Financial committee passes final report on to Commission

Copies of the report of the NCAA Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Intercollegiate Athletics will be mailed to members of the NCAA Presidents Commission next week.

The committee completed its final review of the report in a conference call June 10. The Presidents Commission will meet June 29-30 in Kansas City, Missouri.

The report, which is the culmination of nearly nine months of work by the special committee, will be made available to the membership and will appear in The NCAA News.

Much of the report is based on legislative concepts that might be considered at the 1994 Convention and those that might be considered by the Convention in the two years thereafter-including several possible models for need-based financial aid. The report also contains suggestions to be considered for implementation by conferences and member institutions rather than through national legislation.

In addition to seeking input from the membership, the committee invited representatives of the men's and women's basketball coaches association, and other administrative associations to offer their views.

Although the report will include several specific recommendations for cost savings, many of the committee's philosophical conclusions are included in a portion of the report titled "Observations on the Financial Conditions in Intercollegiate Athletics."

In that section, the committee noted that it is reiterating a fundamental notion repeated at various times throughout deliberations, "that NCAA institutions should

Committee develops procedures

The search committee appointed to recommend a successor to NCAA Executive Director Richard D. Schultz developed a set of procedures for the search and selection process at its first meeting, which was conducted June 9 in San Diego.

The procedures pertain to matters such as timing and which entities to involve in the process and are subject to approval by the NCAA Executive Committee.

"I thought our first meeting was productive, and I was very impressed with every member's commitment to a thorough search," said NCAA President Joseph N. Crowley, who chairs the search committee.

Schultz announced his resignation May 11 but will remain active as executive director until a replacement is found.

The committee will begin consideration of candidates by July 15.

Advertisements for the position have appeared in the Atlanta Journal, Chicago Tribune, Dallas Morning News, Los Angeles Times, New York Times and Washington Post, as well as The NCAA News.

Deadline for legislative proposals July 1

Member institutions and conferences have until July 1 to submit legislative proposals for the Association's 1994 Convention.

Again this year, a minimum of eight active member institutions are required to sponsor an amendment not sponsored by the NCAA Presidents Commission, Council or a division steering committee.

A proposal must be signed by the chief executive officer of a sponsoring institution or by the CEO's designee. CEOs must notify the Association's national office in writing of individuals designated to sign a proposal.

Proposals from voting member conferences must be signed by the members who wish to sponsor the proposal. The proposal also must be signed by the chair of the conference's official presidential administrative group or by at least two CEOs of the league's member institutions if it has no such group.

Other procedures for submitting proposals for the 1994 Convention in San Antonio were detailed in a May 3 memorandum to chief executive officers of NCAA institutions. The memo was accompanied by a copy of the official amendmentsubmission form.

Among the procedures:

■ The submission should include a clear and concise statement of intent. It should state what the used to argue the proposal's merits.

For amendments to federated bylaws, the eight or more sponsoring members must be members of the division or subdivision in which the amendment is to be offered. In such cases, the proposal should indicate the division or subdivision to which the amendment is applicable.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a statement of rationale not to exceed 200 words, and the name of the sponsors' primary contact person-who does not have to be from among the proposal's sponsors - must be included.

Proposals must be received at may be submitted by facsimile machine and should be submitted to the national office's legislative services staff (fax number 913/ 339-0032).

As a result of legislation adopted at the 1993 Convention, all legislative proposals will be evaluated by an appropriate NCAA committee designated by the Administrative Committee before they are included on the agenda for the 1994 Convention. The designated committee is obligated to review proposals and report the result of that review to sponsors by October 8. An effort will be made by commitin time for sponsors to make any

Ex-'Trotter sets example

Mannie Jackson, who once was a basketball standout at the University of Illinois, Champaign, played 2½ years with the famed Harlem Globetrotters. Now, he owns them.

His purchase of the team will be the centerpiece of what Jackson hopes will become an entertainment empire. But the Honeywell senior vice-president also hopes to become a role model-one noted more for his keen business skills than the fact that he used to help the famous 'Trotters repeatedly whip the Washington Cenerals.

"I don't know what it will take to get through to kids today," he told Chicago Sun-Times columnist Taylor Bell. "But it is a catastrophic mistake if they assume, for a moment, that life after 26 will be fulfilled on the basketball court.

"But I believe an increasing number of enlightened kids are listening. They are seeing role models in the business world, relatives who are graduating from college, athletes who talk. People like me can lead by example."

No hard sell

Tickets for the Division I Men's Soccer Championship are hot.

Tickets for this year's event, set for December 3 and 5 at Davidson College, went on sale June 1. Within three days, 70 percent were sold. Last year's championship sold out by September.

Even with 2,000 seats added for the championship (raising capacity to 10,442), ticket applications continue to pour into Davidson's ticket office. It took personnel nearly three days to open and process the first day's mail orders.

Any tickets that remained after June 14 were available by telephone. The Davidson ticket office can be contacted by calling 704/892-2375 or (toll-free) 800/768-CATS.

The University of Houston football team recently planted 53 12-foot oak trees adjacent to Robertson Stadium on the Houston campus.

The project was the culmination of a sixmonth project in which the football players solicited donations throughout the Houston area. A donation of at least $150 earned the donor a tree in his or her name, along with an engraved plate on benches that will be

"The office purchase is a further demonstration of the commitment to the growth of the conference," Commissioner Richard J. Ensor said. ### Jackson speaks

The Rev. Jesse Jackson told delegates attending last month's annual convention of the Black Coaches Association in Atlanta that they must start making the rules if they wish to master the game of sports.

