirmed the August 1991 directive that the committee limit the number of competitors to a 1 to 16 ratio by the 1993 championships, and noted that this limited the 1993 fields to 209 men and 216 women; and

(b) Received a report on a misconduct incident during the 1992 men's championships.

n. Men's and women's tennis.

(1) Division I. Designated the University of Florida and the University of Georgia as host institutions for the 1993 and 1994 Division I Women's Tennis Championships, May 12-20 and May 11-19, respectively.

(2) Division II. Denied the recommendation that beginning with the 1993 Division II Men's and Women's Tennis Championships, competition to determine the fifth- and seventh-place finishers (the consolation bracket) of the team competition be considered an official part of the championships, and declined to reimburse per diem expenses for that competition.

(3) Division III.

(a) Received a report from the Division III men's subcommittee regarding the selection of teams for the Division III Men's Tennis Championships, and directed the subcommittee to submit in August specific recommendations regarding the number of teams that should be selected from each region; and

(b) Determined that effective with the 1993 Division III men's and women's championships, competition in the consolation bracket would not be considered an official part of the championships, and per diem would not be paid for competitors that remain at the championships site to compete in the consolation bracket.

o. Men's and women's track and field.

(1) Division I. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that the number of participants in the Division I Women's Indoor Track Championships be increased from 213 to 237 and the number in the Division I Women's Outdoor Track and Field Championships from 280 to 351.

(2) Division II. Received a report on a misconduct incident at the Division II Men's and Women's Cross Country Championships.

(3) Division III.

(a) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that participants in the Division III Men's and Women's Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Championships receive full transportation and a $30 per diem for both events, and agreed to review at that time the transportation and per diem policies for indoor track in all three divisions;

(b) Declined to increase the number of participants in the Division III Women's Cross Country Championships from 136 to 185;

(c) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that ground transportation and per diem be provided to officials for the Division III indoor track championships;

(d) Designated Baldwin-Wallace College as the host institution for the 1993 men's and women's outdoor championships May 26-29; and

(e) Designated Allentown College of St. Frances de Sales as the host institution for the Mid-east regional meet of the 1992 Men's and Women's Cross Country Championships November 14.

p. Men's volleyball. Received the information that the Men's Volleyball Committee anticipated no requests that would increase the costs of administering the National Collegiate Men's Volleyball Championship for the next three years.

q. Men's water polo.

(1) Determined that the National Collegiate Men's Water Polo Championship would continue to be held the Friday, Saturday and Sunday following Thanksgiving;

(2) Approved the Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool, Long Beach, California, as the site of the 1992 and 1993 championships, with U.S. Water Polo as the sponsoring agency and, in 1992, California State University, Long Beach, as the host institution; noted that no host institution has been designated for the 1993 championship at this point;

(3) Awarded automatic qualification to the Eastern and Western Water Polo Associations and the Big West Conference for the 1992 championship; and

(4) Appointed the Association's representatives to the executive and men's international Olympic committees and the board of directors of U.S. Water Polo, as recommended by the Men's Water Polo Committee.

r. Wrestling.

(1) Division I. Approved the continuation of the wrestling rules clinics and officiating-improvement program, but limited expenses for the program to a five-percent increase each year.

(2) Division III. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that reimbursement of air transportation expenses be provided for additional officials.

s. Continuation of National Collegiate Men's Gymnastics and Water Polo Championships. Declined to sponsor legislation to revise Bylaw 18.2.1.1-(a) to exempt from the minimum sponsorship requirements championships in which receipts exceeded all disbursements except transportation and per diem; noted that the issue of championships that are close to the minimum sponsorship requirements would be part of the long-range planning discussions, and agreed that it would not be appropriate for the Executive Committee to take action in this regard before that review.

t. Division I baseball.

(1) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that the Division I Baseball Championship bracket be expanded from 48 to 56 teams; and agreed that it did not favor a reduction in established per diem or official traveling parties sizes as a way of attempting to meet the financial criteria for championships expansion;

(2) Approved continuation of the officiating-improvement program, but limited increases in expenses to five percent each year; and

(3) Declined to permit $75,000 of net receipts from the championship to be used for existing promotional programs; noted that those programs should be paid for by promotional moneys from the official baseball contract, and directed the staff to propose an appropriate division of available moneys among the three division championships.

u. Division I women's basketball.

(1) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to increase the Division I Women's Basketball Championship bracket from 48 to 56 teams, but commended the Division I Women's Basketball Committee for the comprehensive and thoughtful planning process it had implemented;

(2) Remanded to the staff the recommendation that public service announcements be produced to promote women's basketball for use on conferences' and institutions' regular-season telecasts; and

(3) Authorized reimbursement of transportation and lodging expenses for representatives of Women's Final Four host institutions and four committee members to attend the annual tournament managers seminar.

v. Division I-AA football.

(1) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 Division I-AA Football Championship to the following: Big Sky, Gateway Football, Ohio Valley, Southern, Southland and Yankee Conferences;

(2) Approved the allocation of $60,000 of the championships receipts to underwrite a portion of the costs for continuing to produce seven weekly television shows during 1992; and

(3) Eliminated the requirement that the Division I-AA Football Committee guarantee the selection of the top-ranked independent institution for the championship.

w. Division I ice hockey.

(1) Received the information that the Division I Men's Ice Hockey Committee was considering revisions in the officiating system and would submit a specific recommendation at the August meeting;

(2) Remanded to the staff the recommendation that NCAA Productions produce all eight regional contests using one production facility at each arena, noting that this request should be considered relative to all other television activities; and

(3) Received a report on a misconduct incident during the 1992 championship; commended the committee on its handling of the situation and assessment of penalties, and directed that a letter to that effect be sent to the committee.

x. Division I women's volleyball.

(1) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 Division I Women's Volleyball Championship to the following: Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Eight, Big Sky, Big Ten, Big West, Metropolitan Collegiate, Mid-American Athletic, Midwestern Collegiate, Pacific-10, Southeastern, Southwest, Sun Belt, Western Athletic and West Coast Conferences.

(a) The Executive Committee remanded to the Division I Women's Volleyball Committee the recommendation that the Great Midwest Conference be provided a waiver of the two-year waiting period for automatic qualification, noting that it did not seem appropriate to grant a waiver for a new conference when the number of automatic qualifiers was at 50 percent of the bracket and doing so would displace a conference that previously had automatic qualification.

(b) The Executive Committee reviewed appeals from the Atlantic-10 Conference and Colonial Athletic Association for automatic qualification, noting that one and possibly two more appeals were anticipated. Concern was expressed that three conferences had been awarded automatic qualification for the first time in 1992 but at the same time were issued a warning that their berths could be in jeopardy after that championship. It was agreed that the volleyball committee would be asked to reconsider this situation as well and be advised that the Executive Committee had seriously considered granting the appeals;

(2) Designated the University of Wisconsin, Madison, as the host institution for the 1993 championship December 16 and 18;

(3) Authorized the expenditure of $5,000 to implement a rating percentage index similar to that used in Division I men's and women's basketball and baseball; noted that the program would be administered by temporary personnel rather than by the national office staff;

(4) Authorized reimbursement of expenses for a member of the volleyball committee to serve as a representative at the annual rules committee meeting of the National Association for Girls and Women in Sport; and

(5) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendations regarding increases in officials' fees and hiring of neutral lines judges.

y. Division II baseball. Received the information that the Division II Baseball Committee had no recommendations that would increase the costs of administering the 1993 Division II Baseball Championship.

z. Division II men's basketball.

