Task force hears reactions to report on gender equity

Following a set of hearings, the next stop for the preliminary report of the NCAA Gender-Equity Task Force is the June 29-30 meeting of the NCAA Presidents Commission.

After reporting to the Presidents Commission, the task force will meet June 30-July 1 to work toward a final report that will be provided to the NCAA Council at its August meeting.

The hearings, conducted May 24, 26 and 27, permitted the membership and other interested parties the opportunity to comment on the group's preliminary report.

Task force cochair Phyllis L. Howlett, assistant commissioner of the Big Ten Conference, and James J. Whalen, president of Ithaca College, hosted the hearings in San Francisco; Chicago, and Washington, D.C.

Collins' reaction

Among those commenting was U.S. Rep. Cardiss Collins, D-Illinois, who said the report lacks clear standards and enforcement provisions.

"Now, compare these recommendations to rules the NCAA has on the books for recruiting," Collins said. "Did the NCAA choose to define acceptable recruiting practices as recruiting practices that coaches at other schools would be proud to adopt as their own (a reference to a portion of the task force's definition of gender equity)?"

"No. Instead, there are detailed rules governing days for recruiting, trips for students to visit campuses and a host of other rules. More importantly, a school found to be

Crowley to head up 12-member search committee

NCAA President Joseph N. Crowley will chair a 12-member search committee that will select the next NCAA executive director.

The committee's first meeting will be June 9 in San Diego. A replacement is being sought for Executive Director Richard D. Schultz, who announced his resignation May 11.

Crowley, president of the University of Nevada, will be joined on the search committee by the Association's three division vice-presidents, four other members of the Executive Committee and four members of the NCAA Presidents Commission.

The Executive Committee is responsible for employing the executive director, with the approval of the NCAA Council and the Presidents Commission.

Besides Crowley, the members of the search committee are:

Executive Committee: Joan C. Cronan, director of women's athletics, University of Tennessee, Knoxville; R. Elaine Dreidame, NCAA Division I vice-president and senior associate director of athletics at the University of Dayton; Kenneth A. Free, commissioner of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference; John H. Harvey, NCAA Division III vice-president and director of athletics at Carnegie Mellon University; Phyllis L. Howlett, assistant commissioner of the Big Ten Conference; Charles N. Lindemann, NCAA Division II vice-president and director of athletics at Humboldt State University, and John D. Swofford, director of athletics at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Presidents Commission: Judith E. N. Albino, president of the University of Colorado; David G. Carter, president of Eastern Connecticut State University; Anthony J. Catanese, president of Florida Atlantic University, and Charles E. Young, chancellor of the University of California, Los Angeles.

The position will be advertised in The NCAA News (see page 23), the Chronicle of Higher Education and selected daily newspapers.

The search committee has sent memorandums with the announcement to all chief executive officers and commissioners at member institutions and conferences and to chief executive officers of selected national education associations.

Graduation-rates reporting proceeds as deadline looms

The Association is preparing to provide to the Federal government compilations of graduation-rates reports for all Division I institutions and enrollment and persist-ance-rate reports for Divisions II and III institutions.

The reports will be sent to the U.S. Department of Education June 30 to meet a July 1 deadline for the reporting of such data by higher-education institutions.

The reports, compiling data from the 1991, 1992 and 1993 NCAA Division I Graduation-Rates

Disclosure Forms and the 1993 NCAA Divisions II and III Enrollment and Persistence-Rates Disclosure Form, are the first to be submitted to the Department of cial Committee to Study Rules Federation by Sport will be conducted June 28 in Kansas City, Missouri.

In its first meeting, the committee explored the concept of permitting institutions to assign sports to national or regional "tiers of emphasis."

The approach that was discussed, which was acknowledged to be broad and preliminary, would involve permitting institutions to compete in some sports on a more regulated "national level" while maintaining others at a less regulated "regional level."

Gender equity

Task force concludes hearings on report

The membership reacted to the preliminary report of the NCAA Gender-Equity Task Force during hearings conducted between May 24 and 27. A summary of the hearings appears on page 1 of this issue.

The task force next will submit its report to the NCAA Presidents Commission, which will meet June 29-30. At the conclusion of the Presidents Commission meeting, the task force will meet June 30-July 1 in Kansas City, Missouri.

The preliminary report was mailed to the membership May 14 and appeared in the May 19 issue of The NCAA News.

Those who could not attend any of the hearings may submit written reaction until June 11 to Ursula R. Walsh, director of research, at the national office.

For more detail, see the May 19, May 5 and March 31 issues of The NCAA News.

Staff contacts: Ursula R. Walsh and Stephen A. Mallon.

Next meeting: June 30-July 1 in Kansas City, Missouri.

Certification

Scheduling subcommittee plans June 20-21 meeting

The scheduling subcommittee of the Committee on Athletics Certification will meet June 20-21 in Chicago to discuss matters related to the timing of the athletics certification plan.

The scheduling subcommittee is in the process of developing a single, five-year certification schedule for all Division I institutions. That schedule is expected to be approved and distributed in September.

Conferences that want to suggest their own schedule have been sent material to aid them in the process.

Nominations for peer reviewers will be accepted until August 15. In late April, Division I members and conferences received forms for nominating peer reviewers, qualifications for which were detailed in a story that appeared in the April 21 issue of The NCAA News.

The chief executive officer commitment form is due July 1. The certification committee has recommended that CEOs serve on a peer-review team at least once during the five-year cycle, and the form is being used as a means of determining their interest.

For more detail, see the May 12, April 7 and March 24 issues of The NCAA News.

Staff contact: John H. Leavens.

Next meeting: July 22 in Dallas.

Special committees

The NCAA currently has 13 special committees. During its February 10 conference call, the NCAA Administrative Committee reviewed the charges to all special and ad hoc committees and established dates for the conclusion of their assignments.

Those committees, along with the date of appointment and the conclusion date, are:

■ Ad Hoc Committee to Administer the Conference Grant Program. Appointed December 28, 1987; to be concluded July 1, 1993, after which the NCAA staff will have responsibility for administering the program (reporting to the NCAA Executive Committee).

■ Ad Hoc Committee to Study Enforcement Issues (has studied whether to have infractions hearing officers or open hearings).

Appointed November 11, 1992; to be concluded by November 1, 1993.

■ Special Degree Completion Program Committee. Appointed April 17, 1988; continue for the next year, with the Administrative Committee to determine if legislation should be proposed to make this a standing committee.

■ Special Planning Committee for Drug Testing. Appointed December 5, 1988; conclusion August 31, 1993.

■ Special Advisory Committee for Women's Corporate Marketing (to oversee the Association's agreement with the Sara Lee Corporation to promote women's intercollegiate athletics). Appointed January 31, 1991; to be concluded January 1, 1994, after which the responsibility would be handled by the Committee on Women's Athletics.

■ Special Committee to Oversee Implementation of the NCAA Initial-Eligibility Clearinghouse. Appointed January 27, 1993; to be reviewed next year.

Briefly in the News

Ouch! Player hit 52 times

Jerry Shelton took his lumps getting there, but he nonetheless made it into the NCAA Division I baseball records book.

The senior third baseman for the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, recently became the all-time leader in being hit by pitches—52 times—during his career with the Crimson Tide.

Shelton breaks the record set in 1992 by Pete Schramka of Coastal Carolina College of the University of South Carolina, who was hit 51 times.

"If I wasn't getting the job done swinging the bat, that was one way to get on base," Shelton told The Associated Press.

Shelton developed somewhat of an immunity to the stingers, but occasionally, one would get his attention.

"It really doesn't hurt that bad," he said. "Well, some do hurt, but you get good at taking them, learning to let them deflect off your body. There's a trick to it, making them glance off you."

Nicknamed "Stitch" for his medical scrapes, Shelton said he realizes his record will not stand up as much as, say, an ERA leader or home run king, but he's made history.

"It doesn't take a lot of talent to get hit by a pitch," he said. "As far as being a great accomplishment, it's probably not. But after I got so close, I figured it would be a shame if I didn't go ahead and do it."

Triple threat

Move over, Deion Sanders and Robert Redford. Here comes "Ms. Prime Time" and "The Natural" all wrapped into one person.

Freshman Andrea Miller, a three-sport standout at Austin Peay State University, is the school's most celebrated recruit since James "Fly" Williams was the nation's fifth-leading scorer as a freshman basketball player 20 years ago. A volleyball, basketball and softball player, Miller is the talk of the campus.

During the overlapping fall sports of basketball and volleyball, Miller's days did not end until 10:30 at night as the two teams' practice schedules were adjusted.

"We wanted to make every effort possible for Andrea to participate in this opportunity," Austin Peay State athletics director Tim Weiser told the Chicago Tribune. "Coaches can sometimes get a little selfish. The impressive thing is that she has so much skill in all three sports, and she's so devoted to academics."

"I loved playing three sports," said Miller, who carried a 3.500 grade-point average (4.000 scale) this year. "I did it four years in high school and only missed a total of two games. It's not like a burden or anything."

"The reaction of the guy athletes here was: 'Are you for real?' Then they'd come and watch me play. It was fun playing three sports, and I got to meet a lot of people. I'd be at a party and someone would say: 'Don't you have your cross-trainers on?'"

Athletes educate

Karen Baird and Liz Ruhl of Adrian College teamed up for their share of double plays during their careers as shortstop and second baseman, respectively. But off the diamond this season, the duo has teamed up to speak on the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse and other social issues.

Baird and Ruhl are members of Peer Active Leaders (PALs) at Adrian. Ruhl is the president of the 30-member group, which has held discussions with fellow athletes on subjects such as date rape, steroids, illicit drugs, and blood-borne pathogens such as HIV and Hepatitis-B.

No construction, please

Georgia Institute of Technology athletics director Homer Rice said he is against plans to build a new basketball arena as part of the Olympic aquatics center on or near the Atlanta campus.

"The reasons for this decision are many, but primarily because this undertaking appears to take us further away from our true mission as a department of intercollegiate athletics," Rice told The Associated Press.

Under a deal worked out in April, the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games agreed to spend $21 million to build an indoor aquatics facility for the 1996 Olympics. The institution was then to use $22 million from the Georgia Tech Athletic Association and another $13 million from fund-raising efforts to replace the school's Alexander Memorial Coliseum with a 15,000-seat arena and aquatics center.

Looking back

5 years ago: Rep. Tom McMillen, D-Maryland, warned approximately 500 attendees at the Presidents Commission National Forum June 20, 1988, in Orlando, Florida, that Congress will intervene in college athletics if the NCAA membership does not "balance the academic and athletics missions" in the nation's education system. (The NCAA News, June 22, 1988)

10 years ago: The first Division I summer meeting was held June 24-25, 1983, in Kansas City, Missouri. The new meeting offered approximately 175 participants representing Division I voting conferences and independent institutions a midyear opportunity to discuss current major issues. (The NCAA News, June 22 and July 6, 1983)

20 years ago: The June 15, 1973, issue of the NCAA News outlined concerns regarding "a deluge of proposed sports legislation, some proposing broad Federal control of amateur athletics," that had been introduced in the 92nd and 93rd Congresses. (June 15, 1973, NCAA News)

30 years ago: The first National College Division Tennis, Track and Field, and Golf Championships were conducted in June 1963. California State University, Los Angeles, beat Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, for the tennis title June 6-8, 1963, at Washington University (Missouri). The track championship went to the University of Maryland, Eastern Shore, which defeated California State University, Fresno, June 7-8 at the University of Chicago. Southwest Missouri State University hosted the golf competition June 12-14 and beat Aquinas College for the team championship. ("NCAA: The Voice of College Sports" and National Collegiate Championships records book)

Fact file

The number of institutions holding membership in both the NCAA and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) has declined from 150 or more in the 1960s to approximately 40 today and from 117 to 41 in the period between 1979 and 1992.