"You're not just coaches of a few ballplayof the movement for racial justice. You are not athletes. You are not entertainers. You are emancipators."

Jackson said that the coaches must work together to secure more positions in sports for Blacks, both on and off the field.

Proportionately, there are fewer black coaches in college sports than there are black players, and fewer still in top management and other influential positions, The Associated Press reported.

Boston College has introduced plans for a 12,000-seat addition to its football facility, Alumni Stadium. The addition would increase seating capacity to 44,500.

The Gladys Valley Gymnastics Center at Oregon State University officially was dedicated in March. Formerly called Mitchell Playhouse, the center became the training venue for the women's gymnastics team as the result of a $700,000 grant from the Wayne and Gladys Valley Foundation.

Sheldon and Renola Ellig of Fargo, North Dakota, received many thanks from track and field and soccer student-athletes at North Dakota State University after announcing a $250,000 gift to the institution for construction of a new track and field/ soccer complex. The $550,000 complex will replace the current track and field facility, which is not being used because of deterioration.

The University of the Pacific (California) women's softball team recently concluded its first season in its new park, Simoni Field. The new stadium, which seats 400 spectators in orange chairback seats, is the softball program's first on-campus home in the nearly 20-year-old program's history. A second phase of construction calls for the completion of a press box and expanded seating, and lights will be installed in the final phase.

Groundbreaking for the Earl E. Wilson Baseball Stadium at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, was held May 27. The stadium was made possible by a $6.5 million gift from the estate of Hazel Mae Wilson on behalf of her husband, the late Las Vegas businessman Earl E. Wilson. The 3,000-seat stadium will be ready for the 1994 season and will feature a press box, restrooms, concession stands and paved parking.

It's time to ditch profane language

By Delano Tucker COPPIN STATE COLLEGE

The prevailing view of many coaches is that whatever profanity is used during an athletics contest is something to be overlooked because it was done in the heat of battle.

That is a copout, and we have to put a stop to it. This world is violent and ugly enough without coaches promoting more of the same through bad language.

Recently, John Wooden, former men's basketball coach at the University of California, Los Angeles, said, "Coaches are in a leadership role, and youth need models more than they need criticism."

Profanity is not good role modeling, and it surely is not related to good coaching technique or constructive criticism.

Many of the athletes who are on the playing fields and courts are African-American. These individuals are coming from a background of excessive exposure to profanity and violence. These student-athletes do not need more of the same when they get into college. They should be walking into an environment that will foster a better understanding of the world through more civilized language and actions.

As a coach, instructor and administrator to many athletes, I see the need for us to address this issue more in athletics programs because our coaches can make a difference.

Coaches need to be more concerned with value and emotional development, as opposed to winning at all costs without any

New format spells doubles trouble

Although I am not a college tennis expert, I believe that the new NCAA dual match format is flawed. The plan, on trial in 1994, will entail using three doubles matches, using eight-game "pro sets," followed by six singles matches.

The three doubles matches are worth just one point to the team winning two (or three) of them, while the six singles matches are worth a point each.

Instead, I propose that five singles matches and two doubles matches be played simultaneously. Every match would be best-two-of-three sets and be worth one point.

Let's establish three essential objectives and compare the two formats:

(1) College tennis must dramatically shorten the length of dual matches. With the traditional structure of six singles followed by three doubles, they often last four or five hours and sometimes even more than six hours. The new NCAA way involves doubles pro sets that will typically last about an hour and sometimes will take one and a half hours or more. Overall, that means that some matches still will last five hours, which is too much. My way would keep matches in the reasonable two- to three-hour range.

(2) A fair and legitimate and meaningful scoring system is an absolute sina qua non in sports competition. Pro sets clearly fail that test because one slightly lengthened set proves little in tennis. To be fair and legitimate and truly indicative of one player's or team's superiority, a match has to be best-two-of-three sets.

(3) Doubles must be treated fairly. The great and time-tested event of doubles is unduly and absurdly devalued when it constitutes less than 15 percent of the importance of team points in dual-match competition and is reduced to bogus pro sets. My format would provide it with twice that point value.

My proposed format has two relatively minor drawbacks. Players cannot play both singles and doubles in a given dual match. On the other hand, they certainly can play both singles and doubles during the course of a season. This format of nine players competing in every dual match may provide slightly more players, on the average, to be involved in each dual match, partly because no doubles matches will be discontinued or skipped when one school clinches a victory. A second disadvantage is that this format would be impossible for schools with only six tennis courts and less desirable for schools that do not have all seven courts at one site.

All things considered, my format, albeit imperfect, is far more practical, fairer and more legitimate than what the NCAA coaches overwhelmingly approved for 1994.

I respectfully ask them to reconsider their decision.

Coach: Trim the fat, not the lean

Kevin DeForrest, assistant swimming coach University of Illinois, Champaign Chicago Tribune

On the elimination of the Illinois swimming program as a costcutting move:

"We think it's kind of funny that a program with a budget of $200,000, one-eightieth of the total department of intercollegiate athletics budget...that's where they cut the fat. We all know that when you cut fat, you don't go after the leanest part of the program. I think the fattest places in our department are in the administration and in the fattest programs....

No team physician will, or should, be placed in the position where a judgment of that nature will be required. What doctor needs that aggravation? Hence forth, you lose consciousness, you're done for the day. No exceptions....