(1) Authorized the reimbursement of one additional day per diem for an institution that participated in the 1992 Division II Men's Basketball Championship, but directed the Division II Men's Basketball Committee to revise the schedule of events at the championship site to avoid institutions having to arrive before the day that reimbursement begins;

(2) Received a report regarding two misconduct situations and one situation in which an institution had failed to adhere to administrative policies during the 1992 championship; and

(3) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that the bracket be increased from 32 to 40 teams.

aa. Division II women's basketball. Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendations regarding reimbursement of additional expenses and fee increases for officials in the Division II Women's Basketball Championship.

bb. Division II football.

(1) Effective with the 1992 season, realigned the four geographic regions, as recommended by the Division II Football Committee, for the purpose of selection of teams for the Division II Football Championships;

(2) Approved that effective with the 1992 season, officials for first- and second-round games be selected from within their respective regions, and that if neutral officials were not available, the conference of the traveling team assign officials; noted that this would reduce officiating expenses by an estimated $5,000 to $7,000;

(3) Awarded a $1,500 honorarium to the University of North Alabama as the host institution for the 1991 championship game; and

(4) Determined that participating institutions would be required to use ground transportation if the distance from their campus to the competition site was 400 miles or less; noted that this policy would be applied to all Division II championships. [Note: Also refer to Minute No. 24-mm-(1).]

cc. Divisions II/III men's ice hockey.

(1) Declined to increase the official traveling party for the Division III Men's Ice Hockey Championship from 26 to 30;

(2) Noted that specific recommendations regarding the format for the inaugural Division II Men's Ice Hockey Championship would be submitted at the August meeting, and

(3) Denied an appeal from the University of Wisconsin, River Falls, for a penalty assessed for failure to attend the mandatory officiating-improvement clinic, noting that the penalty was consistent with other actions taken by the Divisions II/III Men's Ice Hockey Committee in this regard.

dd. Division II women's volleyball.

(1) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that the Division II Women's Volleyball Championship bracket be expanded from 20 to 24 teams;

(2) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to increase the size of the Division II Women's Volleyball Committee from six to eight members;

(3) Effective with the 1993 championship, approved that the first round of competition be held the first weekend before the Thanksgiving holiday, rather than on Thanksgiving weekend;

(4) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 championship to the California Collegiate and North Central Intercollegiate Athletic Conferences, and

(5) Authorized reimbursement of expenses for a member of the Division II Women's Volleyball Committee to serve as a representative at the annual rules meeting of the National Association for Girls and Women in Sport.

ee. Division III baseball.

(1) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation regarding increases in officials' fees for the Division III Baseball Championship, and

(2) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to increase the size of the Division III Baseball Committee from six to eight members.

ff. Division III men's basketball. Denied the request that three-person officiating crews be assigned in the Division III Men's Basketball Championship, and agreed to advise the Division III Men's Basketball Committee that it would not consider such a request until at least 50 percent of the Division III membership was using three-person crews during the regular season. [Note: This action rendered moot the recommendation that the use of alternate officials be discontinued.]

gg. Division III women's basketball.

(1) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that the Division III Women's Basketball Championship bracket be expanded from 32 to 36 teams;

(2) Declined to provide watches for all four teams in the championship session, rather than only the championship and second-place teams;

(3) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation to reimburse air transportation expenses for an additional official, and

(4) Noted that in August it would review a response from the Division III Women's Basketball Committee regarding the regionalization concept of selections and pairings and directed the committee to recommend an appropriate number of teams to be selected from each region and conference and to provide additional information regarding the percentage of the bracket allocated to automatic qualifiers.

hh. Division III football.

(1) Extended for one year the agreement with the Kiwanis Club of Bradenton, Florida, to serve as the sponsoring agency for the Division III Football Championship, noted that subsequent to the 1992 championship the Division III Football Committee intended to solicit bids from other interested parties; and

(2) Received a report on a misconduct incident during the 1991 championship.

ii. Division III women's volleyball.

(1) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1992 Division III Women's Volleyball championship to the following: College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin, Middle Atlantic States Collegiate, Minnesota Intercollegiate, Ohio, Southern California Intercollegiate, State University of New York and Wisconsin Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Conferences, and the Michigan Intercollegiate and University Athletic Associations;

(2) Deferred until the August meeting action on the request that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to expand the size of the Division III Women's Volleyball Committee from four to six;

(3) Authorized reimbursement of expenses for a member of the Division III Women's Volleyball Committee to serve as a representative to the annual rules meeting of the National Association for Girls and Women in Sport, and

(4) Deferred until the August meeting action on the recommendation that officials' fees be increased.

jj. Session with Collegiate Commissioners Association Representatives. Corrigan reported that six representatives of the CCA had met with the Division I Championships Committee the previous day to discuss various championships issues that would be given further consideration at the August long-range planning session. It was agreed that comments should be solicited from the membership on these and related issues.

(1) The Executive Committee reviewed a draft of a survey designed to gather information for the August meeting and suggested editorial revisions.

(2) It was voted that the survey be sent to the chief executive officer, director of athletics, senior woman administrator and faculty athletics representative at each member institution and to conference commissioners, and that it be published in The NCAA News.

kk. Statement regarding action on bracket expansion requests. The Division I Championships Committee recommended, and the Divisions II and III Championships Committees concurred, that sports committees should be advised of plans to review all bracket expansion requests at the August meeting, and the reasons for the deferrals.