Statistically speaking, Boda knows football

By David Smale
SPECIAL TO THE NCAA NEWS

Steve Boda says he is neither a trivia buff nor a fan. But if there is a question of any consequence concerning University of Notre Dame football, or college football for that matter, there probably is no better source of information anywhere than Boda.

After all, the former NCAA statistics researcher was born in the same hospital in South Bend, Indiana, in which George Gipp died.

It all started in 1931, when Boda was a seven-year-old growing up in South Bend. The football coach at Notre Dame was a short, stocky man with a staccato voice and an almost immortal presence—Knut Rockne. Rockne was famous for, among other things, his love for children. He allowed kids to come to practice, and he constantly talked to them. One of those he talked to during spring practice in 1931 was Boda.

"It was two or three weeks before he was killed," Boda recalled. "I can remember him vividly, almost like it was right now. He was incredible. That was why some old-time Notre Damers say they don't think he died. He was just too big."

"He was a brilliant man. They said he could have been a chemist or anything else he wanted to be. Industry was beckoning him. I don't think he would have stayed in coaching that much longer. When he was killed in a plane crash, he was on his way to Hollywood to do a picture."

But Rockne was there long enough to make an impression on the young Boda. That, and the fact that Boda came down later that spring with tuberculosis that confined him to his house and prohibited him from playing sports, started him on a lifelong pursuit of Notre Dame memorabilia.

Two years later, Boda's mother died. His father could not raise the children himself, so he sent them to an orphanage in Indianapolis, where Boda says collecting helped him survive. "They were very strict there," he said. "We had everything we needed, but this activity consumed a lot of time and gave me something to call my own."

Boda says much of his collection has come since childhood. He continued to collect, even after graduating from Indiana University, Bloomington (he did not meet the stiff academic qualifications to attend Notre Dame after serving in World War II), and joining the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, the predecessor to the statistics department of the NCAA, in 1949. Homer Cooke owned and operated the NCAB, which compiled statistics for all four-year colleges, whether they were NCAA members or not.

The NCAB even compiled stats for the National Basketball Association before being incorporated by the NCAA. But Cooke, who had started compiling football stats in 1937, wanted nothing from previous eras included in the information Boda collected. "That frustrated me," Boda said, "because I knew about the things Red Grange, Jim Thorpe and men like that had done. I already had collected those stats on my

Criticism often far off target

By Jim Colletto
PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Our celebrated sports journalists continue to show their ignorance of college athletics and foster the party line that the NCAA cannot function and that athletics is corrupt.

Recently in USA Today, a commentary by Tom Weir compared coaches who recruit players to "pimps." About the same time in the Lafayette Journal and Courier, a commentary by Jim Litke showed how little the so-called sports journalists know about how the system functions.

The journalists love to create turmoil. Their favorite lines of late: "We need to pay a monthly stipend to athletes for all the millions they raise," and "These poor athletes are not allowed to get an education because of the time involved with their sport."

Let's set the record straight. First, all athletes from low-income backgrounds can apply for a Pell Grant each year they are in school. Those who qualify for full need will receive $2,400 for the school year. This is $300 per month on an eight-month academic year. This is a cash grant that the athletes can use any way they want. Some do not use it very wisely.

This grant can be renewed each year the athlete is in school. At Purdue, an athlete who receives the full Pell Grant and is an out-of-state student is receiving a scholarship and funds that total about $13,000 per year. Over a typical five-year college career, that totals $65,000.

On top of that, an athlete who receives any Pell Grant aid has access to an emergency fund administered by our athletics department. This money can be used for plane tickets home for a family death or emergency, the purchase of specific school supplies, or to buy a winter coat.

On the academic side, the journalists still have no clue. Athletes can practice only 20 hours per week, which is more than enough to run our football program. During the off-season, they can be involved in sports-related activities a total of only eight hours a

Sportsmanship the obvious priority

By Robert F. Kanaby
NATIONAL FEDERATION OF STATE
HIGH SCHOOL ASSOCIATIONS

Among areas that need attention, one stands out that needs constant reinforcement—and it's an area in which athletics directors play a key role: sportsmanship.

Sportsmanship has been a top priority under the previous leadership of the National Federation, and it will remain so under this regime. It is vital. It is a must. It is an absolute necessity if our programs are to survive and effectively take their place in the educational process of young adults.

Actions of coaches, players and fans that occur at the high-school level must serve as a positive example to the mission of high-school activities.

In my humble view, there is nothing that can counteract repeated displays of proper sportsmanship. Every entity and group that is touched by our programs will be affected in a positive sense by the repetition. The promotion of this worthy concept, this Herculean task of educating and demonstrating to all people the concept of fair play, falls to us as educators.

Others, sometimes many others, speak and act for different purposes in our activities. They speak for outcomes and results that are measured by scores and reviews. That is not our primary purpose. We speak for the spirit of these activities. We need to view ourselves as the power center for the promotion of the educational values of high-school sports and activities in America.

It was in 1913 that H. G. Wells wrote a novel entitled "The World Set Free" in which atomic energy was used to make bombs that devastated the world. So horrified was mankind at what it had done that it finally allowed its best people to come forth and build a better world. Our world suffers with each unsportsmanlike act that occurs at any level of sports and activities in America. It is up to us to come forth and protect, preserve and create, when necessary, a better world of activities for our young people.

The development of sportsmanship must be a continuous goal of athletics administrators and all educators. We stand as those who are initially relied upon to assist education in the attainment of that goal....No other group in education has such an opportunity to the same degree it is offered us.

The achievement of skills in young people that lead to a more humane, caring, civilized society is richly entwined in the promotion of sportsmanship in our activities. Our activities teach young people about themselves, who they are, as well as who they can become.

Ordinary things such as scores and related outcomes will pass away in our memories. What will remain is our impact on the future of young people and, through them, the future character and quality of life in America.

We shall surely continue to be tested and challenged. Our capacity for meeting those challenges must never vary or falter because all student-athletes are depending upon our resolve.

Robert F. Kanaby is the new executive director of the National Federation of State High School Associations.

□ Opinions

Debate ignores football's contributions

Charles M. Neinas, executive director
College Football Association
CFA Sidelines

"Some proponents of gender equity believe that to achieve gender equity, drastic changes to college football must be enacted. They hypothesize that the only way to address equal funding is to limit the institutional expenditures on football and that college football will only be brought in line kicking and screaming. In fact, some refer to the discussion surrounding gender equity as a '100-yard battlefield.'"

"It is important to recognize that college football is not against women's athletics. However, college football is the target of the majority of the reform actions. In this climate of committees and subcommittees, college football has become the most scrutinized sport on campus. Yet, history indicates that its voice has been minimized or excluded in the debate...."

"There is a carefully orchestrated movement to confuse the law, Title IX, with gender equity. In some circles, the main objective appears to be funding and opportunities for women with a secondary agenda of reducing intercollegiate football. The fact that the popularity of football has afforded many of the opportunities available to today's student-athletes is ignored. No factual proof has been presented by gender-equity proponents that diverting money from football will not damage its ability to maintain a meaningful level of competition."

Graduation rates

Gene Bartow, men's basketball coach
University of Alabama, Birmingham

Reacting to the most recent graduation-rates report:

"I would definitely have a problem with a report that is so narrow in focus and just doesn't tell the whole story. Obviously, we're not happy about the figures that the report looked at. Not everyone—especially student-athletes who have such extreme demands on their time—finishes their degree in five years."

"If you take a closer look at the players who entered our program during those years, and you do not impose an arbitrary five-year time limit on graduation, you would see that the rate is more in the range of 40 percent, which is also the figure that we feel reflects the entire 15-year history of our basketball program.

"The current NCAA report is not realistic, and it is an insult to the young men who have worked so hard, have come back to UAB over the years between professional basketball and other jobs, who have found a way to complete their degrees against very tough odds."

Women's basketball

Ailene Voisin, columnist
The Atlanta Journal

"So it can be done."

"Great game, great atmosphere, great time had by all, sometimes even by the losers. Such was the case with Northwestern. Though losers to Tennessee in the NCAA Midwest regional, the Wildcats returned home having played before 8,000 boisterous fans, many of whom were moved to their feet by slick passes, high-arching treys and blocked shots...in a women's NCAA tournament game."

"This is the norm at Tennessee, one quickly discovers, yet the exception on all but a handful of other college campuses."

"Why is that?"

"Why indeed. The rationalizations appear specious—even suspicious—given the simplicity of the alternatives, many of which are routinely displayed at Tennessee. With four powerful women manipulating behind the scenes, the Lady Vols not only win NCAA titles (three in the past seven years), they win over communities and corporations alike, and turn UT outings into afternoon delights...."

"All this results from a not-so-revolutionary concept called marketing, an undertaking Tennessee officials emphasize and excel at. The Lady Vols last season led the nation in both attendance and fund-raising, averaging almost 7,000 fans and earning more than $1 million through sports auctions, events, corporate sponsorships, donations and endowments."

"But this is critical—women's athletics director Joan Cronan within the past five years has hired a marketing director and director of development, solely for the women's programs, which is largely unheard of, even among the wealthier schools."

Nominations solicited for committee vacancies

Administrative personnel at NCAA member institutions are invited to submit nominations for upcoming vacancies on the NCAA Council, Executive Committee, general committees appointed by the Council, and sports committees.

The NCAA Nominating Committee will review nominations and make recommendations to fill the NCAA officer and Council positions. The NCAA Men's and Women's Committees on Committees will consider candidates for sports committees, and the NCAA Council, at its Convention meetings in January, will appoint members of general committees in accordance with the provisions of Bylaws 21.1 and 21.3. Also, at its post-Convention meeting, the Council will appoint members of the Executive Committee.

While nominations will be accepted from anyone at an NCAA member institution or conference, customarily the director of athletics, faculty athletics representative, senior woman administrator of athletics programs, president or conference commissioner nominates personnel for service on NCAA committees.

The vacancies to be filled are for terms beginning September 1, 1994 (or, in the case of officers, Council, Executive Committee or ex officio positions earmarked for Council members, for terms beginning January 1994). Committee members who are eligible for reelection normally are reelected.

Sports committee members are elected by the annual Convention upon the recommendation of the Men's Committee on Committees and the Women's Committee on Committees.

Nominations must be submitted to Fannie B. Vaughan, executive assistant, at the NCAA national office, 6201 College Boulevard, Overland Park, Kansas 66211-2422 (fax 913/339-0035), and must be received no later than June 23, 1993.

The nominee's name, title, institution, address, division, district and conference should be submitted. A separate nomination letter is to be provided for each candidate. To be eligible for consideration, candidates then must complete a form providing information about qualifications. The NCAA office will send the form to each nominee; the Council has specified that the candidate will not be considered unless the individual completes the form and returns it by the deadline.

A complete list of NCAA officers, Council and Executive Committee members, and members of all standing committees may be found in the 1993 NCAA Committee Handbook, which was distributed to the membership in March. Committee changes that have occurred since publication of that booklet have been printed in the Committee Notices column in The NCAA News.

ACC content with current state of expansion

After two years of college expansion in which leagues have jockeyed for position in the spotlight, the Atlantic Coast Conference appears ready to rest with the addition of Florida State University.

"I met with our faculty representatives and we talked about what's happening with expansion other places," ACC commissioner Eugene F. Corrigan said during the league's spring meeting. "Three or four of our faculty reps said we got the right team, and there was just a sense of contentment that we did the right thing."

Although other expansion schools have brought their leagues additional credibility, few can match what Florida State has done for the ACC, especially monetarily.

The Seminole football program has added about $11 million to the ACC coffers the past two seasons, playing in two major bowls and appearing on television five times each season.

And that $11 million figure does not take into account football ticket sales. The Seminoles were the hottest football ticket in ACC history last season, selling out all road games. But the major surprise has been the basketball team, which advanced to the NCAA tournament rounds of 16 and eight in the last two seasons.