"The affair again raises the propriety of team physicians. The question will never go away. No matter how great the reputation of the individual doctor, no matter how far beyond reproach his personal reputation is, as long as he draws a paycheck from a team, people will always wonder about his primary loyalty.

Updated compliance software available in July

Version 3.00 of the NCAA Compliance Assistant software program will be available to Divisions I and II institutions in July. Version 3.00 will feature many enhancements to the current program that will better assist the rules-compliance efforts of institutional personnel.

National office staff members have been receiving favorable reaction regarding Version 3.00 from those who attended the NCAA Regional Seminars in May and June. Carrie A. Dias, compliance representative, and Kathy L. Day, programmer/analyst, demonstrated at the seminars the portions of Version 3.00 that have been completed.

Version 3.00 will continue to be able to generate the NCAA squad list, track initial- and continuingeligibility information, and monitor recruiting activities if so desired, but it also will have new capabilities, including ad hoc reporting, multiuser access, standalone capability and institutional customization.

Assistance in monitoring satisfactory-progress legislation [the "75/25" and "25/50/75" rules (NCAA Bylaws 14.5.4, 14.5.4.1, 14.5.2 and 14.5.3) also will be available

■ Ad hoc reporting capabilities. Ad hoc reporting will allow users to create a report of any information that has been entered into the database. For example, if a user has entered student-athletes' names, their ethnic background and their sports, the user would be able to generate an ad hoc report of the ethnicity of student-athletes within each sport.

■ Multiuser access. If a compliance coordinator, financial aid administrator, admissions officer and some coaches are all connected to the same local area network, each individual will be able to see immediately the information that other individuals have entered into the program (rather than having to "import" and "export" information by transferring disks).

Stand-alone (module) capability. Although Version 3.00 will continue to provide a comprehensive database of student-athlete information, in cases in which the user wishes to track a lot of studentathlete information in one area, that individual will be able to choose only to work in specific modules of the program (for example, financial aid squad list, recruiting log). For example, if a user wishes to use the program only to generate the squad list (and does not want to track any of the other information available in other modules) the stand-alone function will require the user to enter (on just three screens) only those items of information that are necessary to produce the squad

Institutional customization. In an effort to allow users to customize the program to the needs of an institution, many new options will be available in the program. For instance, if the institution sponsors a non-NCAA sport (such as crew), the user will be able to add that sport to the sports-sponsorship information and produce a squad list. Also, if the institution's conference has established lower headcount or equivalency limits for specific sports, the user can set those limits and properly generate squad lists.

The Compliance Assistant development team is interested in increasing opportunities for current and new users to experience immediate success with Version 3.00

A professionally developed user's guide will be distributed with Version 3.00 and also will be available through "on-line help" within the computer program. Also, conference offices are encouraged to organize workshops in which national office staff members (or current users from a conference institution) can provide demonstrations or hands-on training.

National office staff members will continue to present the software at NCAA regional seminars and professional-development meetings. The staff also will seek other avenues for educating current and potential users of the software.

The development team will convert the current IBM-compatible version to Apple Macintosh when Microsoft Corporation completes a FoxPro version for Macintosh computers. Microsoft has indicated that a FoxPro version may be released at the end of 1993.

Division I individuals who responded to recent surveys or are previous recipients of the software recently have been sent order forms and information regarding Version 3.00. Division II directors of athletics also received this information, and Divisions I and II conference offices were made aware of this mailing.

Those who did not receive this information and would like to order or learn more about the program may wish to contact an individual on campus who may have received the material, or call Dias in compliance services at 913/ 339-1906.

The software continues to be free of charge to NCAA members, unless the ad hoc reporting capability is requested. For users who would like to receive Version 3.00 with ad hoc reporting, a $30 fee for a license will be required. The order form and fact sheet enclosed in the recent mailing provide further details regarding ad hoc reporting.

General information

1993 NCAA Regional Seminars: More than 800 people attended regional rules-compliance seminars conducted by the NCAA membership services group (compliance services, legislative services, enforcement and eligibility appeals staffs) May 5-7 in Minneapolis; May 19-21 in Newport Beach, California; June 2-4 in Boston, and June 16-18 in Orlando, Florida.

All who attended received the 1993-94 NCAA guide to rules compliance. Division I compliance coordinators and Divisions I and II directors of athletics and faculty athletics representatives who were unable to attend soon will be receiving a copy of the guide materials.

A preliminary review of evaluations indicates that those attending were particularly satisfied with the menu format and the resource center. To enhance future seminars, the membership services group requests that those who have not completed the evaluation form do so and return it to the national office as soon as possible.

Staff members also have begun their review of roundtable discussion documents, which included issues concerning amateurism, financial aid, eligibility, recruiting and student-athlete welfare. Once completed, the staff will send a compilation of the information to the various committees.

Resource-file checklist: The compliance services staff has begun its mailing of checklist requests. In April, the staff sent all compliance coordinators of NCAA Division I member institutions and conferences a copy of the 1993-94 NCAA resource-file checklist. Condensed versions of the checklist (developed for use by chief executive officers, faculty athletics representatives, athletics administrators, coaches and personnel in the offices of financial aid, admissions and registration) also are included in the 1993-94 NCAA guide to rules compliance. Those interested in receiving a copy of the checklist may contact institutional compliance coordinators, conference offices or the NCAA compliance services staff.