[Note: The following statement was subsequently incorporated into the survey of the membership: "The Executive Committee agreed to defer action on all requests for bracket expansion until the August meeting; thus, due to the budget planning cycle, all championships field sizes will remain the same for the 1992-93 academic year. While the committee acknowledges that the requests merit further consideration, the majority do not meet the current criteria for bracket expansion sufficiently to warrant individual treatment at this point. The committee intends to undertake a comprehensive review of the entire championships program, and a reevaluation of the criteria for establishing field sizes in particular. It will consider whether revisions should be made in the criteria and what the appropriate criteria may be, and evaluate all championships equitably in light of those. This review also will take into consideration what priority the membership places on NCAA championships relative to other Association programs and services, and will include not only field sizes, but also related issues of automatic qualification, seeding, per diem and transportation allowances, squad sizes, official traveling parties, sports committee sizes and officiating matters."]

ll. Report on rating systems for Division II championships. Hughes reported that the Division II Championships Committee had reviewed a report on the various power rating systems used by Division II governing sports committees to evaluate and select championships participants. It took the following actions relative to all systems:

(1) Specified that the point value awarded for a loss against a Division I opponent should not exceed the point value for a win against a Division II opponent;

(2) Agreed that institutions should be given an opportunity to schedule a predetermined number of games that would not count in the calculation of the rating; and asked Division II governing sports committee to submit additional information in this regard, and

(3) Agreed that national polls or rankings should not be used as a basis for selecting teams.

mm. Report on Division II site-selection process. Hughes reported that the Division II Championships Committee had analyzed the procedures used to select sites for Division II championships and took the following actions:

(1) Determined that institutions must travel by ground transportation if the distance from their campus to the competition site is 400 miles or less; noted that the previous mileage restriction was 250, but that this action was consistent with the policy for Division III championships;

(2) Agreed to discourage sports committees from selecting sites that require commuter or ground transportation outside the metropolitan area of the airport;

(3) Agreed to encourage sports committees to attempt to select sites at least three years in advance in those sports in which adequate facilities were limited, and to consider off-campus sites in cities with direct-flight access;

(4) Agreed to instruct sports committee to adhere strictly to the Division II regionalization policy relative to selection of teams, which requires that teams be selected and paired within their regions;

(5) Revised the current policy regarding pairing of teams within the same conference to specify that in the event more than two teams are selected from the same conference, the lowest-seeded team may be paired with a team in an adjacent region only if such movement does not result in air travel that would not otherwise have occurred, and

(6) Agreed to encourage committees for the sports of golf, swimming, tennis, and track and field to explore the feasibility of regional qualifying meets and tournaments and submit responses for the Division II Championships Committee's review at the August meeting.

nn. Division II enhancement fund. The Executive Committee received a report on the Division II enhancement fund and was advised that the Division II Championships Committee had reviewed administrative guidelines, miscellaneous interpretative questions and a proposed case book. The Division II Championships reported that it had:

(1) Upheld an appeal from Sacred Heart University to permit it to share in the Division II enhancement fund despite the fact that its football program was classified in Division III, and

(2) Declined to use a portion of the Division II enhancement fund to establish a needy student-athlete fund for Division II institutions.

25. Convention Planning. The Executive Committee received two reports on Convention planning and took the following actions:

a. Requirements for future sites. Reviewed recommendations relative to criteria for designation of future sites and approved the following:

(1) That Convention management develop Convention complexes in which to locate the Convention;

(2) That the Convention not be held in an area that permits gambling, either casino or an open sports book;

(3) That the Convention continue to be held in a city located below 38 degrees north latitude;

(4) That a Convention complex must meet the minimum sleeping-room and meeting-space requirements proposed by Convention management;

(5) That the Convention be held in a city whose most recent approval rating is at least 60 percent;

(6) That when the properties in a Convention complex are not reasonably close to each other, Convention management be authorized to arrange local transportation among them, with the cost to be included in the sleeping-room rate;

(7) That the opening business session be conducted the first Sunday after January 6 each year;

(8) That the Executive Committee may waive one or more of these conditions as necessary, and

(9) That no action be taken at this time to limit the number of persons each member may have in a division or general business session.

b. Planning for 1993 and future Conventions. Accepted a report on comments and suggestions from the staff and Convention attendees and took the following specific actions:

(1) Agreed that assigned seating should be expanded to include the division business sessions.

(2) Voted to confirm that the Presidents Commission is authorized to distribute during division or general business sessions information detailing its position on key legislative proposals;

(3) Voted to increase the registration fee to cover more of the costs of the Convention attributable to the delegates (from $70 to $100 for voting and alternate delegates, to $150 for delegates beyond the four for each institution, and to $200 for other visitors);

(4) Asked the communications department staff at the national office to review the question of whether media representatives should be restricted in conducting interviews in the aisles when the Convention is in progress;

(5) Suggested that the calendar memento provided all registrants cover 18 months, rather than a calendar year;

(6) Voted to approve the following future sites, pending negotiation of sleeping-room rates to Convention management's satisfaction:

(a) 1994 - Marriott Rivercenter, Marriott Riverwalk and Hyatt Regency Hotels, and San Antonio Convention Center, San Antonio, January 8-14 (January 10-13);

(b) 1995 - Marriott Hotel and Marina, Hyatt Regency Hotel and San Diego Convention Center, San Diego, January 6-12 (January 8-11), and

(c) 1997 - Opryland Hotel, Nashville, Tennessee, January 10-16 (January 12-15), and

(7) Agreed not to distribute stands for the voting devices at the entrance to each business session or to develop a collapsible stand for the voting device.

26. Future Meeting Dates and Sites. The Executive Committee reviewed future meeting dates and sites and took the following actions:

a. Agreed to the following format for the August 1992 meeting: August 11 - Budget Subcommittee and Administrative Committee (afternoon); August 12 - Executive Committee long-range planning session (all day); August 13 - Executive Committee (morning) and division championships committees (afternoon); August 14 - division championships committees (all day), and August 15 - Executive Committee (morning);

b. Asked that consideration be given to conducting the December meetings each year at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Kansas City, Missouri;

c. Suggested that the following be considered for the May and August 1993 meetings: Sedona, Arizona, or Monterey, California, area (May); Beaver Creek, Colorado, or Monterey area (August), and

d. Noted the remaining future dates:

(1) December 6-7, 1992, Kansas City, Missouri. (Championships committees, December 6-7.)

(2) May 2-4, 1993. (Championships committees, May 2-3.)

(3) August 11-13, 1993. (Championships committees, August 11-12.)

(4) December 5-6, 1993, Kansas City, Missouri. (Championships committees, December 5-6.)

Jammin' for education

Corey Dixon (right), a split end on the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, football team, joins Golden Key member Debbie Dedrick in leading a group of elementary students in a sing-along about the importance of education. Approximately 50 Nebraska student-athletes and Golden Key scholars divided into groups of six to 10 members spoke April 6-10 at 10 elementary schools across the state of Nebraska, discussing such topics as education, leadership and responsible decision-making.

Community service

SMU students give pep talk to youths

Six members of the Southern Methodist University women's basketball team spoke recently to elementary school children in South Dallas.

Suzy McAnally, Amy Severson, LaQuenda Medford, Andrea Guziec, Mary Gleason and Jill Vana spoke to about 80 students at St. Philip's School near Dallas' Fair Park.

"We talked to the kids about the importance of education and academics," assistant women's basketball coach Jon Newlee told The Daily Campus, Southern Methodist's student newspaper. "We also tried to let them know how they can use athletics to get an education. I think that it was a good opportunity for the girls to interact with the community. They did a great job working with the kids. It gave them the opportunity to go to different parts of the city that they wouldn't normally visit."

Athletes 'shadowed' by youngsters

Athletes for the Betterment of Cincinnati, a service organization made up of student-athletes from the University of Cincinnati, hosted the second annual Shadow Day in mid-April. Forty-five children from the Emmanuel Community Center were paired with the student-athletes and invited to "shadow" them during the afternoon.