What some thought might be an albatross with the odd number—the ACC basketball play-in game between seeds No. 8 and No. 9—has outdrawn other conferences' championship games.

"We like the idea that everybody plays everybody in football," Corrigan said. "But two years from now we may look at it and say, I need to buy a home game and I need to do some stuff, and maybe we won't play eight games."

"But that's down the road. Right now we are committed to this."

Criticism

Journalists often misinformed in comments about college athletics week. During the season, they must be given one day off per week.

Athletes today must continually make progress toward their degree every semester. In the Big Ten Conference, they must maintain a certain grade-point average to retain their scholarships. Each athlete is restricted in the amount of units that can be taken in summer school.

If any person in the reading audience or any sports journalist is interested enough to stop by our football office, I will be glad to demonstrate what is done on the academic side for our athletes.

Our society has become one of accusation without knowledge, criticism without substance. It's time for the public to know how intercollegiate athletics works and what is available to the athletes.

The system is not perfect, but we are continually trying to improve it. There are many men and women who greatly benefit from the NCAA and intercollegiate athletics.

Jim Colletto is head football coach at Purdue University.

One run is all Arizona needs to beat UCLA for softball title

Arizona took advantage of an early UCLA error to score the only run of the game and pitcher Susie Parra threw a two-hitter to clinch the Wildcats' second Division I Women's Softball Championship, 1-0, over the Bruins May 31 in Oklahoma City.

The run that eventually proved to be the game-winner came in the bottom of the first inning. Amy Chellevoid reached first base on a throwing error by UCLA shortstop Kristy Howard. Jamie Heggen advanced Chellevoid to second on a sacrifice, then designated player Leah O'Brien singled up the middle to bring Chellevoid home.

With one out and O'Brien on, Jenny Dalton walked, but Jody Pruitt struck out and Parra fled out to end the inning.

UCLA's only scoring threat came in the top of the third inning. Joanne Alchin singled to lead off the inning and moved to second on a sacrifice by Nichole Victoria. After Parra struck out Kelly Inouye, Kelly Howard drew a walk. But pinch hitter Jennifer Brundage grounded out, stranding two runners.

Parra retired eight of the last 11 batters, giving up a single to Lisa Fernandez in the fourth inning and issuing an intentional walk to Fernandez in the sixth. Howard reached on a fielder's choice. Parra ended the game by striking out the side in the seventh inning.

"Anyone who's been here knows how it feels," Arizona coach Mike Candrea said. "I'm especially happy for my seniors who spilled their guts out there today. This whole ballclub believed in themselves, and so did I. They didn't hit the panic button after yesterday's loss (in Game 13 to Southwestern Louisiana), but instead, they sat down and had a team meeting and talked about getting their intensity level up, and today that showed."

"We've been here before and wanted nothing more than to take home the championship. I didn't think one run would be enough, but fortunately Susie held them off."

Parra struck out six batters and walked only two in improving her record to 28-3. Her counterpart, Fernandez, gave up only one hit, struck out four and walked just one.

UCLA coach Sharron Backus had nothing but praise for Fernandez, who ended an outstanding collegiate career with a brilliant tournament.

"Lisa is one of a kind. She's the superstar and the hardest worker we have on our team. Her teammates seem to follow her lead, and she's definitely the leader of this club. We'll miss her, and so will the sport of softball," Backus said.

Fernandez pitched two no-hitters and four shutouts and gave up two runs, one of which was earned, in pitching every inning for UCLA. The Long Beach, California, native ended her career with a 93-7 record, including 11 no-hitters. Also, she was the nation's leading hitter this season.

UCLA and Arizona have combined to win the last six championships. Arizona also won the championship in 1991, while UCLA has claimed the other four during that time.

The series, played at the Amateur Softball Association's Hall of Fame Stadium, saw its popularity at that site continue to grow. A five-day record of 21,968 fans saw the event.

The all-tournament team included Chellevoid, first base, Arizona; Krista Gomez, second base, Arizona; Victoria, third base, UCLA; April Austin, shortstop, Oklahoma State; Stacy Redondo, outfield, Arizona; Kathy Morton, outfield, Southwestern Louisiana; Andrea D'Innocenzo, outfield, Connecticut; Pruitt, catcher, Arizona; Fernandez, pitcher, UCLA; Parra, pitcher, Arizona; Melanie Roche, at large, Oklahoma State, and Kyla Hall, at large, Southwestern Louisiana.

Strong pitching lifts Montclair State in III baseball

Montclair State received outstanding pitching from Drew Yocum and timely hitting to win its second Division III baseball championship with a 3-1 victory over Wisconsin-Oshkosh June 1 in Battle Creek, Michigan.

Yocum, the tournament's most outstanding player, allowed only one run on seven hits and notched his second complete game of the tournament. In 18 innings, Yocum allowed 10 hits, one earned run, one walk and five strikeouts.

Wisconsin-Oshkosh, which finished the season 28-15, took a 1-0 lead in the second inning after Brian Bott's single scored Brent Pattridge.

But in the top of the fourth inning, John Pallino and Ralph Yezza singled for Montclair State. Jason Scavella reached on a fielder's choice after Wisconsin-Oshkosh shortstop Bott bobbled a throw. Titan pitcher Chad Kopitzke then walked Harold VanDunk to tie the game, 1-1.

Then, Brian Sasso reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Yezza. A wild throw to third by Bott allowed Scavella to score the final run.

Right-fielder Scott Mann and left-fielder Pattridge had two hits each for Wisconsin-Oshkosh, which was competing in the championship game for the fourth time in 15 years. It was the Titans' third runner-up finish.

Montclair State finished its championship season with a 37-11 record.

Defending champions retain II track titles

St. Augustine's holds on to win men's competition

This was supposed to be the year that the St. Augustine's Division II Men's Outdoor Track Championships title reign come to an end.

Not this year.

The Falcons won three individual events and one relay, compiling 110 points, and narrowly won their fifth consecutive team title May 27-29 at Abilene Christian.

St. Augustine's edged host Abilene Christian (103 points) by a mere seven points. It was the closest championships finish since 1980, when Cal Poly San Luis Obispo edged Cal State Los Angeles by five points.

Adams State finished third with 64 points, and Angelo State (46) and Texas A&I (44) rounded out the top five.

Michael Francis set the pace for the Falcons, winning the long-jump title in record-breaking fashion. Francis jumped 26 feet, 6 1/4 inches, shattering the championships mark of 26-4 1/4 set by Ron Waynes of Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in 1983.

James Shelton (high jump) and Larry Sanders (400-meter hurdles)

also won individual crowns. Shelton won his second consecutive high-jump title and the fourth straight in the event for the Falcons, and Sanders claimed his second 400-meter hurdles title in three years. Sanders extended a St. Augustine's streak in that event to four straight.

St. Augustine's also claimed the 1,600-meter relay in 3 minutes, 9.20 seconds. The title was the fifth straight for the Falcons.

Bryan Bridgewater of Cal State Los Angeles and Joseph Tengelei of Abilene Christian each won two titles. Bridgewater won the 100- and 200-meter dashes to become the first athlete in championships history to repeat as champion in both races in the same year. Bridgewater clocked in at 20.11 in the 200-meter dash, smashing his own championships record of 20.15 set last year.

Tengelei won the 800- and 1,500-meter runs to account for two of the five individual titles claimed by the host Wildcats.

Patrick Delice of Texas A&I also set a championships record in the 400-meter dash. Delice posted a time of 44.58, breaking the mark of 44.7 set by Antonio Pettigrew of St. Augustine's in 1991.

Alabama A&M narrowly edges Abilene Christian in women's event

A year ago, Alabama A&M took the Division II Women's Outdoor Track Championships by storm and rolled to a 47-point victory.

They did it a little more quietly this year, but the Lady Bulldogs claimed their second consecutive team title May 27-29 at Abilene Christian.

Alabama A&M won two individual titles and one relay title and recorded three other top-three finishes to register 92 points and narrowly edge host Abilene Christian (86 points).

Cal State Los Angeles (56 points), Norfolk State (55) and Seattle Pacific (47) finished second, third and fourth, respectively.

Olga Robinson (400-meter dash) and Chinweoke Chikwelu (javelin throw) won the Lady Bulldogs' individual crowns. Robinson also finished second in the 200-meter dash. In addition, the Lady Bulldogs won the 1,600-meter relay.

There were a number of outstanding individual performances. Chandra Sturup of Norfolk State led the way by sweeping the 100- and 200-meter dashes—the latter victory coming in record-breaking style. Sturup, who repeated as champion in both events, clocked in at 22.85 in the 200 to eclipse the mark of 22.92 set by Dannette Young of Alabama A&M in 1986.

Janet Hill of Cal State Los Angeles shattered the championships mark in the discus throw. Hill's record-setting throw measured 178 feet, 4 inches, smashing the mark of 174-11 set by Diane Oswalt of Cal State Hayward in 1985.

Four athletes joined Sturup as double winners: Carrie Luis of Cal State Stanislaus (800- and 1,500-meter runs), Christie Allen of Pittsburg State (5,000- and 10,000-meter runs), Marsha Guialdo of Cal State Los Angeles (110- and 400-meter hurdles) and Felicia Harris of Cal State Chico (long jump and triple jump).

Allen's victories in the 5,000- and 10,000-meter runs made her the first individual in championships history to win both events in consecutive years. Allen closed out her collegiate career with eight NCAA individual titles, including two in cross country.

Karin Grelsson of Seattle Pacific (heptathlon) and Clarissa Moulton of Cal State Bakersfield (high jump) also were repeat winners in their respective events. Grelsson became the first athlete to win back-to-back heptathlon crowns.

After 60 minutes, six ties and four lead changes, Syracuse got a goal from Matt Riter with eight seconds left in regulation and escaped with a 13-12 victory and its fifth Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship.

For the second straight year, the game was decided by one goal.

"I think it was good for the game today," said Orange coach Roy Simmons Jr. after the May 31 championship, which was played before 20,117 at Maryland. "I think the people out there were applauding the lacrosse, not particularly blue or orange. Any time you get the Heels and the Orange together, you are going to have an exciting contest."

The fourth quarter started with the score knotted at 10. Syracuse's Dom Fin scored an unassisted goal 52 seconds into the quarter, giving the Orangemen an 11-10 lead. That margin grew to 12-10 11:15 into the quarter on an extra-man goal from Roy Colsey, assisted by Charlie Lockwood.

The Tar Heels came back to tie the score with unassisted goals by Jason Wade and Donnie McNichol. McNichol's goal, his second of the day, came with 1:23 left in the game.

That set the stage for Riter's game-winner, which came off a pass from Lockwood.

North Carolina won the subsequent faceoff, but couldn't score.

"It's unfortunate that it ended with an unsettled situation," said North Carolina coach Dave Klarmann. "I know I'll be questioned about not calling a timeout, but I thought we could settle and score. This game was going to be a one-goal game no matter what. I felt that it would be from the start."

Syracuse, which finished the season 12-2, enjoyed balanced scoring as Riter, Colsey, John Barr, Steve Bettinger and Mark Fietta had two goals each. John Webster led the Tar Heels, who finished the year 14-2, with three goals and two assists.

Simmons, who was inducted into the Lacrosse Hall of Fame last year, has led the Orangemen to all five of their championships. The Orangemen won three consecutive titles from 1988 to 1990. Syracuse lost to Princeton in last year's championship game, 10-9. This year, the Orange beat the Tigers, 15-9, in the semifinals.

Syracuse goalie Chris Surran, who was named the tournament's outstanding player, made 20 saves on 56 North Carolina shots. North Carolina's Gary Lehrman made 18 saves on 66 Orangemen shots.