Athletics certification: The NCAA Committee on Athletics Certification established five subcommittees to handle its workload during the implementation phase of the athletics certification program:

1. A scheduling subcommittee to determine the timing of campus self-studies and peer-review visits over a five-year period

2. A self-study instrument subcommittee to complete the selfstudy document in time for participating institutions to begin self-studies in September 1993.

3. A peer-reviewer selection subcommittee to identify in six to nine months a pool of 300-plus qualified individuals to serve as candidates for peer-review teams.

4. A handbook subcommittee to write the primary reference source for use by participating institutions and peerreview teams.

5. A peer-development subcommittee charged with preparing the review teams for campus visits.

The scheduling subcommittee contacted all Division I conferences to determine whether they intend to suggest certification schedules for their members. Only one conference chose not to suggest certification schedules. The scheduling subcommittee now is in the process of making tentative assignments for all Division Linstitutions.

The committee intends to distribute the five-year schedule, self-study instrument and certification handbook by September 1993, Although selection of the pool of peer reviewers will not be complete until March 1994, the peerreviewer selection subcommittee hopes to establish a preliminary pool by this fall.

For this reason, all nomination forms (mailed in May to Division I conferences, member institutions and affiliated organizations) should be returned to the national office by August 15. Interested individuals may obtain copies of the nominating form from the appropriate Division I institution or conference or by contacting John H. Leavens, NCAA assistant executive director for compliance services.

Coaches certification: In accordance with the provisions of NCAA Bylaw 11.5 (certification to recruit off campus), as of August 1, 1993, only those Divisions I and II coaches who have been certified may contact or evaluate any prospective student-athlete off-campus.

To evaluate this year's certification program, the compliance services staff is interested in receiving comments concerning various aspects of the program (for example, specific test-administration problems, recommended procedural changes, recommended changes to the examinations). Those interested in providing comments may write or call Garnett H. Purnell at the national office.

This material was provided by the NCAA compliance services staff as an aid to member institutions and conference offices. Institutions or conference offices with questions or issues concerning the content addressed in this column may contact John H. Leavens, assistant executive director for compliance services, at the NCAA national office.

NACDA convention focuses on gender equity

Gender equity in intercollegiate athletics was the principal topic discussed on the final day of the convention of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

The NACDA convention was June 7-9 in San Diego.

Phyllis L. Howlett, assistant commissioner of the Big Ten Conference and cochair of the NCAA Gender-Equity Task Force, emphasized that the task force had not made any recommendations that would reduce football.

'We did not address how men's sports and their opportunities would be affected," Howlett said. "Our assignment was not to deal with men's sports. It was not part

Washington State University athletics director Jim Livengood, a consultant to the task force, agreed that increasing opportunities for women doesn't mean a decrease in football. "But if we don't decrease football, we need to add on to the other side," he said. "Every student should have equal opportunities, and gender should not be a factor in that."

Chris Voelz, women's athletics director at the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities, and a task force member, said, "Increasing opportunities for women doesn't mean we need to drop nonrevenue sports for men." She also said, "There is a belief that if you generate revenue, there is a different set of rules. This is erroneous. It doesn't matter where you get the funding, everyone must have equal opportunities."

Other topics

Arizona State University athletics director Charles S. Harris made a presentation on behalf of the NCAA Special Committee on Financial Conditions in Intercollegiate Athletics, and R. Elaine Dreidame, senior associate athletics director at the University of Dayton and NCAA Division I vicepresident, spoke for the NCAA Committee to Study Rules Federation by Sport.

More than 1,000 administrators attended the 28th annual NACDA convention.

At NACDA's awards luncheon June 7, outgoing NCAA Executive Director Richard D. Schultz received special recognition for "33 years of continuous and meritorious service to intercollegiate athletics."

In accepting the award, Schultz identified the difficult task facing athletics directors today. "My job pales in comparison to the challenges faced by athletics administrators," he said. "You have the toughest job in college today."

Louisiana State's Adrian Antonini beat the throw to Wichita State catcher Adam McCollough, and the Tigers beat Wichita State, 8-0, to win their second College World Series title. Antonini was selected to the all-tournament team.

Louisiana State freshman lifts Tigers in title game of College World Series

Freshman Brett Laxton pitched a three-hit shutout and struck out 16 as Louisiana State defeated Wichita State, 8-0, to win its second Division I Baseball Championship June 12 at Rosenblatt Stadium in Omaha, Nebraska.

The Tigers also defeated Wichita State, 6-3, in the 1991 championship contest.

"We are all excited to win the championship," said Louisiana State coach Skip Bertman, who joined six other college coaches who have won at least two titles. "Laxton didn't surprise me with his composure or fastball, but he did surprise me with a great slider and that he kept his pitch count down.

The Tigers, seeded fifth among the eight teams at the College World Series, needed only one swing of the bat in the first inning to win their second title in three years. With two outs, shortstop Russ Johnson walked and second baseman Todd Walker pounded a two-run home run to right field.

Walker, who hit .350 (7-for-20) for the series with three home runs and 12 runs batted in, was named the tournament's most outstanding player. He said the Tigers did not let the previous day's ninthinning, come-from-behind victory over Long Beach State in the bracket final drain them emotion ally. "Actually, that helped us. The emotion carried us into today," he said

"The players believe in this team. Everybody believes in everybody else, whether it's the No. 1 hitter or the No. 9 hitter."