The children had an opportunity to go to lunch, classes and on tours of the African-American cultural center with their hosts. They also had time for games, a cookout and a slam-dunk exhibition.

Alpha Beta Chi, formed in 1988 by Garnett H. Purnell, now an NCAA compliance representative, sponsors the event. It is an organization designed to enable Cincinnati's student-athletes to give back to the community.

Minor damage in Orange Bowl fire

A small fire broke out in the Orange Bowl stadium May 26, but officials said it should not delay a $5.4 million renovation scheduled for completion by this fall.

The fire destroyed about 100 seats at the cost of about $5,000, stadium officials said.

Officials said they are trying to complete the renovations in time for the home football opener of the University of Miami (Florida) in September, and they don't believe the fire will set them back.

Membership asked for comment on championship matters

The following letter and questionnaire were mailed to the membership May 14:

At its December 1991 meeting, the NCAA Executive Committee determined that it would extend its August 1992 meeting by a full day to engage in long-range planning for the NCAA championships program and undertake a comprehensive review of the principles, policies and philosophy that govern the championships.

In preparation for that meeting, and in order to facilitate the Association's budgeting process for the 1992-93 fiscal year, the Executive Committee asked that all sports committees submit any requests that would affect the general operating budget at its May 3-5 meeting. The majority of that meeting was devoted to review of those requests and to focusing on related issues in preparation for discussions at the August meeting.

It became clear that the many complex issues facing the membership—particularly the current financial climate on many campuses, gender-equity interests and prioritization of Association programs and services—have generated significant diversity of opinion as to the needs and interests of the membership; further, much of it centers on issues related to expansion of championships field sizes.

The Executive Committee's long-standing policy regarding field sizes states that NCAA championships are intended for the nation's finest teams and individuals, and for competitors who have a reasonable chance of placing or winning at the championship level. While the Executive Committee acknowledged that many of the requests before it at the May 3-5 meeting merited further consideration, the majority did not meet the current criteria for bracket expansion sufficiently to warrant individual treatment at this point, particularly in light of the complex issues impacting the championships program. Accordingly, the Executive Committee deferred action on all requests for bracket expansion until the August meeting. Thus, due to the budget planning cycle, all current field sizes remain the same for the 1992-93 academic year.

Between now and its August meeting, the Executive Committee intends to undertake a comprehensive review of the entire championships program, and a reevaluation of the criteria for establishing field sizes in particular. As part of that review, the Executive Committee will be seeking comment on and reaction to these policies as they relate to maintenance of current field sizes vs. expansion of brackets. It will consider whether revisions should be made in the criteria and what the appropriate criteria may be, and evaluate all championships equitably in light of those.

This review also will take into consideration what priority the membership places on NCAA championships relative to other Association programs and services, and will include not only field sizes, but also related issues of automatic qualification, seeding, per diem and transportation allowances, squad sizes, official traveling parties, sports committee sizes and officiating matters.

Toward that end, the Executive Committee invites your comment on these topics in general, and in particular on the more philosophical considerations outlined in the attached questionnaire.

In order that the Executive Committee may have sufficient time to give your comments thorough consideration prior to its August 11-15 meeting, we would appreciate receiving responses by June 19. Please forward them to the attention of Tricia Bork, group executive director for championships and event management, at the NCAA national office.

We appreciate your assistance and look forward to your response.

Review of NCAA Championships Program and Related Issues

Please feel free to provide additional comments by written correspondence.

1. If additional revenues were available for Association programs and services, would you favor their being allocated to enhance the championships program (e.g., for expanding selected brackets, seeding of additional teams), or their being allocated to the revenue-distribution fund for redistribution to the membership?

2. If additional revenues were not available, would you favor enhancing championships by reallocating moneys currently budgeted for other Association programs and services? If so, in which specific areas would you favor reduction of expenditures (e.g., the Division I academic-enhancement fund, needy student-athlete fund, Division II enhancement fund, scholarship programs, catastrophic-injury insurance, drug testing and education, conference grant program, youth programs, others)?

3. The current policy regarding championships field sizes specifies that the size of all NCAA championships fields shall be established to provide for efficient management of the events, adequate NCAA championships opportunities relative to the nationwide quality of competition (in Divisions II and III, emphasis is placed on regional competition), and sound economic administration of the financial resources of the Association and its championships.

Guidelines of a 1 to 8 participation ratio for team championships and a 1 to 16 participation ratio for individual-team championships are utilized in establishing championships field sizes (i.e., the ratio of regular-season to championships participants). Modifications of field sizes may be made based on the following factors: (a) size of each event relative to other NCAA championships; (b) unusual factors relative to the quality of competition in the particular sport; (c) net revenues or deficits generated by the event, and (d) the number of participants necessary to conduct bona fide championship competition. Do you believe these are appropriate? If not, do you have suggestions as to how they might be revised?

4. In order to receive automatic qualification in a sport other than Division I men's basketball, a conference must demonstrate that its competition is of sufficient quality. This determination generally is made based on won-lost records and strength of schedule of the conference as a whole and its member institutions.

The Executive Committee's current policy regarding automatic qualification is that while there may be diversity in the number of automatic-qualifying berths in each sport relative to one another, these differences have been considered appropriate and necessary to ensure adequate representation of the best at-large teams available; and that generally, the number of automatic qualifiers should be determined relative to the size of the bracket, regional representation, and the overall developmental stage of the sport. As a guideline only, no more than 50 percent of a bracket generally is awarded to automatic qualifiers. Do you believe these criteria and guidelines should be revised or automatic qualification awarded on some other basis (e.g., should there be consideration of play-ins for nonautomatic-qualifying conferences, or more regionalized competition)? If so, what?

5. Some National Collegiate Championships are in jeopardy of being discontinued or not being reimbursed transportation or per diem expenses for failure to meet the minimum sponsorship requirements for championships as specified in Bylaws 18.2.10 and 11. Do you believe the Association should continue to provide transportation and per diem expenses for all NCAA championships, regardless of the number of institutions that sponsor the sport? If not, what do you believe is an appropriate number or percentage below which certain championships should not be provided transportation or per diem expenses? What do you believe is an appropriate sponsorship number or percentage below which championships should no longer be conducted?

6. Which men's and women's sports do you believe should be among the Association's highest priorities in terms of the allocation of the Association's financial resources?

Toner knows

After stepping down as Connecticut's football coach in 1970 to devote full attention to his role as athletics director, Toner was elected president of the Eastern College Athletic Conference and the Yankee Conference. It was as president of the ECAC that he first became involved in the NCAA committee structure. He was elected to the Council in 1977. Opportunity to streamline

One of the pressing issues at that time was compliance with Title IX and the incorporation of women's athletics under the NCAA umbrella.

But Toner did not look at it as a necessary evil or an inevitable invasion. He looked at it as an opportunity to benefit universities by streamlining.