In the other semifinal, North Carolina took a 16-10 victory over Johns Hopkins. A record 21,529 fans saw the semifinal games.

An attendance mark also was established for the weekend, as 72,690 fans attended four games at Maryland, including the Division III final that is played on the off day between the Division I semifinals and final (see story on page 9).

Joining Syracuse's Surran on the all-tournament squad were teammates Lockwood, Barr and Archer. Other players were Ryan Wade, Webster, Steve Speers and Alex Martin from North Carolina; David Morrow from Princeton, and Milford Marchant from Johns Hopkins.

■ Championships corner

Division I field hockey: Rutgers University, New Brunswick, has been selected as the site of the semifinals and final of the 1993 Division I Field Hockey Championship. The games will be played November 20 and 21.

Lincoln (Pennsylvania) goes down to the wire to win track title

All indications were that the race for the Division III Women's Outdoor Track and Field Championships team title was going to be the closest in recent memory.

It was.

Lincoln (Pennsylvania)—with two individual and one relay titles—edged Wisconsin-La Crosse by five points and won its first outdoor team championship May 26-29 at Baldwin-Wallace.

Lincoln (Pennsylvania) totaled 57 points to Wisconsin-La Crosse's 52. It was the closest team finish since Massachusetts-Boston beat Wisconsin-La Crosse, 52-49, in 1986.

Wisconsin-Oshkosh (46 points), Calvin (41) and St. Thomas (Minnesota) (32½) finished third, fourth and fifth, respectively.

Shawna Hardy accounted for Lincoln's (Pennsylvania) individual crowns, capturing the 100- and 200-meter dashes. The Lions also won the 1,600-meter relay title.

Wisconsin-La Crosse, which was runner-up for the second time, also claimed two individual crowns.

Luanne Bruss won the 400-meter hurdles, and Jessie Coonen won the shot put title.

Two championship records fell during competition: Jennifer Green of host Baldwin-Wallace and Angela Feinauer of Calvin set marks in the 100-meter hurdles and long jump, respectively. Green won her second consecutive title, clocking in at 14.01. The time bettered the mark of 14.15 set by Ophelia Johnson of North Central in 1989. Feinauer leaped 19 feet, 11 inches, four inches farther than the mark of 19.7 set by Jennifer Martin of Christopher Newport in 1992.

In addition to Green, other repeat champions were Tammie Miller of Cortland State in the 3,000-meter run, Eleena Zhelezov of Brandeis in the triple jump and Sylke Knuppel of Johns Hopkins in the javelin throw.

Jesse Bushman of Wisconsin-Stevens Point won the 800-meter run.

Eagle men win crown in III meet

For the second year in a row, Wisconsin-La Crosse won only one individual event but managed to win the team title—its third straight—during the Division III Men's Outdoor Track and Field Championships May 26-29 at Baldwin-Wallace.

The Eagles, who compiled 97 points, have won only four individual titles during their three-year reign. Ajamu Olaniyan (triple jump) was the lone Eagle to win an individual title this year.

Lincoln (Pennsylvania), despite winning three individual events and one relay, totaled 76 points and finished as runner-up for the third consecutive year and seventh time in eight years.

St. Thomas (Minnesota) with 61 points, North Central with 51 and Montclair State with 46 rounded out the top five.

The Eagles built their victory on three second-place and four third-place finishes. Bill Schroeder led the way, finishing second in the long jump and third in the triple jump and javelin throw.

Shannon Flowers of Lincoln (Pennsylvania) turned in the championships' only record performance. Flowers won the 110-meter hurdles in 13.86 seconds, breaking the record of 13.90 set by Garry Moore of Rowan in 1982.

Seven individuals repeated as champions in their respective events: Brandon Jones of Lincoln (Pennsylvania) in the 100-meter dash; Dwayne Stevens of Montclair State in the 400-meter dash; Sandu Rebenciuc of Augustana (Illinois) in the 1,500-meter run; Chad Thomas of Muskingum in the pole vault; Leonard Jones of St. Thomas (Minnesota) in the long jump; Paul Conlin of Wisconsin-Platteville in the shot put, and Pat Ahern of St. Thomas (Minnesota) in the discus throw.

Rebenciuc also won the 3,000-meter steeplechase, and Ahern claimed the hammer throw. Dan Mayer of North Central also won two titles (5,000- and 10,000-meter runs).

Record crowd sees Hobart take III lacrosse

Nine consecutive Hobart goals destroyed a third-quarter, three-goal Ohio Wesleyan lead and carried the Statesmen to a 16-10 victory and their 13th Division III Men's Lacrosse Championship title May 30 at Maryland.

Playing in front of a record crowd of 9,597, the Statesmen cut the Battling Bishops' lead to 10-9 by the end of the third quarter. Only 32 seconds into the final period, Hobart's Eric Curry tied the game with an assist from Tony Gray. The Statesmen's Tom Zaccagnino scored what turned out to be the game-winner a little more than a minute later, unassisted.

"It's hard to believe we could play that poorly and that well all in the same day," said Hobart coach B. J. O'Hara.

Ohio Wesleyan coach Lelan Rogers said that his team, which had a 5-0 lead in the second quarter, might have spent too much energy on emotion early in the game.

"With any championship event, you come out all fired up," he said. "As a coach, you don't want to come out too hard too fast, and that's probably what happened to us today."

Hobart's Cabell Maddux, who was named the game's most outstanding player, finished with one goal and four assists. For the tournament, he had six goals and 13 assists. Zaccagnino had three goals in the championship game. Jed Cronin's three goals and one assist led the Battling Bishops.

O'Hara changed goalies with his team trailing, 8-6, midway through the third quarter. Starter Bill Warder left after making four saves. His replacement, James Gracey, recorded eight saves.

"Jamie had a real good warm-up," O'Hara said. "He's a remarkable young man. His grandfather suffered a heart attack (the day before the match), so he's dealing with a lot of stress. He was able to clear his head and help us win."

The championship was the third for the Statesmen under O'Hara. The other 10 came under Dave Urlick, now coach at Georgetown. Last year, Hobart's string of 12 consecutive titles was snapped by Nazareth (New York).

The record crowd for the championship final broke the mark of 6,741 set last year in Philadelphia. The crowd helped boost attendance for three days of NCAA lacrosse action at Maryland to a record 72,690. The Division I semifinals and final also were played at College Park (see story on page 8).

Sun Devils rally to claim women's golf championship

Arizona State finished five strokes better on the final day of competition than third-round leader Texas and won its second National Collegiate Women's Golf Championships team title May 26-29 at Georgia.

The Sun Devils won their first crown since 1990, finishing two strokes ahead of the Longhorns and three ahead of defending champion San Jose State.

"I can breathe easier now," Sun Devil coach Linda Vollstedt said. "I don't think the team knew this, but going into the 18th hole we were tied with San Jose State and maybe Texas. Our game plan was to make birdies on the last few holes."

Arizona State entered the final round tied for second place with San Jose State, three shots behind Texas. Linda Ericsson, Wendy Ward and Emilee Klein combined to shoot three under par in the last round to pace the Sun Devil rally. Host Georgia and Southern California finished fourth and fifth, respectively.

Texas mounted its charge behind individual medalist Charlotta Sorenstam, who finished the tournament with a five-under-par 287, two strokes ahead of Indiana's Angela Buzminski. Arizona State's Ward tied with Leta Lindley of Arizona for third place, and Georgia sophomore and defending champion Vicki Goetze finished fifth.

Sorenstam denied Goetze back-to-back individual titles, just as Goetze did Sorenstam's sister, Annika Sorenstam of Arizona, last year. Goetze has declared her intention to join the women's professional tour this summer, joining Annika Sorenstam, who turned pro after last season.

"There was a lot of pressure on Charlotta, being Annika's little sister," Texas coach Pat Weis said. "Now I think Annika will be Charlotta's sister."

San Jose State, which had won three of the last six team titles and lost another in a playoff, made a bid for a fourth crown behind Tracy Hanson, who tied for ninth place, and Lisa Walton, who finished 11th. Walton's final round of even-par 73 was the Spartans' best score of the day but it was not enough to keep pace with the Sun Devils.

"It was the 17th and 18th holes we didn't capitalize on," Spartan coach Mark Gale said. "I think we had a couple of bogeys and no birdies. We knew that those holes would be very important and we just didn't do it."

Abby Pearson of Tennessee turned in the low round of the tournament when she fired a course-record 67 in the final round, following a third-round 82. Pearson sank a 30-foot birdie putt on the first hole of the final round and needed just 30 putts on the day. Goetze set the tournament record last year with a fourth-round 65.

Executive Committee minutes

Meeting May 4-6, 1993

Following are the minutes of the May 4-6, 1993, meeting of the NCAA Executive Committee, which was held at the Hyatt Regency Monterey in Monterey, California. All actions taken by the Executive Committee are included:

1. Opening Remarks. Chair Joseph N. Crowley welcomed new members John D. Swofford of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and Frank Windegger of Texas Christian University and reviewed the meeting schedule.

2. Approval of Previous Minutes.

It was voted that the minutes of the December 6-7, 1992, meeting be approved as distributed.

3. Actions Taken by Executive Director.

It was voted that the actions taken by the executive director on behalf of the Executive Committee since the December 6-7 meeting be approved.

4. Administrative Committee Minutes.

It was voted that Administrative Committee Telephone Conference Nos. 21-23 and Nos. 1-6 be approved.

5. Financial Affairs and Related Matters.

Secretary-Treasurer Cedric W. Dempsey presented the report of the Budget Subcommittee, and the Executive Committee took the following actions:

a. Received a report comparing actual revenues and expenditures to the 1992-93 general operating budget;

b. Tentatively approved a request for $20,000 from the Faculty Athletics Representatives Association for meeting and administrative expenses; asked the staff to provide additional historical information regarding the NCAA's financial support of this organization, inasmuch as it is the only one of its nature to receive such support, and agreed to take final action at the Budget Subcommittee's July meeting;

c. Denied a request from the East Coast Conference that the Association provide funding for independent institutions' drug-education efforts, noting that there are other avenues within the Association through which such funding may be obtained;

d. Approved the agreement with American College Testing to administer the initial-eligibility clearinghouse and appropriated $500,000 for costs in the initial year of its operation, and

e. Noted that $4.3 million had been held in reserve in the 1992-93 general operating budget, pending completion of the Executive Committee's study of the championships program; agreed that funds remaining in this reserve after changes in the championships program have been funded would be divided evenly between the basketball and broad-based components of the revenue distribution plan and returned to the Division I membership; and noted that the amount remaining in this reserve would not be known until the completion of the 1992-93 fiscal year, with the distribution to be made at that time.

6. Referrals from NCAA Council. The Executive Committee reviewed several items that had been referred to it by the Council and, upon the recommendation of the Budget Subcommittee, took the following actions:

a. Approved a request from the Professional Sports Liaison Committee for funding for a brochure to educate student-athletes about professional sports issues and opportunities and to assist them in making decisions related to selecting a player-agent, managing finances and understanding NCAA regulations in this regard;

b. Referred to the Divisions I, II and III Championships Committees a recommendation from the Olympic Sports Liaison Committee that as part of its discussions of the championships program, the Executive Committee consider maintaining all existing division or National Collegiate Championships in Olympic sports, regardless of their sponsorship level in the membership;

c. Reviewed the recommendation of the Committee on Review and Planning that the Executive Committee consider appropriate means of determining where the Association's financial resources should be used and where reductions should occur in the budget in the event of a significant decrease in revenues; noted that the Executive Committee considered this a normal part of its charge to develop the general operating budget; but agreed to review a summary of primary and ancillary Association programs and services at the August meeting; and agreed to review at that time a document prepared by the staff on the Association's catastrophic-injury insurance program;

d. Deferred action until the July Budget Subcommittee meeting on specific funding requests from the Academic Requirements and Research Committees for a proposed research study to evaluate Division I initial- and continuing-eligibility requirements, and asked the staff to provide an historical summary of such research activities, and

e. Noted that the Presidents Commission anticipated requesting funding for a consultant to assist the Division II subcommittee of the Commission during 1993-94, and deferred action pending receipt of a specific cost estimate.