II women's basketball revamps bracket format

Bracket expansion stemming from the NCAA Executive Committee's revamping of the championships program will require an entirely new format for the Division II Women's Basketball Championship. Those changes were the main items of discussion at the Division II Women's Basketball Committee's June 7-10 meeting in Coronado, California.

each region. The top two seeds receive a first-round bye. The first round will consist of 16 games (No. 3 vs. No. 6 and No. 4 vs. No. 5 in each region) at on-campus sites. Winners will advance to the regionals to meet the top two seeds (No. 1 vs. No. 4 or No. 5 and No. 2 vs. No. 3 or No. 6). The eight regional winners advance to the finals site.

Other highlights

In other action at its June 7-10 meeting in Coronado, California, the Division II Women's Basketball Committee:

Voted to recommend to the Executive Committee that the Division II national poll be released 10 times. Last year, the committee issued eight weekly polls, beginning in the second week January and running through the first of March. The committee would like to add a poll in mid-December and one in the first week of January. The polls would be released on Tuesdays from the NCAA national office and would include results from games played on Monday. Voted to recommend the following realignments: Davis and Elkins College, Shepherd College, University of District of Columbia, West Liberty State College and Wheeling Jesuit College from the South Atlantic to the East region; Carson-Newman College from the South to the South Atlantic region; all members of the Peach Belt Athletic Conference to the South Atlantic region, and all members of the Gulf South Conference to the South region. The changes were necessary because of the increased bracket size and the new status of automatic qualifiers. The committee recognized that alignments will change several times in the next few years due to the influx of > new conferences and schools into Division II. Acknowledged the possibility that new conferences will form and seek automatic qualification into the tournament due to the increased bracket size. For this reason, the committee discussed the need to closely evaluate new conferences in order to assure that conferences sponsor a wide variety of women's championships. Conferences should be willing to submit statistical data during the two-year waiver period to be eligible for consideration as an automatic qualifict.

As a result of the Executive Committee's action in May, the Division II women's bracket will expand from 32 to 48 teams.

The committee's new format, which must be approved by the Executive Committee, will begin with the 1994 championship. The 48-team field will include firstround competition, followed by regionals that feed into an eightteam final.

Six teams will be selected from each of eight regions. The teams will be seeded one through six in

In 1994, first-round games will be played March 11 or 12. Regional competition will take place March 18-19. The finals will be March 23 (quarterfinals), 24 (semifinals) and 26 (third-place and final games). March 25 will be a day of rest between the semifinals and final.

In other action, the committee voted to recommend to the Executive Committee that 20 conferences be granted automatic qualification into the 48-team field.

Those conferences are the California Collegiate Athletic, Central

■ Discussed the possibility of researching potential hosts for the eight-team final. Currently, championship finals are held on the campus of one of the competing institutions.

Baseball Freshman pitcher leads Louisiana State to College World Series championship

"We did two things to lose this game," said Wichita State coach Genc Stephenson of his No. 7seeded team. "One was we let the pitching get out of hand, and the other was that we did nothing offensively today. It just wasn't our day. I guess that's baseball.

"I'm so proud to be associated with these guys. They've worked so hard to get here, and they almost became the Cinderella team."

Wichita State advanced to the title game unbeaten from a bracket that also included Arizona State, Texas and Oklahoma State. Louisiana State lost once in its bracket, which included Kansas, Texas A&M and Long Beach State.

Several championship-game records were set, including most strikeouts (16, by Laxton), sacrifice flies (two, by Rios), fewest hits allowed in a complete game (three, tied by Laxton) and most strikeouts by both teams in a nine-inning game (22)

Joining Walker on the all-tournament team from Louisiana State were catcher Adrian Antonini, outfielders Jim Greely and Rios, and pitchers Laxton and Mike Sirotka.

Other members of the team included Oklahoma State first baseman Hunter Triplett and outfielder Jason Heath; third baseman Casey Blake and shortstop Jason Adams from Wichita State, and Long Beach State designated hitter Jeff Liefer.

A crowd of 20,286 set a College World Series record for the championship game. Overall, the series drew a record 173,296 fans. The 1993 session average of 17,330 also broke the 1992 record session average of 15,422.

Prime TV to show highlights

Prime Network plans to air three NCAA championships—including a Division II event-at various times in late June and early July.

The cable network will broadcast the championship game of the Division II Women's Softball Championship between June 23 and July 4. Florida Southern College won the event in Shawnee, Kansas Prime also will broadcast highlights of the National Collegiate Women's Golf Championships at the University of Georgia between June 26 and July 13 and highlights of the Division I Men's Golf Championships in Lexington, Kentucky, between July 5 and July 24.

Viewers can learn the championships' air times by checking television listings for local Prime affiliates.

TEAM event is scheduled

Texas ..... Wichita St.

A facility alcohol management instructor development workshop, sponsored by Techniques for Effective Alcohol Management (TEAM), will be conducted at the Delta Center in Salt Lake City August 9-11.

TEAM's facility alcohol management program encourages facility owners and managers to assess their management policies regarding alcohol sales and consumption. It also helps train facility employees to implement those policies

Those desiring more information may call Harold Thompson of the National Safety Council at 708/775-2383.

Victory bound

Arif Husain (second from right) of Gettysburg College made up ground on the curve and won the 200-meter dash at the NCAA Division III Men's Outdoor Track and Field Championships May 26-29. Husain won in 21.09 seconds.