"I believe in the principles under which the NCAA was founded," he said. "Its constitution disregards gender and does not speak to separate programs. To me, it opened the door to, and even dictated, the accommodation of women in the NCAA structure.

"Intercollegiate athletics belongs in the domain of that office of the institution called its athletics office. To me, two administrative budgets are one too many. I feel that we should run that office the same way we run the department of English or student activities."

That may have worked in theory, but in practice, it tended to aggravate those female administrators, coaches and student-athletes who did not feel they were getting a fair shake in the overall athletics program, simply because of their sex. Because of that, Toner had plenty of opposition as he pushed to merge the men's and women's programs.

"I think the opposition was that some women felt they had been denied opportunity to provide programs," he said. "But I never felt that way. I always felt that the intercollegiate athletics program reflected the interest level and competitive ability of the students at that institution."

"When I look at the amount of intramural and recreational club participation, I get an idea of how big the athletics department should be. Until such time that I see a top-heavy load of women fighting for intramural and recreational club space, I look at gender equity as something that is being politically exploited and not earned in the traditional way."

Good enough

Toner grew up in the 1930s in a small town on Nantucket Island. His athletics development consisted of fierce local competition hemmed in by water on all sides and limited access to the outside world.

"We had a tiny town with an athletics program," he said. "I always wondered how good I was. When I went off to Boston University, I was one of the first to leave the island to play college sports."

While he may not have possessed the physical skills to be a star, he had the tenacity that would later assist him in his administrative battles.

"I was good enough to get by, but not good enough to be great," he said of his athletics career in football, basketball and golf.

Following his playing career, he stayed at Boston U. as a graduate student and assistant football coach. After four years, he got a job coaching high-school football, and his New Britain, Connecticut, team won the state championship his final two years. Three years later, he became an assistant football coach at Columbia University, where he stayed until 1966, when he was named coach at Connecticut. He added the athletics directorship in 1968 and stepped down as coach in 1970. He retired as AD in 1987.

When Toner was a student-athlete, academic standards for incoming freshman student-athletes were nonexistent. But by the time Toner became president of the NCAA in better opportunities for ethnic minorities in coaching, athletics administration and officiating.

This year's 10 postgraduate scholarships are being awarded to ethnic-minority applicants who have completed an undergraduate degree and have been accepted into an institution's sports administration program or a related program that will assist the applicant in obtaining a career in athletics.

Recipients must express an interest in preparing for a professional career in administration of athletics. The scholarships are for one year and are valued at $6,000.

In January 1991, the Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee, as a new NCAA standing committee, assumed the responsibilities of the special subcommittee. In addition to selecting this year's scholarship recipients, the committee has named two alternates: Keith R. Garnett of the University of Oklahoma, first alternate, and Guy H. Goodman of Knox College, second alternate.

Biographical sketches of recipients of the 1992 scholarships (including the institution awarding the undergraduate degree and, if different, the institution where the postgraduate scholarship likely will be used) are included in the accompanying profiles.

Tonya Y. Alleyne (Seton Hall University)—Alleyne graduated with a bachelor's degree in communications in 1991. She has been enrolled in graduate school at Seton Hall since that time. Alleyne was a member of the Pirate women's basketball team and served as team captain in 1990 and 1992. She was vice-president of the Pirate Varsity Club in 1990-91. She seeks a master's degree in corporate and public communication, with a career ambition of obtaining a position in athletics administration and coaching.

Elizabeth Escamilla (San Jose State University)—Escamilla received a bachelor's degree in human performance in May. She is a member of the Spartans' field hockey team and has served as field hockey coach at a local high school for the past two years. She is involved with several organizations and serves as a fitness-program and nutrition adviser for the Junior Olympic shooting team at the U.S. Olympic Training Center. Escamilla intends to pursue a postgraduate degree in secondary education.

Felicia Faro (University of California, San Diego; undecided)—Faro earned a bachelor's degree in communications in 1990. A four-year member of the women's soccer team, Faro earned first-team all-America honors, was named UC San Diego's athlete of the year, served as team captain three years and helped lead the Tritons to the Division III championship as a senior. She has served as an assistant coach for the past two years. Faro intends to pursue a postgraduate degree in athletics administration.

Treka D. McMillian (University of South Carolina, Columbia; University of Florida)—McMillian received a bachelor's degree in physical education in May. She was a member of the women's basketball team from 1987 to 1992 and served as team captain two years (1990-92). She was voted South Carolina's outstanding athletics trainer in 1991 and was a volunteer for Special Olympics and Adopt-a-Family at Christmas. McMillian intends to pursue a graduate degree in sports administration. Her ambition is to become a collegiate women's coach.

Leela K. Narang (Wesleyan University; University of Connecticut)—Narang earned her bachelor's degree in biology and premedicine in May. She was a member of the women's basketball team for four seasons and served as team captain. She served as a teaching assistant for two years and as an intern in sports medicine with the Orthopedics Association of Hartford. Narang intends to pursue a postgraduate degree in sports medicine, specializing in orthopedics and athletics care.

Darlene C. Beale-Norris (Howard University; Brooklyn College)—Beale-Norris earned a bachelor's degree in marketing in 1989. She has played in the European Women's Basketball League since graduation. She was a member of the Howard women's basketball team from 1984 to 1989 and was named the team's most valuable player three consecutive years beginning in 1986. She intends to pursue a master's degree in sports management, with the career ambition of becoming general manager of a professional basketball franchise.

Sandra T. Vigil (University of Colorado, Colorado Springs)—Vigil received her bachelor's degree in psychology in May. She participated in both basketball and softball. She plans to pursue a master's degree in athletics administration. Vigil attended Adams State College, where she was the starting point guard on the women's basketball team. Her plans include helping students obtain fulfillment through education and athletics.

Keith O. Vinson (Liberty University; Old Dominion University)—Vinson received a bachelor's degree in business management in 1991. He has been enrolled in a sports management program at Liberty since that time. Vinson was a member of the football and track teams and served as volunteer strength coach. He intends to pursue a postgraduate degree in sports management, with the hope of working as a program director to teach young people.

Lisa E. Woody (Stockton State College; Temple University)—Woody graduated with a bachelor's degree in finance later in May. She is a member of the women's basketball and track teams. She is involved with numerous organizations, including the Unified Black Students Society, Atlantic City Rescue Mission and Delta Sigma Theta. She intends to pursue a master's degree in sports administration and management. Her career ambition is to become manager of a large sports facility.

Setsuko A. Yagami (Central Connecticut State University; Eastern Kentucky University)—Yagami received her bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1991. She has been employed in the Academic Center for Student-Athletes at Central Connecticut State since that time. She participated in women's basketball, softball and track. She has served as coach of middle school girls basketball and summer league teams and as a coach/counselor at the Connecticut Starters Basketball Camp. She intends to pursue a degree in counseling in higher education.

1983, the standards were very real. Toner was a strong proponent of Proposition 48, the mother of all initial-eligibility legislation.