7. Report of Gender-Equity Task Force. The Executive Committee received a report on the work of the task force to date, noting that its preliminary recommendations regarding the championships program would be considered by the Divisions I, II and III Championships Committees in their separate sessions.

It was voted that funding be approved for the publication of a case book summarizing member institutions' approaches to achieving gender equity.

8. Report of Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Intercollegiate Athletics. The Executive Committee received without taking action a report on the special committee's deliberations to date.

9. Report of Committee on Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports. The Executive Committee reviewed a comprehensive report on the Association's drug-testing and drug-education programs since their inception and recommendations related to them.

a. Secretary-Treasurer Dempsey reminded the Executive Committee that at its August 1992 meeting, it had asked the competitive-safeguards committee to respond at the May 1993 meeting with a description of the type of drug-testing program that could be conducted if its $3.4 million budget were reduced to $2 million. In the absence of a satisfactory or informative response to this request, the Budget Subcommittee strongly reaffirmed the Executive Committee's previous charge to the competitive-safeguards committee and directed it to submit, for the July Budget Subcommittee meeting, a specific plan for activities within the $2 million budget.

It was voted that the Budget Subcommittee's actions be approved.

b. The Executive Committee took the following action on the competitive-safeguards committee's recommendations:

(1) Approved editorial changes in the drug-testing protocol to clarify that the NCAA may recollect specimens in cases when specimen chain of custody or specimen quality is not acceptable;

(2) Authorized the Administrative Committee to take final action on recommendations regarding contracts with drug-testing laboratories;

(3) Approved a revision of Bylaw 31.2.3.1.1(b) to eliminate restrictions on the use of vasoconstrictors to treat wounds and to eliminate the requirement that team physicians report the use of anesthetics;

(4) Received the results from drug testing conducted from August through December 1992, and

(5) Deferred action until the July Budget Subcommittee meeting on additional recommendations related to the drug-testing and drug-education budget and to the Injury Surveillance System.

10. Report of Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee. The Executive Committee reviewed the committee's request for $100,000 in the 1993-94 budget to conduct a pilot workshop to provide "diversity" training for athletics administrators.

a. It was the sense of the meeting that there may be merit in expanding the scope of such a program to encompass other aspects of this issue, and that more specific information was needed as to the content, focus and cost estimates of such a program. Further, the staff was asked to work with the committee to determine whether the workshop forum was the most appropriate and effective avenue for such training.

b. The Executive Committee agreed to set aside funding in the preliminary 1993-94 budget for this activity but to defer final action on it until additional information is provided.

11. Report of Research Committee. The Executive Committee reviewed a summary of research projects for which the Research Committee requested funding. Secretary-Treasurer Dempsey indicated that the Budget Subcommittee intended to defer action on the requests until its July meeting.

It was noted that historically, requests for funding emanated from researchers outside the Association structure, often with little or no direct communication with NCAA committees that are in a position to determine or advise as to whether specific research projects would be helpful or germane to their work. The Executive Committee suggested that ideally, the research program should be structured around and be responsive to requests that emanate from NCAA committees via either the Council or Executive Committee.

12. Report of Board of NCAA Foundation. The Executive Committee reviewed the report of the board of directors of the NCAA Foundation and the report of the Special Committee to Review the Mission of the NCAA Foundation.

a. It was noted that the special committee and the board believed that the Foundation should be first and foremost a fund-raising entity, and that recent attempts to administer programmatic activities had distracted the Foundation staff from this primary responsibility. Both groups suggested that funds should be raised and then allocated to programs proposed and administered by others who specialize in these activities. It was noted that most proposals should come directly from the Association, but that this would not preclude those of NCAA member conferences and institutions or other NCAA sources.

(1) The Executive Committee expressed concern about aspects of the report that would appear to divest the Association of any meaningful regulatory control, particularly relative to funding of specific programs and activities, and noted the absence of any clear statement as to the approval process and oversight authority of either the Executive Committee or the Foundation in this area.

(2) It was suggested that any movement toward greater separation of the Association and Foundation activities was perhaps inconsistent with the designation of the "NCAA" Foundation. Former NCAA President Judith M. Sweet of the University of California, San Diego, chair of the special committee and a member of the Foundation board, indicated that both of those entities were fully cognizant of the importance of the involvement of the Joint Policy Board and Executive Committee in the determination of activities, programs and services to be funded; and she agreed that this relationship needed to be clarified.

(3) Secretary-Treasurer Dempsey noted that the Budget Subcommittee specifically had discussed the board's recommendation that in cooperation with the Executive Committee and the Joint Policy Board, an arrangement be developed by which funds raised by the Foundation would be matched with funds from the Association's general operating budget. He reiterated the Budget Subcommittee's sense that the Foundation should be a fund-raising entity, as opposed to programmatic in nature, and that any matching funds provided by the Association should be viewed as an investment in the Foundation that would enjoy a significant rate of return.

b. Relative to specific recommendations in the report, the Executive Committee took the following actions:

(1) It was voted that the Foundation's bylaws be revised to delete the requirement that potential board members and bylaw revisions require the approval of the Executive Committee.

(2) It was voted that the Foundation's bylaws be revised to stipulate that the chair of the board of directors be elected from among its members, excluding the NCAA president, secretary-treasurer and executive director, who serve in an ex officio capacity; and that the chair serve a three-year term and be eligible to serve an unlimited number of terms.

(3) It was voted that the proposed arrangement for the Association to provide matching funds to the Foundation be approved in concept, but that the Executive Committee develop a specific agreement for approval at its August meeting. (One abstention.)

13. Report of Special Advisory Committee to Review Recommendations Regarding Distribution of Revenues. Sweet, chair of the special committee, presented its recommendations. The Executive Committee took the following actions:

a. Membership trust reserve. Clarified that if the moneys in the membership trust reserve (earmarked to fund Association programs and services in the event of a decline in future television rights fees) are not needed for these purposes, they will be distributed to the Division I membership based on the annual historical data on file for the broad-based and basketball funds in the year(s) that the additional moneys were placed in reserve.

[By way of background information, the Executive Committee had agreed at its December 1992 meeting that the annual television rights fees in excess of $143 million (the average annual fee) during the remaining years of the CBS contract would be placed in a membership trust reserve, with the understanding that in the event of a decline in rights fees in future years, the moneys would be used to continue current Association programs and services after 1996-97; and that if the moneys were not needed for this purpose, they would be returned to the membership in accordance with the current formulas for distributing the broad-based and basketball funds. The above action clarifies the specific basis upon which that distribution would be calculated].

b. Distribution schedule. Reaffirmed the current timetable for distribution of the sports-sponsorship and grants-in-aid moneys for 1992-93 (i.e., sports-sponsorship payments to be sent August 13 and grants-in-aid payments August 27).

c. Special assistance fund for student-athletes.

(1) Agreed that the amount of the fund ($3 million) should not be changed for the 1993-94 distribution;

(2) Determined that the responsibility for oversight and administration of the fund, including interpretations, rests solely with the conferences; eliminated all existing national office staff interpretations; reaffirmed the interpretations issued by the Executive Committee, Administrative Committee or the special committee to date, and directed that they be incorporated into the guidelines for permissible uses of the funds and be considered binding;

(3) Directed that conferences be provided a revised set of guidelines with the reminder that the original purpose of the funds was to treat student-athletes' needs of an emergency or critical nature for which financial assistance was not otherwise available, and to do so in a timely manner with a minimum of bureaucracy or red tape;

(4) Reaffirmed that the special assistance funds may not be used to: (a) purchase textbooks, inasmuch as this is permitted under existing legislation and the fund should not be a source for awarding otherwise permissible institutional financial aid, or (b) assist student-athletes in purchasing disabling injury or illness insurance to protect against loss of potential future professional sports earnings, inasmuch as this is not consistent with the original intent of the fund and is not applicable to the needs of student-athletes in general;

(5) Took no action on a recommendation that the Executive Committee sponsor legislation to permit the payment of basic health insurance premiums for student-athletes as part of permissible financial aid, pending further discussion of this topic by the NCAA Council, and

(6) Upon the recommendation of the Committee on Financial Aid and Amateurism, extended the trial period during which non-Pell Grant student-athletes would be eligible for funds for one more year (i.e., through 1993-94), in order to allow the financial aid committee to review the Division I conferences' reports on how their institutions used the funds in 1992-93; and reaffirmed the conditions under which non-Pell Grant student-athletes can receive the funds, including the requirement that they must be full grant-in-aid recipients.

d. Broad-based distribution. Reaffirmed the grants-in-aid formula of the broad-based component for the 1993-94 distribution.

e. Academic-enhancement fund. Reviewed a summary of the uses of the academic-enhancement fund.

f. Basketball distribution.

(1) Endorsed the decision of the special revenue committee to permit the East Coast Conference to share in the basketball distribution made in April 1993 and to advise the conference that no further basketball distribution would be forthcoming unless it comprised six Division I member institutions by May 1, 1993.

(By way of background, for purposes of revenue distribution a conference is defined as one that comprises at least six institutions that have been members of Division I for the eight preceding years; if a conference falls below the six-member requirement, the basketball moneys are to be retained by the conference for one year. The East Coast Conference technically did not meet the eight-year/Division I requirement; however, in August 1990, during a transition period in the rules regarding conference eligibility for automatic qualification for the Division I Men's Basketball Championship, the Division I Men's Basketball Committee had grandfathered two ECC institutions to enable the conference to meet the eight-year requirement. The ECC had assumed that the institutions had been grandfathered for the purposes of revenue distribution as well. The special committee agreed that since the ECC had not been advised to the contrary, the 1992-93 distribution should be provided to it.)

(Note: Also refer to Minute No. 20-x-(1)-(b) for related actions.)

(2) Upheld the special committee's denial of a request from the U.S. Naval Academy, which had transferred from the Colonial Athletic Association to the Patriot League, that it be permitted to retain the units it earned in the basketball distribution as a member of the Colonial, noting that there is no provision in the current policy that would permit an exception, and that the current policy is sound, and

(3) Clarified that if a conference disbands, each institution retains the units it earned; but that if an institution leaves a conference and the conference disbands at a later time, those units return to the basketball fund for redistribution to the Division I membership.

g. Scheduling requirements for sports-sponsorship purposes. Agreed that for the purpose of the sports-sponsorship component of the revenue-distribution plan, the scheduling requirements that will become effective September 1, 1994, will not be applied to sports sponsored above the minimum number required for Division I membership.

14. Playing Rules. In accordance with its oversight responsibility for playing rules in the areas of player safety, image of the sport and costs, the Executive Committee reviewed recommendations from rules-making committees.

a. Football rules.

(1) Inbounds-line change. Doug Dickey, chair of the NCAA Football Rules Committee and director of athletics at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and committee member Ron Harms, director of athletics at Texas A&I University, joined the meeting to discuss the proposed rules change to move the inbounds lines closer to the center of the field.

(a) Dickey described the rules committee's process for considering changes and reviewed the inbounds-line issues in particular. He noted that the rules committee's charge is to set aside personal positions and to act for the good of the game of football, taking into consideration, among other things, those factors that fall within the Executive Committee's oversight responsibility (i.e., safety of the players, image of the sport and costs). He concluded that the rules committee believed that the inbounds-lines change was an appropriate one for the game of football at this time, that it was not costly for the vast majority of member institutions, and that it was unrelated to the image of the sport.

(b) It was voted that the inbounds-line rules change be approved. (11 For, 1 Against.)