Minnesota girls basketball camp gains certification

The Minnesota Elite Girls Basketball Camp has been certified in accordance with legislation regulating Division I men's and women's basketball coaches' attendance at camps.

In accordance with new NCAA Bylaws 13.13.5 and 30.15, basketball coaches at Division I institutions may attend only institutional summer basketball camps and noninstitutional camps that are certified by the NCAA.

The restriction is for events that occur during the Division I summer evaluation period (July 5-31 for men and July 8-31 for women).

The Minnesota Elite Girls Basketball Camp will be July 25-28 at a camp previously certified by the Bethel College in St. Paul, Minnesota. The camp's owners are Pat-Bowling, 962 West Mark Street Winona, Minnesota 55987 (telephone 507/453-0809), and Jaime Sherwood, 1296 Hartford Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota 55116 (telephone 612/458-4232).

In a related matter, the name of

NCAA has changed. The Great Midwest Recruiting Revue (see May 5 issue of The NCAA News) now is known as the Great Mid-States Recruiting Revue.

Certified camps have been listed in the April 21; May 5, 12, 19 and 26, and June 2 issues of the News.

Syracuse University's Matt Riter (left) provided some defensive pressure on the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, at the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship, but it was his offensive skill that helped Syracuse most. Riter scored with eight seconds remaining, giving the Orangemen a 13-12 victory in the championship final.

Minority Opportunities in Intercollegiate Athletics, is designed to create better opportunities for ethnic minorities in coaching, athletics administration and officiating.

This year's 10 postgraduate scholarships are being awarded to ethnic-minority applicants who have completed an undergraduate degree and have been accepted into an institution's sports administration program or a related program that will assist the applicants in obtaining a career in athletics.

Recipients must express an interest in preparing for a professional career in athletics administration. The scholarships are for one year and are valued at $6,000.

She also has been a research fellow to professors in advertising and athletics. She plans to begin her postgraduate work in sports administration this summer.

In January 1991, the Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee assumed the responsibilities of the special subcommittee. In addition to selecting this year's scholarship recipients, the committee also named three alternates: Aaron T. Travis of the University of Illinois, Champaign; Jacquese Gilbert of the University of Illinois, Chicago, and Antoinette R. Wilson of Michigan State University.

Following are biographical sketches of recipients of the 1993 scholarships (including the institution awarding the undergraduate degree and, if different, the institution where the postgraduate scholarship likely will be used).

during her career and was a threetime Middle Atlantic Conference allstar in softball, as well as a GTE academic all-American and a member of the dean's list. She also was captain of the softball team for two seasons. She plans to obtain a master's degree in education with emphasis in sports management.

Tracy A. Loo (University of Hawaii) Loo recently graduated with a degree in food science and human nutrition. She was a standout in softball, gaining all-Big West Conference and all-West region honors in 1991 and 1992. Loo also was a Big West scholar-athlete and a member of Hawaii's honor roll and dean's list. She was a member of the Phi Upsilon Omicron and Gamma Sigma Delta honor societies and a volunteer for the Easter Seals and Jerry Lewis telethons. Loo hopes to pursue a degree in secondary education with emphasis on nutrition.

Amin K. Kamadoli (University of

Southern California; University of Massachusetts, Amherst)—A member of the dean's list and Omicron Delta Epsilon, Kamadoli received his degree in economics in May 1992. He is a United Way volunteer and is active in several youth-education programs. Kamadoli participated in the 1993 Los Angeles Marathon and also has performed public relations duties for Sponschannel Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Clippers professional basketball team as an intern. Kamadoli hopes to enroll in the sports management program at Massachusetts.

Interpretations Committee minutes

Conference No. 7 May 4, 1993

Acting for the NCAA Council, the Interpretations Committee issued the following interpretations:

Outside financial aid

1. U.S. Olympic Committee (USOC) tuition-assistance program. Per NCAA Bylaw 15.2.5.4, the USOC may provide educational assistance to attend an NCAA institution (as part of an established, continuing program for the recognition of outstanding high-school graduates) to an individual who is a member of a national or Olympic team, or involved in national or Olympic developmental programs. [References: NCAA Bylaws 12.1.2-(k) (forms of pay), 15.2.5.4-(h) (athletics participation as a major criterion)]

Athletically related activities/ out-of-season practice

2. Involvement of water polo coach in voluntary individual workouts-safety exception. An institution's water polo coach may not referee activities during voluntary individual water polo workouts conducted per 17.02.1.2.1 without such activities being considered athletically related activities. [Reference: 17.02.1.2.1-(g) (Divisions I and II safety exception --- water polo)]

Expenses—competition 3. Expenses during vacation period special event. The provisions of 16.8.1.4.1 may not be used to provide travel expenses to a student-athlete in conjunction with regular-season contests (as opposed to special events). The provisions of 16.8.1.4.1 are applicable only if a student-athlete returns home during the vacation period when participating in an NCAA championship or special event (e.g., postseason bowl games, holiday tournaments, invitational events). The committee recommended that the Council sponsor legislation to limit the application of 16.8.1.4.1 to travel in conjunction with an NCAA championship or postseason bowl game. [References: 16.8.1.4.1 (travel to NCAA championships and special events during vacation period—general rule); Ad-Comm 8/14/85, Item No. 4-(a), and IC 11/