"I supported it right from the beginning," he said. "I felt badly that a national organization had to act on a matter that schools would not face individually. I still feel that way each time it's modified."

CEO responsible

Toner believes the responsibility for making sure a student-athlete can fulfill the first part of that equation belongs with the chief executive officer of the institution.

"If the leadership at the institutions profiled the entering classes and included the athletes in that profile, we would be able to clean up college athletics," he said. "But we have special programs to admit special students. That is the basis for most of our problems. There should not be a bubble in the bell curve of the student body."

Toner does make one concession that the current legislation does not. He would like to see an addendum that allows a student to achieve the national minimum standards or the institution's student-body-wide minimum standards, whichever are lower.

"I would buy that," he says. "Then those institutions would have to publish those standards. If a school has a student body whose profile embraces everybody and whose standards are below Prop 48, then I would have no problem with (allowing that school's standards to be sufficient)."

Toner definitely stayed busy during his two-year term as president. He was active in the planning of the Presidents Commission. There was a movement afoot under the umbrella of the American Council of Education to form a committee of presidents that could override NCAA legislation. At the same time, the NCAA was putting together the framework for the Presidents Commission.

Toner argued that the Presidents Commission was the proper avenue.

"I supported the idea that the NCAA had governed the conduct of intercollegiate athletics since 1906 and that it had the organization and the history of success," he said. "The NCAA had to get the interest and attention of the presidents. This was a logical and very practical way to go. Any other type of effort, from any other organization, was just creating a juxtaposed situation that we didn't need."

Limits lobbying

These days, the only lobbying that Toner does is with his wife, Claire, and with his six children to see his 10 grandchildren more often.

He turned 69 May 4 and says he is "healthy, strong and ready for anything." Like tackling another issue?

He feels that academic reform in intercollegiate athletics must begin with reform for all students.

"We should readopt the general principle," he said, "that normal academic progress means that an entering student, carrying a 30-hour load in pursuit of a 120-hour degree, should graduate in four years. Not five and not six, as is the standard in most of our institutions."

"Once that principle is established, we wouldn't have to worry about reducing practice times, number of competitions or lost class time. To fulfill normal-progress requirements under these expectations, student-athletes could not spend 30 to 50 hours a week on their sports. Coaches could not expect it, nor could they demand it. Institutions would schedule athletics contests under the umbrella of scholastic expectations."

"As bad as our situation is right now, athletics is on pace with the entire student body. A four-year program no longer is expected in four years. I believe athletics problems usually can be traced to lax expectations from our member institutions."

Pretty strong. But then, it's John Toner's opinion.

hour and 20 minutes to complete the exam, most finished within 45 minutes.

Gerdy said 11 of 12 SEC institutions had completed the program and no coach had failed the test yet.

The high rate of success raises the question of whether this test was too easy and whether coaches will be motivated to prepare as well for next year's exam, having passed this one so easily.

"All of the coaches took the test very seriously," Banowsky said. They prepared extensively, he said, perhaps motivated by the potential embarrassment of failing. He said he didn't believe the test was too easy because it was important to focus on basic issues.

"Also," he said, "we don't want to perpetuate the idea that the legislative services and compliance services people are out there to make life miserable."

Banowsky anticipates that subsequent tests will focus on other areas of the Manual. While he expects that the exams will continue to be nonlegalistic in tone, he said changing emphasis should help keep the coaches motivated to prepare.

Gerdy said he might favor increasing the difficulty slightly—but only slightly. What's important, he said, is getting coaches to become comfortable with the Manual.

"I was talking with a coach after he took the test," Gerdy said, "and he said, 'I've been in the business 16 years and never opened the book until the last three days.'"

That example, Gerdy said, illustrates the value of the program.

vigorous supporter of the proposal. NCAA member institutions wishing to demonstrate support for the Association's position are being urged to contact senators in their respective states, by phone, facsimile or express mail.

The Association is asking senators to support S. 474 and to reject the so-called Grassley amendment. According to Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, the NCAA's legal counsel in Washington, D.C., the Grassley amendment would establish a two-year window in which states could adopt sports-gambling schemes.

Adoption of the Senate measure by Congress would mean that only casino-based sports books in Nevada, the Oregon professional sports lottery and the now-inoperative Delaware sports lottery could be operated in the future. The House bill contains an additional exception for New Jersey casino-based gambling, should the voters of that state adopt a constitutional amendment to that effect within one year.

A major effort is now underway in New Jersey, sponsored principally by casino interests, to place the proposal on the ballot this year. The NCAA and the professional leagues are working to oppose that proposal and testified against the amendment last week before the Judiciary Committee of the New Jersey Senate.

New Jersey law requires that the amendment be approved by 60 percent majorities in both houses of the legislature before it can be placed on the ballot.

State legislation relating to college athletics

This report summarizes legislation currently pending in state legislatures that could affect, or is otherwise of interest to, the intercollegiate athletics programs and student-athletes at NCAA member institutions.

Set forth below is a list of 27 bills from 16 states. The report includes seven bills that have been introduced, and 20 pending bills on which action has been taken, since the last report (April 29, 1992).

The newly introduced bills are marked with an asterisk. Pending bills discussed in the previous report on which no action has been taken do not appear in this report.

This report is based on data provided by the Information for Public Affairs on-line state legislation system as of May 21, 1992. The listed bills were selected for inclusion in this report from a larger pool of bills concerning sports, and they therefore do not necessarily represent all bills that would be of interest to individual member institutions. Bills pending in the District of Columbia and U.S. territories are not available on-line and are not included.

The NCAA has not verified the accuracy or completeness of the information and is providing this summary as a service to members. For further information regarding a particular bill, members should contact the state legislature concerned.

As an overview, the table below summarizes the number of bills included in the report by subject:

Anabolic steroids.....	8
Trainers.....	7
Scalping.....	3
Assault on a sports official.....	2
Gambling.....	2
Athlete agents.....	1
Coaches' retirement plan.....	1
State universities.....	1
Women in sports.....	1
Wrestling.....	1

Six bills have become law since the last report, including two on trainers and one each on anabolic steroids, a retirement plan for coaches, women in sports and wrestling.

The legislatures in 10 states — Alabama, Colorado, Hawaii, Iowa, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, Tennessee and Vermont — have adjourned since the last report, bringing to 26 the number of state legislatures that have adjourned. Bills in the 10 states will not carry over to 1993, and pending bills died at the conclusion of the session if they had not been cleared for the governor's signature.

UCLA, Arizona pace softball all-America team

National champion UCLA and second-place finisher Arizona each placed two players on the first team of the National Softball Coaches Association Division I all-America squad.

Bruin pitcher Lisa Fernandez was a perfect 29-0 during the 1992 season, including four wins at the NCAA Women's College World Series. For her efforts, she was selected as the first-team utility/designated player. Joining her was teammate Yvonne Gutierrez, who hit over .350 for the season and was errorless in the outfield. Both players are repeat selections from last year.