(c) It was the sense of the meeting that the Executive Committee should be vigilant in limiting its review of playing-rules changes to those related to player safety, image of the sport and costs. Further, it agreed that a controversial rules change does not necessarily fall into the category of image of the sport. It noted that when reviewing rules changes in these categories, it would be appropriate to also consider whether the committee proposing the rules change had been diligent and thorough in the process used to determine its constituents' sentiment on changes before taking action.

(2) Mandatory face masks. In the area of player safety, approved the rule making it mandatory for all players to wear face masks on their helmets;

(3) Chop block. In the area of player safety, expanded the definition of a chop block from delayed contact at the knee or below to delayed contact at the thigh or below, and

(4) Verbal conduct and unsportsmanlike acts. In the area of image of the sport and in response to the Presidents Commission's concern with the use of obscene and vulgar language, added to the list of unsportsmanlike acts language prohibiting "any delayed, excessive or prolonged act by which a player attempts to focus attention upon himself."

b. Bleeding policy. Received information on all rules-making committees' efforts to incorporate the policy regarding the aggressive treatment of bleeding into their respective rules.

c. Basketball and football rules regarding commercial advertising. Reaffirmed that

Minutes

football and basketball rules restricting commercial advertising on the field of play fall into the category of image of the sport and thus are within the Executive Committee's oversight responsibility; reaffirmed the football rule that prohibits commercial advertising on the field except when a corporate sponsor is associated with the name of any game not played in season; approved the basketball rule prohibiting commercial logos and/or names on the playing court, backboards or rims and padding around the backboard, and approved an exception to this rule to permit logos or company names on the floor when a corporate sponsor is associated with the name of any tournament (thus making the basketball rule consistent with the football rule).

d. Basketball rules. In the area of image of the sport, clarified the rule regarding fighting to provide that any individual who participates in a fight during his or her team's final game of the season will be suspended from participation in the team's next regular-season game for which that individual would be eligible; and expanded the definition of offensive language to include the use of abusive and obscene language.

e. Upon the recommendation of the Division I Championships Committee, the Executive Committee asked the staff to compile a summary for the August 1993 meeting of all playing rules relative to fighting, verbal abuse and misconduct, with a view toward evaluating them to ensure that these areas are addressed sufficiently. Further, the staff was asked to develop a statement in support of the Presidents Commission's resolution in this regard, for review in August.

15. Convention Planning. The Executive Committee accepted a report and recommendations regarding the administration of the annual NCAA Convention.

16. Affirmative Action Report. The Executive Committee received a report on the national office affirmative action plan and emphasized that the national office must continue to be vigorous in its efforts in this regard.

17. Staff Liaison and Committee Meeting Policies. The Executive Committee reviewed policies related to the administration of NCAA committee work with a view toward enhancing their consistent application and took the following actions:

a. Meals/entertainment. Reaffirmed that as an operating premise, committee members pay for their own meals with the $30 per diem (aside from continental breakfast and/or lunches brought into the meeting to facilitate the committee's work). It is generally permissible, however, for the staff liaison to pay for dinners of a "celebratory" nature (e.g., when the full committee goes to dinner in recognition of an outgoing member's service), and to pay for the chair's meal when, for example, the two meet over dinner or other meal to review the agenda and prepare for the meeting. Any other exceptions require the advance approval of the appropriate supervisor.

b. Meeting length. Eliminated the requirement that at least seven hours of each meeting day be devoted to committee business, and agreed that the determination of the appropriate number of meeting hours should be left to the good judgment of the committee chair and staff liaison. Committees are permitted to schedule social activities (e.g., golf or tennis) during the approved meeting period, as long as the committee completes its business and does not extend the number of meeting days in order to accommodate social activities.

c. Surveys and questionnaires. Reaffirmed the long-standing policy that committees must receive permission from the body to which they report before distributing any surveys or questionnaires to the membership, and that such surveys are to be reviewed by the national office research staff before they are distributed.

d. Guests or observers at committee meetings. Clarified that as a general rule, committee meetings are not open to interested parties, in order that the committee members can hold free and open discussion among themselves. It is not uncommon for a committee to invite guests to attend a portion of a meeting, at their own expense, to discuss specific issues or make presentations; however, such individuals should not be permitted to observe the entire meeting or remain while the committee takes action. Relative to special committees, the use of consultants should remain subject to the approval of the body that appoints the special committee.

18. NCAA Properties. The executive director advised the Executive Committee on preliminary plans to establish NCAA Properties, whereby a domestic marketing program would be developed to enhance the visibility of and aggressively promote the names and trademarks of the NCAA and member institutions. He indicated that more specific information would be provided at the August 1993 meeting.

19. Championships Proposals. Phyllis L. Howlett, Jerry M. Hughes and Mary A. Barrett, chairs of the Divisions I, II and III Championships Committees, respectively, reported their committees' actions regarding the championships proposals that have been under consideration for the past several months. The Executive Committee took the following actions:

a. Division I.

(1) Adjustments in brackets and field sizes.

(a) Increased the following championship brackets and field sizes, effective with the 1993-94 academic year: women's basketball (from 48 to 64 teams), women's volleyball (from 32 to 48 teams), women's soccer (from 12 to 16 teams), men's soccer (from 28 to 32 teams), women's softball (from 20 to 32 teams), women's swimming (from 230 to 270 individuals), women's indoor track (from 213 to 240 individuals) and women's outdoor track (from 280 to 357 individuals);

(b) Reduced the following championship brackets and field sizes, effective with the 1995-96 academic year: men's water polo (from eight to four teams), men's and women's skiing (from 160 to 148 individuals), men's and women's fencing (from 154 to 120 individuals), and men's and women's rifle (from 56 to 48 individuals);

(c) Clarified that if sponsorship of a given sport increases or decreases, corresponding adjustments in the bracket or field size are not automatic, and

(d) Affirmed that the size of the men's ice hockey and men's lacrosse championship brackets will be "grandfathered" at 12 teams, based on the fact that these championships historically have generated net revenues for the Association.

(2) Play-ins.

(a) Approved the conduct of play-ins in the baseball, women's volleyball, men's soccer and women's softball championships, effective with the 1994 championships in each sport, and agreed upon the following:

(i) At least 50 percent of each bracket will be allocated to at-large teams; the remaining 50 percent will be filled by automatic-qualifying conferences or play-in teams, based on the number of eligible conferences and the size of the bracket. As a result, the following number of play-in games will be conducted in each sport: Baseball—six games; women's volleyball—seven games; men's soccer—four games, and women's softball—two games.

(ii) The play-ins will be conducted before the sports committees' selections of teams. The actual play-in dates will be determined by the two participating conferences; however, games must be completed by midnight on the day of selections in the sports of baseball, men's soccer and softball, and by the Saturday before selection Sunday for women's volleyball.

(iii) Play-in conferences will be determined by using statistical data from the most recent season, and conferences will be notified of their status (i.e., automatic qualifier or play-in team) approximately 10 months in advance of the championships. The committees will rank all conferences on the basis of either the computer-generated rating percentage index (in baseball and women's volleyball) or a subjective evaluation of won-lost records and strength of schedule (men's soccer and women's softball, which do not have RPIs).

(iv) The play-in game will be hosted by the team in the higher-seeded of the two conferences.

(v) Only conferences that determine a conference champion in at least five other sports will be eligible to participate in a play-in.

(vi) Play-in pairings will be determined by the sports committees on the basis of geographical proximity of the teams to one another. If geographical proximity is not a factor (i.e., either all are within driving distance of one another or all require air transportation), the committees also may take into consideration the teams' respective rankings when establishing pairings.

(b) Agreed to reimburse transportation and per diem expenses for all teams participating in a play-in. (Note: The Executive Committee subsequently rescinded this action in light of proposals from the Division II Championships Committee. Refer to Minute No. 19-d.)

(c) Approved that net receipts from play-in games would be returned to the Association's general operating budget;

(d) Specified that a play-in conference could not bypass its champion and send a second-place or other team to the play-in, and

(e) Determined that a conference representative that participates in and loses a play-in game is not eligible for at-large selection.

(3) Per diem and official traveling parties.

(a) Reduced the per diem from $120 to $80 for the men's ice hockey, men's lacrosse, baseball and Division I-AA football championships, resulting in a standard per diem for all Division I and National Collegiate Championships with the exception of men's and women's basketball;

(b) Reduced the per diem for preliminary rounds of the men's basketball championship from $150 to $120; agreed to maintain the $150 per diem for the men's Final Four, and increased the per diem for the Women's Final Four from $120 to $150;

(c) Reduced the official traveling parties for the following championships: College World Series, from 40 to 35; Division I-AA football finals, from 135 to 100; men's ice hockey, from 40 to 31 for preliminary rounds and from 50 to 31 for the finals, and men's lacrosse, from 42 to 40 for preliminary rounds and from 45 to 40 for the finals;

(d) Increased the following traveling parties: women's lacrosse, from 24 to 26; women's basketball, from 28 to 45 for visiting teams in first- and second-round games and from 70 to 100 for the Women's Final Four; and women's volleyball, from 20 to 22, and

(e) Determined that for institutions that participate in both the indoor and outdoor track and field championships, transportation and per diem expenses will be provided for either the indoor or outdoor championships, but not both. Institutions will be required to declare annually before the championships the event for which they wish to receive reimbursement and may not change that declaration during that academic year. However, if an institution indicates that it wishes to receive reimbursement for the indoor championships and then does not qualify any individuals to participate, it will receive reimbursement for its participation in the outdoor championships.

(Note: The Division II Championships Committee took the same action relative to the Division II Men's and Women's Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Championships; thus, all three divisions are consistent in this regard.)

(4) Minimum sponsorship requirements. Agreed to propose legislation for the 1994 Convention to amend minimum sponsorship requirements for the establishment or continuation of National Collegiate and division championships, effective September 1, 1994, as follows: (Note: The Divisions II and III Championships Committees concurred with these actions.)

(a) Establish 40 as the minimum number of institutions necessary to continue an existing National Collegiate or division championship;

(b) Establish 50 as the minimum number of institutions necessary to establish a new championship in any sport (including those in sports in which the Association already conducts championships);

(c) For a five-year period, establish 40 as the minimum number of institutions required to establish a new championship in a women's sport in which the Association does not already conduct a championship;

(d) Specify that before the establishment of any new championship, sponsorship must be at the minimum number for two consecutive years; that legislation to establish a championship could be proposed during the second year in which the minimum sponsorship number is met, and that varsity sports sponsored before the adoption of this proposed legislation will be counted toward the establishment of a new championship (i.e., sponsorship of a varsity sport during 1993-94 will be counted toward the establishment of a championship, resulting in the first such legislation possible at the 1995 Convention);

(e) Specify that if a championship falls below the minimum requirement on September 30 of a given year (the date on which the Association's official sports sponsorship records are based), it will be discontinued subsequent to that academic year (e.g., if a championship falls below the required number on September 30, 1994, it will be discontinued at the end of the 1994-95 academic year);

(f) Eliminate all exemptions for continuing a championship that falls below the minimum sponsorship number;

(g) Eliminate the exception provision for Division II championships that permits the establishment of three championships (men's ice hockey, men's lacrosse and field hockey) without meeting minimum sponsorship requirements, and

(h) Specify that in the case of the existence of a National Collegiate and Division III championship in the same sport, sponsorship of the sport in which a division championship is conducted no longer will be counted toward maintaining the National Collegiate Championship.

(i) The Executive Committee agreed to propose no change in the legislation specifying that for a combined men's and women's championship, minimum sponsorship requirements shall be based on the number of separate varsity intercollegiate men's and women's teams in the same sport at the member institution.