19/92, Item No. 3] Practice

4. Certification requirements for male student-athletes practicing with an institution's women's team. The committee reviewed two previously approved Council interpretations and expressed concern that institutions may be organizing groups of male students to practice with their women's teams on a regular basis. The committee determined the following

a. Male students who practice with the institution's women's teams on an occa sional basis must be verified as eligible for practice in accordance with 14.1.5.1 and have eligibility remaining under the fiveyear/10-semester rule.

b. If male students practice on a regular basis with the institution's women's teams, those male students must be certified in accordance with all applicable NCAA eligibility regulations (e.g., the individual must be enrolled in a minimum full-time program of studies, the individual must sign a drugtesting consent form and must be included on the institution's squad list).

c. The committee recommended that the Council sponsor legislation to amend the provisions of 18.02.2 to define a mixed team as one on which at least one individual of each sex competes, as opposed to being eligible to compete

[References: 14.1.6.1 (requirement for practice); IC 12/5/91, Item No. 3, and 10/

22/92, Item No. 2]

Coach—graduate assistant 5. Report of athletically related income—graduate assistant coach (Division I). The committee reviewed a previous Council-approved interpretation, which indicates that the provisions of 11.2.2 (requiring prior written approval from the chief executive officer for all athletically related income and benefits from sources outside the institution) apply only to full-time coaches (head or assistant) and restrictedearnings coaches, but are not applicable to other coaching staff members (e.g., volunteer coaches). The committee recommended that the Council extend this interpretation to require graduate assistant coaches (currently only in existence in Division I-A football) to obtain the necessary prior written approval. [References: 11.2.2 (athletically related income); 11.3.2.1 (bona fide outside employment); Council 1/6/92, Item No. 5, and IC 12/19/91, Item No. 6]

Basketball/contest limitations

6. Women's Basketball Hall of Fame contest (Division I). An institution's women's basketball team may participate in the Hall of Fame Tip-Off Classic sponsored annually by the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame after November 15 and exempt such a contest from the institution's basketball contest limitations. [References: 17.3.5.2-(f) (annual exemptions-Tip-Off Classic) and IC 2/4/88, Item No. 4)]

Membership/sports sponsorship

7. Use of exempted contests in meeting basketball scheduling requirement (Division I). An institution is not permitted to use exempted contests (e.g., foreign team in the United States, USA Basketball club team, Preseason NIT) in meeting the Division I men's basketball scheduling requirement that at least one third of an institution's regular-season contests must be played in the arena regularly used for the institution's home games. [Reference: 20.9.5.2 (one third of men's contests in home arena)] Official visits/nonqualifier/

partial qualifier

8. Nonqualifier or partial qualifier who withdraws from two-year college during first year (Division I). A nonqualifier or a partial qualifier who enrolls in a two-year college, but withdraws before completing an academic year, may not be provided an expense-paid visit to a Division I institution until such time as he or she has completed an academic year at a two-year college. [Reference: 13.7.1.3.1 (nonqualifier in first year)]

Notables

The Intercollegiate Golf/Tennis Awards recently were announced. Winners and runners-up for the awards are David Duval of Georgia Tech and Kelly Mitchum of North Carolina State, respectively, the Dave Williams Award for men's collegiate golf; Tracy Hanson of San Jose State and Kim Cayce of Duke, the Marilynn Smith Award for women's collegiate golf; Daniel Courcol of Mississippi State and Chet Crile of Washington, the Dan Magill Award for men's collegiate tennis, and Susan Gilchrist of Texas and Julie Exum of Duke, the Gladys Heldman Award for women's collegiate tennis.

Deaths

Joe Fortenberry, whose eight points led all scorers when the United States won the first Olympic basketball championship in 1936, died June 3 of cancer in Amarillo, Texas. He was 82. Forten berry, a 6-foot-7 center, led what is now known as West Texas A&M and previously West Texas State to consecutive 20-victory seasons in 1932 and 1933. Fortenberry also played football and was a college heavyweight boxing champion.

Bobby Hunt, longtime Central Oklahoma baseball coach, died April 5 at his home in Oklahoma City. He was 60. Hunt, who coached the Bronchos for 29 seasons before retiring in 1991, amassed a 517-521 record. A four-year starter at guard and linebacker for the football team at Texas Tech, Hunt helped lead the Red Raiders to three consecutive bowl appearances. He began his coaching career at Adams State as a defensive line football coach in 1958.

Eleanor Frost Snell, who spent most of her 40-year coaching career at Ursinus, died June 3 at her home in Kimberton, Pennsylvania. She was 92. Regarded as a pioncer in women's athletics, Snell never had a losing season in 38 years as field hockey coach at Ursinus. She compiled an overall mark of 198-61-29. She also served 27 years as the school's women's softball coach, recording a 125-20 mark.

1993 Column No. 24

NCAA Bylaw 15.3.5 Renewal of financial aid

Member institutions should note that in accordance with Bylaw 15.3.5.1, the renewal of institutional financial aid must be made on or before July 1, before the academic year in which it is to be effective. Institutions shall notify promptly in writing each student-athlete who has received an award the previous academic year and who has eligibility remaining for the ensuing academic year, whether the grant has been renewed or not renewed. Notification of financial aid renewals and nonrenewals must come from the institution's regular financial aid authority and not from the institution's athletics department.

In accordance with Bylaw 15.3.5.1.1, if the institution decides not to renew or decides to reduce financial aid for the ensuing academic year, the institution must inform the student-athlete that he or she, upon request, will be provided a hearing before the institutional agency making the award. The institution must have established reasonable procedures for promptly hearing such a request, and may not delegate the responsibility for conducting a nonrenewal hearing to the institution's athletics department or its faculty athletics committee. The decision to renew or not to renew the financial aid is left to the discretion of the institution to be determined in accordance with its normal practice for students generally.