Pitcher Debby Day and battery mate Jody Miller-Pruitt were Arizona's two first-team selections. The Wildcats had a total of five players on the coaches' first, second and third teams.

Kansas third baseman Camille Spitaleri is the squad's only three-time selection.

Blue book update now in progress

The 1992-93 edition of the Blue Book of College Athletics currently is being updated.

John Allen Dees Jr., editor of the publication, said data for the publication is compiled over the telephone to ensure the most current information. Every four-year and two-year college with an athletics department will be contacted, Dees said.

The Blue Book of College Athletics, now in its 62nd year of publication, includes men's and women's programs. The 1992-93 edition will be published in August.

For more information, contact Dees at 205/263-4436.

Equipment

Softer and 'safer' baseball introduced

A Tennessee manufacturer claims to have made a softer and safer baseball for youth leagues to help curb the number of serious head injuries caused by baseball beanings, United Press International reported.

Jess Heald came up with the idea of the "RIF" (Reduced Injury Factor) baseball in the early 1980s. He was inspired by a report from the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission stating that more children ages 5 to 14 are killed playing baseball than any other sport, including football.

"Kids are throwing balls around that are harder than what the Boston Red Sox are using," he said. "There is no regulation (in youth leagues) that deals with safety or hardness, and that's what we're encouraging them (coaches) to incorporate."

Heald's baseballs are made of a polyurethane synthetic foam, the same foam that pads the dashboards of cars. The first balls came out in 1985 and have been improved annually.

Series updates available

Inning-by-inning score updates and postgame interviews from every College World Series game will be available to fans and media representatives who dial a 900 telephone number.

For the first time, the updates are being made available to callers who dial 900/VIP-NCAA. Callers will be charged 85 cents per minute.

The postgame interviews, accompanied by game wrap-up reports, will be available 45 to 60 minutes after the completion of each College World Series game in Omaha, Nebraska. The tournament begins May 29 and ends June 6.

The interviews, which will feature the head coaches and selected players, and the game wrap-up reports will be of radio-broadcast quality, making them suitable for use by broadcast media.

A touch-tone phone is required to obtain the reports. Calls from pay telephones cannot be accepted.

Similar reports have been available this year at the same 900 number for regional games of the Division I Baseball Championship, held over Memorial Day weekend; the finals of the Division III Baseball Championship, which ended May 26, and the finals of the Division II Baseball Championship, which ends May 30. Scores for those contests have been updated after the fifth inning and at the completion of each game.

Demonstration watchers

During a five-game road trip to Washington, D.C., members of the Florida Atlantic University baseball team witnessed a civil rights demonstration in front of the Justice Building in reaction to the recent Rodney King verdict.

Interpretations Committee minutes

Acting for the NCAA Council, the Interpretations Committee issued the following interpretations:

Financial aid/outside sources
1. Restriction of recipient's choice of institutions. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive financial aid through an established and continuing program administered in accordance with NCAA Bylaw 15.2.5.3 or 15.2.5.4 if the recipient's choice of institutions is restricted in any manner (e.g., recipient is restricted to attending a college or university in a specific state). [References: 15.2.5.3-(c) (athletics participation not a major criterion), 15.2.5.4-(c) (athletics participation as a major criterion)]

Five-year/10-semester rule
2. Beginning of five-year/10-semester period of eligibility. A student-athlete who is registered and enrolled in a minimum full-time program of studies (as determined by the regulations of the institution) and attends any classes on the first day of classes, begins the student's five-year period of eligibility (Division I) or uses one of the student's 10 semesters or 15 quarters of eligibility (Division II or III), even if the student drops to part-time status during that first day of classes. [References: 14.2.1.1 (determining the start of the five-year period), 14.2.2.1 (utilization of semester or quarter)]

Playing season/daily/weekly hour limitations
3. Competition canceled due to weather conditions. If an institution's competition is canceled before the beginning of the competition or canceled before the competition is considered a completed event in accordance with the playing rules of that sport, an institution may utilize that day as its "required day off" per 17.1.5.4 (even if the institution participated in pregame practice activities), provided the institution does not engage in any further countable athletically related activities during that day. Further, the committee noted that if the institution engages in additional countable athletically related activities during that day, the institution shall be charged with not more than three hours toward the maximum 20-hours-per-week limitation, regardless of the actual duration of such activities. [References: 17.1.5.3.2 (competition day), 17.1.5.4 (required day off - playing season)]

Football/practice
4. Spring game at conclusion of spring practice. An institution must include its one scrimmage or contest at the conclusion of spring practice as one of its 15 permissible postseason practice sessions. [References: 17.7.4-(a) (spring practice scrimmage - Divisions I and II), 17.7.6-(a) and 17.7.6-(b) (spring practice - Divisions I and II)]

Football/postseason bowl games
5. Waiver of the "six-win" requirement. After reviewing a recommendation from the Association's legal counsel, the committee declined to recommend a waiver of the provisions of 30.9.2 (i.e., "six-win" requirement) under circumstances in which an institution has existing contracts with non-Division I-A opponents that were executed prior to the adoption of 30.9.2. The committee noted that existing contracts with non-Division I-A opponents do not preclude a Division I-A institution from achieving the "six-win" requirement; further, the effective date of 30.9.2 was delayed one year to provide I-A institutions the opportunity to alter existing contracts with non-Division I-A opponents. [Reference: 30.9.2 (contest status)]

Summer basketball
6. Division III basketball coach participating in a summer basketball league. It is not permissible for a coaching staff member of a Division III institution to be involved in any capacity (e.g., coach, official, player) with an outside team in a summer basketball league that involves any athletes with eligibility remaining from that institution's basketball team. [References: 14.8.5.2-(b) (summer competition - Division III), 17.3.6 (out-of-season practice)]

Playing season
7. Institution conducting majority of contests in nontraditional segment during the fall. An institution that divides its playing and practice season into two distinct segments (per 17.1.2) and conducts its nontraditional segment during the fall must complete all practice and competition by October 30 of the academic year involved, even if the institution schedules 50 percent or more of its contests during the nontraditional segment. [References: 17.1.2 (segments of playing season), 17.1.10.3 (dividing traditional and nontraditional segments - Division III)]

Printed recruiting aids
8. Division III conference providing recruiting materials to prospects. The committee recommended that the NCAA Council review the issue of whether a Division III conference is permitted to provide prospects with any recruiting materials and, if so, what types of recruiting materials. [Reference: 13.4.4 (Division III permissible items)]

Blacks show concern over lack of coaches

The lack of black coaches at Division I schools has prompted the Black Coaches Association to draft a letter to national sports groups addressing the issue.

The group also placed the matter on the agenda for its fifth annual convention, which began May 27 in Atlanta.

"The letter simply puts forth our concerns and our hope that we can find some answers," the group's president, Clemson University football defensive coordinator Ron Dickerson, told The Associated Press. "It won't be radical or anything like that."

The last black coach at a Division I school was Stanford University's Dennis Green, who resigned earlier this year to coach the National Football League's Minnesota Vikings.