(5) Mileage restriction. Reviewed the proposal that institutions participating in championships (excluding Division I men's basketball) be required to travel to the site via ground transportation when the distance is less than 400 miles (rather than the current 250 miles); and agreed to defer action on this proposal until the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Intercollegiate Athletics has completed its discussions on related considerations. (Note: As a result, there will be no change in the current policy for the 1993-94 academic year.)

(6) Seeding. Authorized the seeding of the top four teams on a national basis in the women's volleyball, women's softball and men's soccer championships. [Note: Also refer to Minute Nos. 20-c-(4) and 20-r-(3).]

b. Division II.

(1) Adjustments in brackets and field sizes. Increased the following brackets and field sizes, effective with the 1993-94 academic year: women's volleyball (from 20 to 28 teams), women's softball (from 16 to 24 teams), women's cross country (from 92 to 132 individuals), women's tennis (from 70 to 90 individuals), and women's outdoor track (from 170 to 220 individuals).

(2) Official traveling parties. Increased the official traveling party for women's lacrosse from 23 to 25, effective with the 1993-94 academic year.

d. Play-in concept for selected Division I championships and Divisions II and III basketball.

In its separate meeting, the Division I Championships Committee voted to reimburse transportation and per diem expenses for all play-in teams. Subsequently, the Division II Championships Committee indicated that it was considering establishing 16-team play-ins (an increase from 32 to 48 teams) for the Division II Men's and Women's Basketball Championships, with no guaranteed reimbursement of transportation or per diem expenses (i.e., such expenses would be paid retroactively on a prorated basis if the championships generated net revenues). The Division II Championships Committee asked that as an alternative, the Executive Committee consider funding transportation and per diem expenses for the play-ins. The Division III Championships Committee indicated that although it had not discussed a play-in concept for Division III men's and women's basketball, the Division III membership undoubtedly would expect consideration to be given to the same concept for Division III.

(1) Lengthy discussion ensued regarding the advisability and feasibility of treating all three divisions comparably in this regard, the resultant impact on the Association's budget and related issues. It was the sense of the meeting that no further action should be taken until more definitive cost figures were developed in all three divisions.

(2) It was voted that the Division I Championships Committee's decision to reimburse transportation and per diem expenses for play-in teams be rescinded, pending resolution of this issue at the August meeting.

(3) It was voted that the Division II Men's and Women's Basketball Championships provide an opportunity for an additional 16 teams to participate, effective with the 1993-94 academic year; and that decisions related to funding of transportation and per diem expenses be deferred until the August meeting.

(4) It was voted that the Executive Committee reaffirm the concept of play-ins in the Division I baseball, women's volleyball, women's softball and men's soccer championships; and that pending resolution of the reimbursement issues in August, it reaffirm the original proposal to reimburse expenses for the play-in teams that would have received automatic qualification under the current system.

20. National Collegiate Championships and Related Matters. The chairs of the Divisions I, II and III Championships Committees, respectively, reported their committees' actions on recommendations from sports committees.

The Executive Committee took the following actions on the committees' recommendations:

a. Division II baseball. Referred to the staff the request of the Division II Baseball Committee that moneys be allocated in the Association's 1993-94 general operating budget to produce the final game of the 1994 Division II Baseball Championship.

b. Division I men's basketball.

(1) Reaffirmed that the per diem for the 100 individuals in the official traveling party for the Final Four would remain at $150, and that the per diem for the preliminary rounds would be reduced to $120, and

(2) Relative to a request from the Ohio Valley Conference, upheld the position of the Division I Men's Basketball Committee that the continuity-of-membership requirements for eligibility for automatic qualification into the Division I Men's Basketball Championship should not be revised. [Also refer to Minute No. 20-x-(1)-(a).]

c. Division I women's basketball.

(1) Determined that the Association should assume administrative and financial responsibility for conducting the traditional dinner honoring the Women's Final Four teams, noting that it was anticipated that the NCAA corporate partners and local contributors would offset a portion of the expenses;

(2) Increased the remuneration for the national coordinator of women's basketball officiating/secretary-rules editor from $14,700 to $25,000 annually; and agreed that in the future, stipends for officiating coordinators should be treated as part-time employees for budgeting purposes, thus eliminating the need for the Executive Committee to act on such matters;

(3) Increased the per diem for 100 individuals in the official traveling party for the Women's Final Four from $120 to $150, and

(4) Asked the Division I Women's Basketball Committee to respond at the August meeting to questions regarding its current seeding practices and its thoughts on additional seeding of the tournament bracket.

d. Division II men's basketball.

(1) Declined to increase the official traveling party for the Division II Men's Basketball Championship from 20 to 22;

(3) Revised the format for the Elite Eight to provide for a day of rest between the semifinals and championship game, and

(4) Approved the realignment of the eight regions for selection purposes, effective with the 1994 championship.

e. Division II women's basketball. Restructured the Division II Women's Basketball Championship by eliminating the quarterfinal round and advancing all eight regional champions to the championship site for an eight-team final round.

Minutes

be discontinued and the two semifinal games and related public service announcements would be produced instead, and

h. Division II football.

(1) Clarified that the following would be considered by the Division II Football Committee when evaluating teams' won-lost records and strength of schedule: conference standings; head-to-head competition; Division II intraregion, nonconference competition; opponents' records, and late-season performances;

(3) Received a report that the contract with the Shoals National Championships Committee, the sponsoring agency for the championship, had been renewed for another year, and

(4) Directed the Division II Football Committee to establish minimum financial guarantees for host institutions for the championship and to award the site to the higher-seeded team if the guarantee was met.

i. Division III football. Clarified that the following would be considered by the Division III Football Committee when evaluating teams' won-lost records and strength of schedule: Primary criteria—head-to-head competition and common opponents, and secondary criteria—conference standings, late-season performances, opponents' records and records against ranked teams; and declined to permit the committee to consider a team's play-off history as a selection criterion.

(c) Designated Davidson College as the host institution for the 1994 championship.

(3) Division II.

(a) Eliminated automatic qualification for conference champions, effective with the 1993 Division II Men's Soccer Championship, and

(4) Division III.

(a) Awarded automatic qualification for the 1993 Division III Men's Soccer Championship to the following: Dixie Intercollegiate, Empire, New Jersey, North Coast, Old Dominion and State University of New York Athletic Conferences, and the University Athletic Association;

(b) Received a report that the subcommittee had issued a private reprimand to an institution for a misconduct incident that occurred at the 1992 championship; and noted that in the future, public acts of misconduct should be dealt with by a public, rather than private, reprimand;

(c) Accepted a preliminary report on the subcommittee's discussions in response to Proposal No. 155 from the 1993 Convention;

(d) Denied the proposed realignment of the North Central/Far West and South Central regions, and

n. Women's softball. Declined to make an exception to the criteria for the establishment of officiating-improvement programs to permit the conduct of umpiring clinics for women's softball, noting that none of the criteria was satisfied; and encouraged the Women's Softball Committee to explore with the Amateur Softball Association the feasibility of its incorporating collegiate interests into its existing clinics and officiating-improvement efforts.

o. Men's and women's swimming. Received a report that the Division I subcommittee of the Men's and Women's Swimming Committee had issued a private reprimand and assessed a $100 fine to an institution in the 1993 Division I Women's Swimming and Diving Championships for a violation of qualification and entry procedures and the coach's subsequent failure to disclose the violation.

p. Men's and women's tennis. Determined that effective with the 1994 Division I Men's Tennis Championships, regional qualifying tournaments would be conducted and the championship structure would be revised to provide for a four-day, 16-team tournament (rather than the current five-day, 20-team tournament). mittee issued a private reprimand to a host institution of a qualifying meet of the 1992 Division I Men's and Women's Cross Country Championships for failure to sell NCAA merchandise, as specified in the souvenir merchandising performance agreement required of all host institutions; and authorized the committee to fine the institution $800 (the amount of lost sales revenue).

(a) Denied a request by the Ohio Valley Conference that Bylaw 31.3.4.3.1-(a) be revised to permit an institution that has not been a member of Division I for eight consecutive years to represent the conference as the automatic qualifier if that conference had maintained its automatic qualification for at least the past eight consecutive years, and noted that the current regulation was intended to limit automatic qualifiers to those institutions that had been members of Division I for eight consecutive years, and

(b) Related to the East Coast Conference's ineligibility for future distributions from the basketball component of the revenue-distribution plan, received the information that the East Coast Conference had added three new members on April 28, bringing its membership to six institutions; noted that one of the members is a Division II institution, although it anticipates petitioning for Division I membership effective with the 1993-94 academic year; further noted that another of the new members had not been a member of Division I for the preceding eight academic years, and denied the conference's appeal that it be eligible for future basketball distributions.

Affirmed that the officiating fees for NCAA championships should be based on those paid during the regular season and, as a guiding principle, should be slightly higher than regular-season fees in the respective sports; and asked the staff to review both the current fee structure and several pending requests from sports committees, with a view toward making appropriate adjustments (including establishing a standard fee for all rounds within each championship);

b. Reaffirmed the current provisions that permit officials to use air transportation in selected Divisions I and II championships (including preliminary and finals competition) and for the finals of selected Division III championships;

c. Specified that for those championships for which officials are permitted to use air transportation, they may do so only if they are more than 250 miles from the competition site, and

d. Agreed that sports committees' requests for changes in fees or expenses will not be considered more frequently than every three years, once the appropriate adjustments have been made (i.e., the next review will occur in May 1996).

22. Committee Composition and Representation. In their separate meetings, the Divisions I, II and III Championships Committees addressed issues related to the composition of and representation on sports committees, including factors that should determine the appropriate sizes of committees, ethnic minority and gender representation, and the requirement that at least 25 percent of positions on sports and rules committees be filled by administrators. The Executive Committee took the following actions:

a. Adopted the following as guidelines for determining the appropriate size of sports and rules committees: number of institutions sponsoring the particular sport; size of the championship field or bracket; magnitude of the event; complexity of event administration; whether a qualification or selection procedure is used; number of division championships administered, and number of regions in the sport;

e. Deferred until the August meeting further discussion on the desirability of submitting legislation to increase the percentage requirement of administrators, and asked the staff to develop additional information in this regard, and in violation can be subjected to penalties, such as restrictions on postseason play and denial of television appearances."

Collins said no detailed rules were proposed to measure gender equity, and even if there had been, no sanctions were proposed to back them up.

"As a result," she said, "rather than taking the lead on the subject, the NCAA has effectively told the courts and the Office of Civil Rights that they must take control."

'Interest' issue

The absence of an enforcement mechanism was a common concern among those who felt the report did not go far enough.

Also, several speakers spoke for a belief that the male-female ratio for athletics participation should match that of the overall student body, regardless of interest factors. That conclusion in the preliminary report had prompted five members of the task force representing Division I-A institutions to announce they would present a minority report later this summer.

Among those advocating a report supportive of more benefits for women, the following points were made:

■ Women coaches are being "purged," according to Eleanor Smeal, president of the Fund for the Feminist Majority. "This must stop," she said. "In fact, we must achieve gender balance in coaching."

■ Several recommended making gender-equity guidelines part of the athletics certification process.

■ Colleges should work with the National Federation of State High School Associations to create gender equity at the high-school level.

■ Thought should be given to making synchronized swimming one of the "emerging women's sports" that could be used for sports-sponsorship and revenue-distribution purposes.

■ Inequities in coaches compensation should be studied.

■ The idea of a "source book" on gender equity is a good one.

Frustration

Although most of those testifying professed admiration for the report, David Baker, special assistant to the president at the University of Wyoming, admitted to frustration.

Noting that his school was due to report to the Office of Civil Rights in response to an institutional audit, Baker said: "The preliminary report of the Gender-Equity Task Force won't help the University of Wyoming respond to the Office of Civil Rights. Essentially, the report relates little more than the conventional wisdom that prevails on every campus that takes seriously its commitments to gender equity."