During its November 19, 1992, telephone conference, the NCAA Interpretations Committee determined that the reference to "institutional financial aid" set forth in Bylaw 15.3.5.1 refers only to institutional aid that is based in any degree on athletics ability. Thus, if a student-athlete is receiving institutional aid unrelated to athletics ability, and such aid is reduced or not renewed for the ensuing academic year, the institution is not obligated to provide an opportunity for a hearing before the institutional agency making the award, except as provided under institutional policy applicable to all students.

Finally, per Bylaw 15.5.1.5, if the institution does not renew financial aid for a counter in the subsequent year and a hearing before the institution's regular financial aid authority results in a successful appeal for restoration of aid, the student-athlete must continue to be a counter if the individual continues to receive athletically related aid However, the student-athlete would not be a counter if he or she receives institutionally arranged or awarded nonathletically related financial aid available to all students, provided such financial aid was granted or arranged without regard in any degree to athletics ability. If the student-athlete ever participates again in intercollegiate athletics at the institution, he or she would be considered to have been a counter during each year financial aid was received.

Bylaws 15.2.5.3 and 15.2.5.4 Financial aid from outside sources

Member institutions should note that in accordance with Bylaw 15.2.5.3 (athletics participation not major criterion), a student-athlete may receive financial aid through an established and continuing program to aid students, provided the following conditions are met:

1. The award shall be made on the basis of the recipient's past performance and overall record, as measured by established criteria of which athletics participation is not the major criterion;

2. Disbursement of the aid shall be through the member institution for the recipient's educational expenses while attending that institution, and

3. The recipient's choice of institutions shall not be restricted by the donor of the aid.

In addition, pursuant to Bylaw 15.2.5.4 (athletics participation as a major criterion), a student-athlete may receive financial aid through an established and continuing program for the recognition of outstanding high-school graduates, provided the following conditions are met:

1. The award shall be made on the basis of the recipient's past performance and overall record, as measured by established criteria of which athletics participation may be a major criterion;

2. Disbursement of the aid shall be through the member institution for the recipient's educational expenses while attending that institution;

3. The recipient's choice of institutions shall not be restricted by the donor of the aid;

4. The awarding individual or organization and the donor of the aid shall not be a representative of the athletics interests or an athletics booster group of a member institution;

5. The value of the award alone or in combination with other aid per Bylaw 15.1.1 shall not exceed the value of a full grant-in-aid;

6. The award may be provided to the recipient on only one occasion;

7. If the recipient is recruited, the recipient is considered a counter per Bylaw 15.5.1 and the amount is applied to the maximum awards limitations of Bylaw 15.5 for the sport in question, and

8. The award is not received from an outside sports team or organization that conducts a competitive sports program by a member of that team.

Please note that during its August 22, 1990, telephone conference, the Interpretations Committee determined that athletics ability would be considered a major criterion of an award if it is determined that the individual would be considered for such an award only if the individual is a participant in athletics. Accordingly, if an individual would not be considered for an outside scholarship award "but for" the fact that the individual is an athletics participant, the award must be administered in accordance with Bylaw 15.2.5.4 in order to be considered proper aid from an outside source.

In addition, during its March 25, 1992, telephone conference, the Interpretations Committee determined that it is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive financial aid through an established and continuing program administered in accordance with Bylaw 15.2.5.3 or 15.2.5.4 if the recipient's choice of institutions is restricted in any manner (e.g., recipient is restricted to attending a college or university in a specific state).

Finally, during its February 11, 1993, telephone conference, the Interpretations Committee determined that a scholarship award administered outside the institution that permits an applicant to include athletics participation or achievements on the application form as part of his or her extracurricular activities must be administered in accordance with the provisions of Bylaw 15.2.5.3 or 15.2.5.4 (e.g., a scholarship may not restrict the recipient's choice of institutions)

Gator Bowl to receive $49 million upgrade

The Jacksonville, Florida, city council has approved a $49 million facelift for the Gator Bowl as part of a $219.5 million bond issue for citywide renovations

During a May meeting, the council passed the plan by a 13-6 vote keeping the historic University of Georgia vs. University of Florida college football rivalry in Jacksonville as well as keeping alive the city's repeated hopes for an NFL franchise some day. The universities had agreed to keep their annual game at the Gator Bowl only if the city makes substantial upgrades to the stadium on which construction was begun in 1925.

> The other big game played at the stadium every year is the Gator Bowl itself. The game has been played every year since 1946. Vincent J. Dooley, Georgia athletics director, told The Associated Press he was pleased with the council's decision to approve the project.

alterations to proposals before the September 1 deadline for modifications by sponsors.

A committee may indicate support for or opposition to a proposal or suggest an alternative proposal as a result of its review.

Properly submitted proposals, after appropriate editing by the NCAA Legislative Review Committee and the national office staff, will appear in the Initial Publication of Proposed Legislation, which will be mailed August 1.

Future deadlines for preparation of legislation for the 1994 Convention are reported at the bottom of page 2 of this issue of The NCAA News.

Questions regarding any aspect of legislative procedures should be directed to Nancy L. Mitchell, NCAA assistant executive director for legislative services, or Daniel T. Dutcher, director of legislative services, at the national office.