The letter, which was to be presented to the BCA membership for approval, will be sent to the NCAA Presidents Commission, NCAA Executive Director Richard D. Schultz, the American Football Coaches Association, the College Football Association and the National Association of College Directors of Athletics, Dickerson said.

The group also planned to discuss bringing high-school coaches into the organization and getting blacks more involved in baseball.

Facility alcohol management course set

Techniques for Effective Alcohol Management (TEAM) will conduct an instructor-development workshop on facility alcohol management at two sites this year.

The first will be June 29, 30 and July 1 in Kansas City, Missouri, while the second will be November 11-13 in East Rutherford, New Jersey.

The instructor-development course will help participants learn to work with management on developing written policies and procedures for the service and consumption of alcohol at their facilities.

TEAM is a national coalition of Federal agencies, private businesses and nonprofit organizations that promotes responsible sale and consumption of alcohol at public assembly facilities. TEAM also seeks to reduce the incidence of alcohol-impaired driving.

For more information, contact Donna L. Hockersmith at the national office (913/339-1906).

Radio/TV

NBC to give major coverage to minor sports

NBC cablecasts of the 1992 Summer Olympics will put minor sports in the spotlight.

The network's "Olympics TripleCast" will include extensive looks at normally neglected events such as synchronized swimming, water polo, rhythmic gymnastics, equestrian and road cycling, The Associated Press reported.

NBC will supplement its 161 hours of free Olympic coverage with a 24-hour, pay-per-view lineup on three cable channels. Unlike the taped network telecasts from Barcelona, Spain, the cable shows will be live and uninterrupted.

Banana Slugs gobble up the field in nickname poll

What's in a name? More specifically, what's in a nickname? If you're at the University of California, Santa Cruz, you can celebrate the top nickname in college sports.

The school's athletics teams, called the Banana Slugs, were judged to have the No. 1 college sports nickname by a panel of voters from Collegiate Directories, the NCAA, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, the National Junior College Athletic Association, National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, USA Today, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News and the Chicago Tribune.

"If this were the NCAA basketball tournament, you would have to put the Banana Slugs in Duke's place far and away the favorite, the No. 1 seed," said Kevin Cleary, editor of the National Directory of College Athletics, which this summer will publish its silver anniversary edition.

The Banana Slugs scored 199 points, followed by Oglethorpe University's 115½ points for its nickname, the Stormy Petrels.

The rest of the top 10 are: No. 3. Arkansas Tech University Wonder Boys, 114 points; 4. University of California, Irvine, Anteaters, 107; 5. Northern Montana College Northern Lights, 99; 6. (tie) Evergreen State College Geoducks; Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne, Mastodons, and Washburn University of Topeka Ichabods, 91; 9. Heidelberg College Student Princes, 89; 10. Lincoln Memorial University Railsplitters, 87.

Student-athlete named citizen of month

Newark, New Jersey, Mayor Sharpe James recently named Rutgers University, Newark, women's basketball player Jackie Oliver as the city's citizen of the month for May.

The 20-year-old sophomore, who averaged 17.8 points and 9.8 rebounds this season, was honored for her excellence in and out of the classroom. Oliver posted a 3.600 grade-point average (4.000 scale) during the spring semester.

Briefly in the News

"First comes my education, then basketball," Oliver said. "When I come out of college, I want to give something back to the Newark school system and perhaps even coach. Somebody gave me a chance once, and soon I can give something back to the city."

This time the buck stopped in Illinois

Veteran baseball announcer Jack Buck delivered the commencement address during graduation ceremonies recently at Illinois College, where he told the grads they should strive to be hard-working, law-abiding and "square" citizens.

"From now on you have decisions to make," Buck said. "No compromising, no doing it the easy way, no cheating, no shortcuts, no drugs.

Jennifer Winter

The world's a little crazy. It used to be that a handshake meant a square deal, and now a square is someone who lives within the law, goes to church and pays his debts with his own money. The squares have made this a great nation. You should join their ranks. Be a square."

Golfers find birdie before reaching course

Northeast Missouri State University golfers Julie Bettenhausen and Karin Moore had birdies on their minds as they drove to the 1992 Women's National Golf Coaches Association Division II championships in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

About 30 miles south of Greensboro, North Carolina, the women, along with Northeast Missouri State women's golf coach Sam Lesseig, were shocked when a large bird flew into their vehicle's windshield and shattered it. Because of the late hour, Lesseig went to a 24-hour convenience store and purchased plastic cling wrap to keep the shards of glass from flying inside the car.

"I'm not sure what hit the windshield, but it looked like a buzzard," Lesseig said. "You might say we got a birdie before the tournament started."

College roommates share top honor

Susquehanna University student-athletes and roommates Paige Malin and Jennifer Winter, both of whom graduated May 17, were corecipients of the institution's Outstanding Senior Female Athletic Award.

Malin was a starter and earned a total of 11 letters in field hockey, swimming and lacrosse. Winter, who was a four-year starter on the women's basketball team and softball squad, finished her career as the school's all-time leading hitter in softball.

"These two are models of the contemporary senior female athlete," Susquehanna athletics director Donald Harnum said. "They're good, solid students who compete in nearly every season and are involved in the campus community."

Milestone

Winona State University baseball coach Gary Grob registered his 700th career victory May 8 in a 9-8 defeat of Southwest State University. Grob is a member of the NAIA Hall of Fame.

Magazine honors departments' excellence

Athletic Management magazine has honored several NCAA member institutions, praising them for innovation and sound management of athletics programs in nine different categories. They are:

- University of Southern Illinois at Carbondale, in athletics training management, "for its unique and generous sports-medicine program that treats the school's general student population."

- Wake Forest University, in athletics training research, "for its research and effective management of the Xi-Scan 1000 portable radiographic and fluoroscopic imaging system that replaces the need for most X-rays of athletics injuries."

- University of Vermont, in community relations, "for its Kids & Kops program, which has successfully fostered positive relationships between area youngsters and police officers while warning the children about the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse."

- University of South Carolina at Aiken, in fund-raising, "for its creative 'Home Runs for Scholarships' program that has raised important scholarship money for members of its baseball program."

- University of Southwestern Louisiana, in women's athletics, "for its outstanding women's softball program, which constantly strives for improvement and has risen to national prominence in just 12 years."

- Mankato State University, in academic support, "for its special educational program that has taught its student-athletes and coaches about the often-neglected issues of sexism, sexual harassment and sexual violence."

- University of Illinois, Champaign, in equipment management, "for its efficient, new computerized equipment managing system that keeps track of every bit of information for a job loaded with details."

- University of California, Los Angeles, in outdoor facility management, "for its state-of-the-art tennis facility that accommodates student and local recreational activity in addition to its use as an intercollegiate and professional tennis venue."

- University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, in indoor facility management, "for its efficient and effective implementation of a computerized locker rental system that controls the use of 5,000 lockers in a 188,000-square-foot facility."