He also criticized elements of the report that would lead to greater expense (he estimated that adding female graduate assistants in all sports but football and men's basketball could cost Wyoming up to $112,000), and he was skeptical about meeting additional expenses through marketing or a Division I-A football playoff.

"It's troubling that our overall approach to gender equity could lead to charges of exploitation of women athletes that are not much different from the long-standing criticism of our treatment of males."

'Take ownership'

rector of eligibility and compliance at Northeastern University, urged her peers to "embrace and take ownership" of the concept of gender and racial equity in college sports programs. "Without such educational efforts, we will lapse into an abyss of professional distrust of each other that will be beyond repair," she said.

Boda

own. It wasn't until Larry Klein took over the statistics department in 1968, one year before the centennial of college football, that we officially made the pre-1937 statistics part of our records."

Even though part of it was not his job, Boda continued to gather college football information, especially about Notre Dame. The result will be an encyclopedia on Notre Dame football that will contain every statistic imaginable.

"I'll be giving today's stats (third-down conversions, field position, etc.) by using complete play-by-plays that I have dating back to 1920," he said. "I'll have something on every game, back to 1887. I don't use fancy forms, just ordinary sheets. I simply keep a running chart of everything that happened."

"I always thought I would do something with it. People all through my life said I should do a book. I'm not that accomplished as a writer. And I would only be rehashing what others have written. My original thought with this book is to let the facts, figures and quotes by the principals in the game tell the story."

Strange as it may seem, Boda says he is not a fan. "I always was bothered by the reverence paid to the game," he says. "You see these people with their faces painted and all decked out in the school colors. That just turned me off. I have a very deep interest in college athletics and especially in Notre Dame football, but I would not say that I am a fan."

He also would not claim to be a trivia expert, though it probably depends on one's definition of trivia. "To me, trivia is, well, trivial. I don't remember the exact or precise statistics or the records. Your memory can go on you. If the record is 409 yards and you say it is 408, you might as well be a mile off. I know right where to find the record, and the printed records are more accurate than my memory."

(If a trivia expert is someone who knows details about a particular subject and can recall and recount them on demand, Boda is a trivia expert. For example, he quickly rattled off the scores and opponents from Notre Dame's 1933 schedule.)

When Boda's encyclopedia is completed—he estimates that it will take another two years—he'll get nothing but satisfaction. There will be only limited money changing hands. But that's not too different from the way it's always been.

"I wouldn't accept it if they offered," he said. "Everything I have done for Notre Dame is a contribution. I compiled their season-by-season results for their media guide. All my files will go to the university archives. I'll make a little after this is published, but it has been mostly a labor of love."

"When I worked for the NCAA, I used to get to the office often as early as 3 a.m. That's when I would do my research. The phones would be quiet, and I could do what I wanted and needed. Some of my coworkers thought I was after something, but it was just the way I wanted to work. Then, when

8:30 rolled around, I was ready for a comfortable day."

Since retiring, Boda has divided his time among several areas. His research on the Notre Dame encyclopedia takes six to eight hours per day. "Every day I go to the library and get microfilm from all over the country on a retrieval system," he said. "You just have to know where the information is available." He also spends a lot of time with Juanita, his wife of 35 years, and doing Shriners activities and gardening.

He has completed the information for 524 of Notre Dame's 966 football games. Each one takes about eight hours, with a few extra hours thrown in occasionally to fill in some obscure tables. When he finishes the compilation and research for the encyclopedia, the responsibility of publishing it and then adding to it with the coming seasons will fall completely on the shoulders of associate athletics director Roger O. Valdiserri and the Notre Dame sports information staff.

1993 Column No. 22

NCAA Bylaw 14.5.4

Satisfactory-progress requirement—Division II only

Division II institutions should note that a student-athlete is subject to the satisfactory-progress requirements of Bylaw 14.5.4 any time a student either: (1) transfers to the certifying institution as a midyear transfer student-athlete; (2) attends the certifying institution for one academic year, or (3) utilizes a season of eligibility in any sport at the certifying institution. If any of these conditions occurs, the student-athlete is required to be certified for intercollegiate competition at the beginning of the fall term by determining whether he or she successfully has completed the specified number of credit hours per Bylaw 14.5.4(a) or (b) and achieved the necessary minimum cumulative grade-point average set forth in Bylaw 14.5.4.2.

In determining whether the student-athlete has completed the requisite number of credit hours, the certifying institution must determine whether the student-athlete has averaged at least 12 semester or quarter hours during each of the previous academic terms in academic years in which the student-athlete has been enrolled in a term or terms, or whether the student-athlete has satisfactorily completed 24 semester or 36 quarter hours of academic credit since the beginning of the institution's previous fall term (Bylaw 14.5.4).

Once it is determined that the student-athlete has successfully completed the specified number of credit hours, the certifying institution must determine whether the student-athlete has achieved the necessary minimum cumulative grade-point average requirement. When calculating the student-athlete's grade-point average, the certifying institution must determine in which of the following categories the student-athlete fits and apply the standards listed for that category.

■ Category One: Student-athletes who first enrolled in any collegiate institution during or subsequent to the 1991-92 academic year. Such a student-athlete is required to achieve the following grade-point averages: (1) 1.600 after completion of the first season of competition; (2) 1.800 after completion of the second season of competition, and (3) 2.000 after the completion of the third and subsequent seasons of competition. The certifying institution is required to make two calculations in determining if the student-athlete has met the required grade-point average. The first calculation is based on all grades earned solely at the certifying institution; the second calculation is based on all grades earned at all collegiate institutions, including the certifying institution. Both calculations must be made in order to determine whether the student-athlete has met the corresponding grade-point average requirement (Bylaw 14.5.4.2.2), even if institutional policy does not require grades earned at an institution other than the certifying institution to be included in the overall grade-point average calculation. Further, the student-athlete must satisfy the required grade-point average for each calculation separately.

For example, when applying this standard, a student-athlete who has completed his or her third season of competition is required to achieve a grade-point average of 2.000 in grades earned solely at the certifying institution and a grade-point average of 2.000 in all grades earned at all collegiate institutions, including the certifying institution. If the student-athlete has a grade-point average of 2.000 based on all grades earned at all collegiate institutions, but does not have a grade-point average of 2.000 based on grades earned only at the certifying institution, the student-athlete has not satisfied the grade-point average requirement necessary to meet satisfactory progress.

■ Category Two: Student-athletes who first enrolled in a Division II institution after the 1988-89 academic year. Such a standard includes those student-athletes who enrolled in a collegiate institution (other than a Division II institution) before or during the 1988-89 academic year. Such a student-athlete is required to achieve the following grade-point averages: (1) 1.600 after the completion of the first season of competition; (2) 1.800 after the completion of the second season of competition, and (3) 2.000 after the completion of the third and subsequent seasons of competition (Bylaw 14.5.4.2.2). The institution is required to calculate the student-athlete's grade-point average based on the method used by the institution for all students and must include all course work normally counted by the institution in such calculations (Bylaw 14.5.4.2.1). Thus, if the institution does not include transfer courses in determining the grade-point average for all students, it is not permissible to utilize such courses when determining a student-athlete's grade-point average for satisfactory-progress purposes; however, if the institution does include transfer courses in determining the grade-point average for all students, then these courses would be used in determining whether the student-athlete has satisfied the grade-point average for satisfactory-progress purposes.

■ Category Three: Student-athletes who first enrolled in a Division II institution during or before the 1988-89 academic year. Such a student-athlete is required to maintain a grade-point average that places the individual in good academic standing, as established by the institution for all students at an equivalent stage of progress toward a degree (Bylaw 14.5.4.2.1).

Reports

NCAA preparing graduation rates, other data for government

But that information will be submitted by the Association without knowledge of the department's final guidelines for complying with the act and without a ruling that the Association's program for compiling and reporting the data on behalf of its members meets Federal requirements.

Those final guidelines are not expected to be issued until well after the July 1 deadline, thus forcing the Association to rely on proposed regulations that were published last summer and on so-called "safe-harbor" letters released in 1991 as guidelines for submitting data.

The Association believes that its reports will comply with terms of the act.

The NCAA has informed the Department of Education of its intention to seek on behalf of its members a waiver of the act's reporting requirements. A provision of the act permits the secretary of education to award such a waiver to the members of an athletics association that collects and reports data "substantially comparable" to that required by the act.

However, department officials have indicated that waivers cannot be sought or obtained until the final regulations are available.

Memo to CEOs

Chief executive officers at NCAA institutions now are receiving a memorandum that reports actions taken by the Association to comply with the act. Enclosed with the memo is a copy of a letter to the secretary of education that will accompany the June 30 reports and that asserts the Association's belief that its reporting requirements are substantially comparable to the requirements specified in the Right-to-Know Act.

The memo, however, advises CEOs that without final regulations from the Department of Education, institutions cannot be certain that the data they have provided to the Association will meet requirements of the act. As a result, each member institution must make its own determination by July 1 that information it has reported to the NCAA complies with Federal requirements.

To assist in making that determination, a listing of reporting requirements that may warrant special review by institutions also accompanies the memo sent to CEOs. Those requirements warranting review were identified by the NCAA Special Advisory Committee to Review Implementation of 1990 Convention Proposal No. 24, in consultation with Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, the Association's legal counsel in Washington, D.C.

Division I review

Five such requirements were identified for review by Division I institutions.

■ Nonbaccalaureate Degree-Seeking Students. The NCAA includes only students seeking baccalaureate degrees in its general student body and student-athlete cohorts. The act includes all students seeking awards, including certificates and associate's degrees. This difference affects institutions that award degrees other than baccalaureate degrees to the general student body.

■ Period to Graduate. The NCAA defines the time period to graduate as six years. The department has defined it as 150 percent of the longest degree program. This difference affects institutions that offer five-year degree programs (for example, architecture, pharmacy), requiring such institutions to report on the 1984 cohort, rather than the 1986 cohort.

■ Preparation for Higher Course of Study. The act permits an institution to count a student as having graduated within the defined period if the student either (a) graduates or (b) enrolls in a program for which the prior program provides substantial preparation. NCAA standards require that the student graduate within the required period.

■ Cohort Composition. In calculating the four-year average graduation rate, the NCAA's first three cohorts (that is, the 1983, 1984 and 1985 cohorts) included students who entered during the entire academic year. The 1986 cohort included only students who entered in the fall, consistent with the department's proposed regulations. This means that data from the 1991 and 1992 Graduation-Rates Reports may contain a few extra students.

■ Distribution Responsibilities. If an institution concludes that it must recalculate the enrollment and graduation rates (or, at Divisions II and III institutions that award athletics aid, enrollment and persistence rates) that it has submitted to the NCAA, and the recalculation produces different reporting information that must be forwarded to the Department of Education to fulfill the institution's reporting responsibilities under the act, it appears that the act will subject the institution to distribution responsibilities related to prospective student-athletes, parents, coaches and guidance counselors that are separate and distinct from the Association's distribution responsibilities pursuant to Bylaw 13.3.1. Under 13.3.1, the NCAA will report institutional data submitted under its standards to prospects' coaches and guidance counselors; institutions will need to distribute recalculated data to these individuals, as well as report NCAA data and data recalculated under the act to prospects' coaches and parents.

Divisions II/III review

In addition, four requirements were identified for review by Divisions II and III institutions. The requirements include those pertaining to "Nonbaccalaureate Degree-Seeking Students" and "Distribution Responsibilities" (see explanations for Division I institutions).

Also identified for Divisions II and III institutions:

■ Returning Students. The NCAA considers only those students who return full-time in calculating persistence rates. The proposed regulations include all students who return, without regard to enrollment status.

■ Preparation for Higher Course of Study. The act permits an institution to count a student as having persisted within the defined period if the student either (a) persists or (b) enrolls in a program for which the prior program provides substantial preparation. NCAA standards require that the student persist in a full-time course of study within the required period.
